PRESEASON NOTEBOOK

LADY VOLS RANKED IN PRESEASON TOP 10

- Tennessee enters the 2025-26 campaign ranked No. 8 in the Associated Press Preseason Poll and is No. 7 in the ESPN Preseason Poll.
- UT's AP rank is its best since a debut at No. 5 in 2022-23.
- The Big Orange wrapped up the 2024-25 campaign at No. 15 in the AP Poll and No. 16 in the USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Poll.

LET'S JUST PLAY THE WHOLE TOP 10

- Tennessee's schedule may just be the most difficult in the nation in 2025-26, as Head Coach Kim Caldwell has her No. 7 team ticketed to play seven of the nation's other nine top-10 teams in ESPN's Preseason Poll.
- The Lady Vols are slated to play at No. 1 UConn, at No. 2 South Carolina, at No. 3 UCLA, vs. No. 4 Texas in Knoxville, at No. 5 LSU, at No. 6 Oklahoma and vs. No. 8 NC State in Greensboro in the season opener.
- To make it an even 10 ranked teams on the itinerary, UT plays at No. 12 Ole Miss, vs. No. 16 Louisville in Brooklyn, N.Y., and vs. No. 24 Vanderbilt in Knoxville.

THE AP POLL LOOKS AT 50

- The Associated Press women's basketball poll, founded by Philadelphia Inquirer sportswriter Mel Greenberg in 1976, turns 50 this season.
- Per Greenberg and AP national writer Doug Feinberg, no team has been ranked more in the poll than Tennessee, which has appeared in 795 of the 886 polls through the 2025-26 preseason edition.
- Stanford (646), Texas (643) and UConn (640) rank behind the Lady Vols.
- UT ranks second for the most No. 1 rankings in the poll's history (110), with UConn on top with 252 through the 2025-26 preseason poll and South Carolina third at 86.

UT FOURTH IN SEC MEDIA POLL, COOP ALL-SEC

- UT opens the year fourth in the SEC preseason media poll and fifth in the coaches poll.
- Redshirt junior Talaysia Cooper, who earned All-SEC Second Team and SEC All-Defensive Team accloades last year, was named 2025-26 preseason All-SEC First Team by the coaches and All-SEC Second Team by the media.

Talaysia Cooper averaged 16.6 ppg., 5.6 rpg., 3.2 apg. and 3.1 spg. en route to 2025 All-SEC Second Team and All-Defensive Team honors.

EYEING MORE THAN THE STREAK

- Tennessee seeks to keep its streak of NCAA Tournament appearances perfect.
- The Lady Vols are the only program to make every NCAA Tourney and will take aim at their 44th straight berth.
- UT made the Sweet 16 in Kim Caldwell's first season at the Power 4 level.
- The program's goals are to advance past that round and put itself in position to make an Elite 8 and Final Four and compete for the Big Orange's ninth NCAA title.

CALDWELL HEADS INTO YEAR TWO

- Facing the 2024-25 campaign with an unranked squad and a dash of skepticism from media members, Kim Caldwell guided the Lady Vols to a 24-10 record, NCAA Sweet 16 finish and final AP and Coaches Poll rankings of 15th and 16th, respectively, in her first season at the Power 4 level and did so while expecting her first child. Among the team's triumphs, victories over eventual NCAA champ UConn as well as Ohio State, Iowa and Florida State.
- Her first Lady Vol unit set various NCAA, SEC and UT records for three-pointers made and attempted, and it put up 86.6 points per game in the process to post the No. 4 scoring average in program history while attracting 10,647 fans per contest to watch the exciting style of play.
- Caldwell welcomes back three starters and two reserves from a year ago who combine for returning percentages of 71 for steals, 59 for field goals, 58 for blocks, 55 for points, 51 for rebounds, 47 for assists and 29 for threes. Senior Kaiya Wynn also is back after missing last season with an injury.
- Added to that core, the Lady Vol staff signed a consensus top-two high school class and the No. 1-rated transfer class as well.
- As a result, Caldwell's second Tennessee squad is ranked No. 7 by ESPN in its preseason poll. Additionally, ESPN's Charlie Creme has UT slotted as an NCAA No. 2 seed in his preseason Bracketology report.

TALENTED TRIO HEADS STRONG RETURNING CORE

- UT returns three of its top-four scorers and rebounders in redshirt junior Talaysia Cooper and seniors Zee Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn.
- Leading the way is Cooper, a 6-foot All-SEC Second Team and SEC All-Defensive Team guard. Cooper put up 16.6 ppg., 5.6 rpg., 3.2 apg. and 3.1 spg. while hitting 36 three-pointers in her first season at UT after transferring from South Carolina.
- Zee Spearman, a 6-4 forward, returns after producing 11.7 ppg. and 6.0 rpg. while sinking 24 treys in her impressive Lady Vol debut in 2024-25.
- Also back is Ruby Whitehorn, a 6-0 guard who added 11.6 ppg. and 4.0 rpg. along with 25 threes during her impactful first year at Tennessee.

THREE KEY RESERVES ARE BACK, TOO

- Kaniya Boyd, a 5-9 redshirt sophomore (4.0 ppg., 1.3 spg., 1.3 apg.) and 6-2 junior forward Alyssa Latham (3.9 ppg., 3.7 rpg.) are back after playing key roles off the bench last season.
- Boyd saw action in 33 games and started four as a redshirt freshman, while Latham appeared in 34 contests and earned five starts as a sophomore in her first season on Rocky Top.
- Also back is 6-0 redshirt senior guard Kaiya Wynn (4.4

ppg., 2.6 rpg.), who was sidelined in 2024-25 due to an Achilles injury suffered in preseason practice.
- Wynn has played in 94 games as a Lady Vol and has a history as a good defender and ball handler and someone who can get to the rim.

NO. 1 PORTAL CLASS ARRIVES

- Caldwell added three highly-regarded veteran players via the portal, earning the No. 1 spot by ESPN in its 2025 transfer portal rankings.
- Janiah Barker, a 6-4 senior forward and the 2025 Big Ten Sixth Player of the Year, made the move to Knoxville after averaging 7.4 ppg. and 6.0 rpg. last season at UCLA. She is rated No. 8 by ESPN in its 2025 transfer portal rankings.
- Nya Robertson, a 5-7 senior guard, arrived from SMU after landing All-ACC Second Team kudos for an 18.5 ppg. average, 111 free throws and 62 treys.
- Jersey Wolfenbarger, a 6-5 senior forward, carded 4.6 ppg. and 3.4 rpg. while shooting 63 percent from the field last season at LSU.

ELITE ROOKIE CLASS ON DECK

- The Lady Vols welcomed a five-player high school class rated No. 1 by 247Sports and No. 2 by ESPN, including No. 9 Mia Pauldo (5-6 guard), No. 17 Deniya Prawl (6-2 guard), No. 20 Jaida Civil (6-0 guard), No. 45 Lauren Hurst (6-3 guard/forward) and No. 57 Mya Pauldo (5-6 guard).
- The group represents Tennessee's first signing class since 2017 with two or more top-15 prospects and the first with three rated among the top 35 since the Lady Vols inked three top-12 high school standouts en route to the nation's No. 1 overall group in 2017. Additionally, this marks UT's first group with four top-50 rated signees since landing four in 2018.
- Additionally, this is the first time the Lady Vols have been ranked top 10 in recruiting by any organization since 2019 (No. 9/ESPN), in the top five since 2018 (No. 4/ESPN) and in the top two since 2017 (No. 1/ESPN).

KEY LOSSES FROM A YEAR AGO

- UT lost two starters from 2024-25, including 5-10 guard Jewel Spear (12.5 ppg., 77 3FG) and 5-7 guard Samara Spencer (10.6 ppg., 4.6 apg., 66 3FG).
- It also graduated three other veteran contributors in 6-1 guard/forward Tess Darby (6.4 ppg., 58 3FGs), 6-2 forward Sara Puckett (4.6 ppg., 3.1 rpg.) and 6-5 forward Jillian Hollingshead (3.4 ppg., 3.0 rpg.).
- Darby (228) and Spear (146) finished their careers ranked No. 5 and No. 10 for career three-pointers made at UT, while Spear's total in 2024-25 tied for fifth-most in a season by a Lady Vol and Darby ended up 10th.

CALDWELL ELEVATING TALENT LEVEL

- Tennessee will feature seven McDonald's All-Americans on its roster, including three 2025 honorees (Jaida Civil, Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl), three from 2022 (Janiah Barker, Talaysia Cooper, Ruby Whitehorn) and one from 2021 (Jersey Wolfenbarger).
- The seven McDonald's A-As stand as the highest number on a Lady Vol roster since 2015-16.
- Those McDonald's players also were five-star high school recruits, as rated by ESPN during their senior seasons.
- All told, the 2025-26 roster includes 13 top-75 players, with 10 of them in the top 50, nine in the top 40, eight among the top 30, seven among the top 20, four in the top 15 and three within the top 10 in their classes.
- UT's top 75 ESPN players include 2021 (7. Jersey Wolfenbarger), 2022 (3. Janiah Barker, 15. Ruby Whitehorn, 18. Talaysia Cooper, 30. Zee Spearman, 62. Kaiya Wynn), Forward Zee Spearman averaged career highs of 11.7 ppg. and 6.0 rpg. and drained 24 three-pointers in her first season at Tennessee.

2023 (72. Alyssa Latham), 2024 (35. Kaniya Boyd) and 2025 (9. Mia Pauldo, 17. Deniya Prawl, 19. Jaida Civil, 45. Lauren Hurst, 57. Mya Pauldo).

TWO 1K SCORERS, BUT THREE MORE IN RANGE

- Tennessee opens the 2025-26 campaign with two 1,000-point career scorers and three others who need fewer than 370 points to reach the 1K plateau.
- Nya Robertson has scored 1,355 points combined in stints at George Washington and SMU and is 145 shy of 1,500.
- Ruby Whitehorn (1,106) joins Robertson in the 1K club and needs 394 to hit 1,500 in her stops at Clemson and UT.
- Janiah Barker (872) and Zee Spearman (746) stand 128 and 254 from reaching 1,000, respectively.
- All-time, Tennessee has had 50 players score 1,000 points while wearing a Lady Vol uniform, with Rickea Jackson (35th, 1,176) and Tamari Key (48th, 1,040) joining that club in 2023-24.
- Talaysia Cooper enters the year with 632 points and is in line to become the 51st player to surpass 1,000 points while representing the Big Orange.
- Of her 632 total, 563 came last season, leaving her 368 short overall and 437 shy of compiling 1K as a Lady Vol.
- UT has had three or more 1,000-point scorers at season's end on 15 occasions, four or more three times and five on two occasions.
- Jewel Spear (2,217), Samara Spencer (1,730) and Whitehorn (1,106) ended 2024-25 above the 1K mark.

BIG SUMMER FOR ZEE

- Zee Spearman led USA Basketball at the 2025 FIBA U23 3x3 World Cup in Xiong'an, China, in September.
- She finished as the No. 12 overall scorer at the event, leading the USA with 32 total points in five contests.
- She earned that opportunity by competing at the 2025 FIBA 3x3 Nations League Americas Conference July 21-27 in Punta Arenas, Chile, and earlier teamed up with LVFL Cierra Burdick on Team Chaos, capturing the women's title with a 6-0 record at the 2025 USA Basketball 3X Nationals in Mesa, Arizona, in May 2025.

TWIN BACKCOURT

- Tennessee will feature its first-ever set of twins on the women's basketball roster.
- Mia and Mya Pauldo hail from Paterson, N.J., and are known as Twin Back Court.
- The 5-6 dynamos, who never really considered attending different colleges, are playmakers on the court and outgoing personalities away from the game who are always happy to engage with fans.
- Both were active with traditional and social media while in high school and inked their own NIL deal while still playing for Morris Catholic High School.
- Mia was rated the No. 9 prospect in the class of 2025 by ESPN, while Mya came in at No. 57 after fighting through some injuries late in her prep career. They now look to make their mark on Rocky Top.

HOOPING HURSTS NOTCH SIBLING FIRST

- Lady Vol freshman Lauren Hurst, a 6-foot-3 forward, and Vol redshirt senior Grant Hurst, a 6-foot-2 guard, are the first brother-sister hoops duo to play at Tennessee at the same time.
- They also are only the second brother/sister basketball tandem in Tennessee history as a whole, alongside E.J. (2020-21) and Nicky (2004-2008) Anosike.
- While the Anosike siblings both played for UT, they were not on campus at the same time, as 12 years separated their appearances.
- The Hurst siblings hail from Cleveland, Tenn., a little over an hour south of Knoxville on I-75.
- Their parents are Matt and Wendy Hurst, who each played basketball at NCAA Division II Mars Hill College in North Carolina. Wendy played volleyball there as well.
- Lauren Hurst played basketball and volleyball in high school, ranking as the No. 1 player in the state in each.

MIA PAULDO NAMED AN ESPNW IMPACT FRESHMAN

- Freshman guard Mia Pauldo, who was rated as the No. 9 prospect in the 2025 high school signing class by ESPN, has been named an ESPNW Women's College Basketball Top 10 Impact Freshman by ESPN's Shane Laflin.
- Pauldo is ranked No. 4 on that list of college rookies.
- Laflin says, "Pauldo's pace, vision and 3-point shooting have already stood out, giving her a chance to run the offense early. Though undersized, her confidence and relentlessness make her a strong candidate to stabilize the Lady Vols' backcourt coming off a return to the Sweet 16."

FAMILIAR FORMER LEAGUE FOES

- Two players with SEC experience at other schools in the league will make their Tennessee's debuts this season.
- Senior forwards Janiah Barker and Jersey Wolfenbarger have made their way to Rocky Top after stops at two previous schools each.
- Barker was the Big Ten Sixth Player of the Year in 2024-25 at UCLA, helping the Bruins to the NCAA Final Four.
- Prior to heading west, the 6-foot-4 product of Marietta, Ga., was a standout for two seasons at SEC foe Texas A&M, earning SEC All-Freshman status in 2022-23.
- Wolfenbarger, meanwhile, has made two league stops, playing at LSU last season after spending her first two collegiate seasons at Arkansas.
- The native of Fort Smith, Arkansas, Wolfenbarger was a member of the SEC All-Freshman Team in 2021-22.

RECRUITED TWICE BY THE SAME COACH

- Nya Robertson joined the Lady Vols as a transfer from SMU, where she spent the 2024-25 campaign and earned All-ACC Second-Team acclaim after averaging 18.6 ppg. and making 62 three-pointers and 111 free throws as a junior last season.
- Assistant coach Gabe Lazo, the man who originally recruited Robertson out of high school in Fort Worth, Texas, successfully earned her signature for a second time to join the Lady Vols.
- The first time around, Lazo was an assistant at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. and convinced Robertson to make the trek from the Lone Star State to the nation's capital in 2022.

Ruby Whitehorn was the Lady Vols' fourth-leading scorer a year ago, averaging 11.6 ppg. and pulling down 4.0 rebounds per contest.

PRAWL IS LADY VOLS' FIRST PLAYER FROM CANADA

- Deniya Prawl is the first player from Canada to play basketball for the Lady Vols.
- Prawl, a 6-foot-2 freshman from Toronto, came by way of IMG Academy in Bradenton, Florida.
- In addition to having an international player from north of the U.S. border, the Lady Vols have had two others from Australia, one from England and two from Spain.

COACHING STAFF STABILITY

- Kim Caldwell retained every member of her coaching staff from season one at Tennessee, providing stability and consistency heading into year two.
- Back are assistants Roman Tubner and Gabe Lazo, associate head coaches at Alabama and Mississippi State, who made the move to Knoxville prior to last season.
- Jenna Burdette and Angel Rizor, who followed Caldwell to Tennessee after each served as assistants alongside her at Glenville State and Marshall, return in 2025-26.
- The fifth assistant, Lexie Barrier, came to UT after spending two seasons at JMU. She previously worked at Marshall as an assistant in 2021-22 alongside Jenna Burdette prior to Caldwell's arrival and returns for year two at UT.
- Maggie Stanley and Mashayla Cecil, who also came from Marshall, are back. Stanley moved from graduate assistant to assistant director of operations/special assistant to the head coach, while Cecil attacks year two as a G.A.
- Nolan Harvath, who served as Caldwell's director of strength and conditioning at Glenville State from 2018-20, returns as UT's director of sports performance.

Family:
Spouse: Justin Caldwell / Son: Conor

Kim Caldwell is in her second season as the women's basketball head coach at the University of Tennessee. She was announced on April 7, 2024, as the fourth leader of the Lady Volunteers during the NCAA era.

A rising star in the profession, Caldwell has quickly forged a reputation as an elite head coach at three different stops now after making her debut at the game's highest level as the skipper of the all-time winningest program in women's hoops at UT. She previously led NCAA Division II Glenville State and DI Marshall to championship seasons with a high-octane approach on both ends of the floor.

Simply put, Caldwell is a winner. In nine seasons as a head coach, she has compiled an impressive 241-41 (.855) career record. Those numbers include an astounding 157-21 (.882) mark in conference games. Along the way, her teams have earned berths in nine NCAA Tournaments, and she directed those squads to one national championship, two NCAA DII Final Fours, seven conference championships and five conference tournament titles.

Statistically, her teams have excelled in scoring, three-point shooting, offensive rebounding and steals. As a head coach, her squads have led the nation five times in scoring, finishing second twice and never placing below fourth in points per game. Her squads have been the top team on four occasions in three-pointers made per game, never placing lower than fifth. In steals per game, Caldwell's units have finished below fourth only once (2024-25).

Her first year on Rocky Top saw Caldwell guide her club to a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play, carding notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. The Big Orange advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked 15th and 16th, respectively, in the AP and USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Polls. Those accomplishments came while Caldwell carried her first child and gave birth during the season, missing only the Texas game and returning vs. South Carolina.

Caldwell carded her eighth 20-win season in nine years (exception was COVID year) and recorded the best opening ever by a Lady Vol head coach in her first year of leading the program (8-0) and extended it to 13-0. That marked her second-best opening to a campaign behind a 29-0 start at Glenville State in 2021-22.

Caldwell's initial team at Tennessee set school and SEC records for points (139), three-pointers made (30) and threes attempted (63) vs. N.C. Central on Dec. 14. The treys made also eclipsed NCAA (M/W), NBA and WNBA bests, while the point total ranked fifth in NCAA women's history.

Additionally, UT tallied the most treys made (343) and attempted (1,054) in a season at UT, also setting SEC bests in those areas. UT's 86.6 points per game in Caldwell's first campaign stood fourth in school annals and eighth in the SEC record book.

Caldwell's first edition produced an All-SEC Second Team and SEC All-Defensive Team performer in Talaysia Cooper. It also featured Sara Puckett and Jewel Spear earning CSC Academic All-District accolades and 11 of her 15 players receiving SEC Academic Honor Roll distinction.

After the season, Zee Spearman was chosen for the USA's FIBA 3x3 Nations League Americas squad, helping that team win at four stops and claim the overall title at the event in Puntas Arena, Chile. Spearman was Caldwell's first player to compete with USA Basketball.

On the recruiting front, Caldwell and her staff have seen the benefits of their hard work pay off early during her tenure. Her first portal class featured Zee Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn playing lead roles for the 2024-25 squad. UT then signed a 2025 high school class ranked No. 1 or 2 (Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl, Jaida Civil, Lauren Hurst, Mya Pauldo) and added the top portal class of 2025 (Janiah Barker, Nya Robertson, Jersey Wolfenbarger), according to ESPN.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, Caldwell guided Marshall to a 26-7 overall record and 17-1 league mark in her only season there in 2023-24. She was named the WBCA's Spalding Maggie Dixon NCAA Division I Rookie Coach of the Year and the Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year after piloting the Thundering Herd to both the league's regular season and tournament titles as well as the school's second NCAA Tournament berth ever and first since 1997.

After being picked ninth in the Sun Belt Conference preseason poll, Marshall proceeded to generate 85.3 points per game (4th in NCAA) and force 24.2 turnovers per contest in notching a program best for wins. Caldwell's victory total stands as the most by a first-year coach in MU women's hoops history and marked the first 20-win regular-season campaign by the school since 1990-91.

Caldwell got her start as a head coach at her alma mater under her maiden name of Kim Stephens. She led Glenville State to the 2021-22 NCAA Division II National Championship in her sixth year at the school and helped the Pioneers earn seven overall NCAA Tournament berths.

For the 2021-22 season's accomplishment, she was presented the Pat Summitt Trophy, which goes to the WBCA's NCAA Division II National Coach of the Year. Caldwell also earned the 2022 Furfari Award, which is presented to West Virginia's College Coach of the Year in all sports by the West Virginia Sports Writers Association. She also won that award in 2019 and 2024 (while at Marshall) as well.

In seven seasons with the Pioneers, from 2016-23, the 2011 GSU graduate compiled a 191-24 mark, including a 132-12 slate in the Mountain East Conference (MEC). Her final two editions forged a 68-4 combined record, including the 35-1 national championship season (22-0 in league play) in 2021-22, and a 33-3 outcome after advancing to the national semifinals in 2022-23. Her final unit there led NCAA Division II in points per game (91.2) and turnovers forced (27.3).

She guided Glenville State to six MEC regular season titles (2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2022, 2023) and four MEC Tournament trophies (2018, 2019, 2020, 2023), earning MEC Coach of the Year honors four times in 2018, 2019, 2022 and 2023. Her first four league titles came with her father, Scott Stephens, serving as her assistant coach before he passed away on Nov. 21, 2020.

Prior to her stint at GSU, she worked as an assistant at Sacramento State for three seasons from 2013-16 under Bunky Harkleroad, for the 2012-13 season at Glenville State as an assistant to Harkleroad and began her college coaching career at Ohio Valley University, filling a role as an assistant there from 2011-12.

A native of Parkersburg, W.Va., Caldwell played high school basketball for her dad at Parkersburg South High School, where he led that program to three state titles during a 13-year career. Her sisters Anne and Jill also played at PSHS before going on to collegiate careers at the University of Cincinnati from 2002-06 and 2005-09, respectively.

As a collegiate player, Caldwell (then Stephens) helped lead Glenville State to the 2010-11 West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championship as a player and earn an NCAA Division II Tournament berth. She was named the WVIAC Student-Athlete of the Year that season and academically made the WVIAC Commissioner's Honor Roll as a junior and senior.

Caldwell is married to Justin Caldwell, who was head coach of the men's basketball program at Glenville State from 2018-23 and served as a men's hoops assistant at Marshall in 2023-24. He joined Rick Barnes' men's basketball staff at Tennessee on Sept. 20, 2024, when he was named player development coordinator for the Volunteers.

The Caldwells are the parents of a son, Conor Scott, who was born on Jan. 20, 2025.

ROMAN TUBNER

ASSISTANT COACH

CENTENARY '11

Roman Tubner joined Tennessee Athletics on April 16, 2024, as Kim Caldwell named him an assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols.

Tubner, who is in his second year in Knoxville and 13th season in the women's game, has accumulated a 219-146 record as a full-time coach at eight schools. The teams he has helped lead have recorded seven postseason appearances (6 NCAA, 1 WNIT), two conference championships and a conference tournament title. They also carded two league tourney runner-up showings and a second-place league finish as well.

During his first year in Knoxville, Tubner attended the 2024 SEC Coaches Opportunity Forum in Atlanta. Created as a result of SEC Bylaw 23, the forum was implemented in 2021 to promote opportunities in paths to leadership. The goal is to empower participants with knowledge, skills and resources necessary to progress toward head coaching positions in their respective sports.

Tubner helped UT card a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play in 2024-25, notching notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. The Big Orange advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked 15th and 16th, respectively, in the AP and USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Polls.

Tennessee set school and SEC records in 2024-25 for points (139), three-pointers made (30) and threes attempted (63) vs. N.C. Central on Dec. 14. The treys made also eclipsed NCAA (M/W), NBA and WNBA bests, while the point total ranked fifth in NCAA women's history. Additionally, UT tallied the most treys made (343) and attempted (1,054) in a season at UT, also setting SEC bests in those areas. UT's 86.6 points per game stood fourth in school annals and eighth in the SEC record book.

On the recruiting front, Tubner had a lead role in helping secure early success for the staff. The first portal class featured Zee Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn playing lead roles for the 2024-25 squad. UT then signed a 2025 high school class ranked No. 1 or 2 (Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl, Jaida Civil, Lauren Hurst, Mya Pauldo) and added the top portal class of 2025 (Janiah Barker, Nya Robertson, Jersey Wolfenbarger), according to ESPN.

Tubner arrived on Rocky Top after spending three seasons on Kristy Curry's staff as an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator at Alabama, earning a promotion to associate head coach in 2023 as the Crimson Tide went 64-35 during his tenure. During that span, UA earned three postseason berths that included NCAA appearances in the 2023 and 2024 tournaments following a WNIT quarterfinal result in 2022.

A 2019 selection to the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's 30 Under Thirty, a member of Silver Waves Media's 2023 list of the 50 Most Impactful Assistants and a finalist for the 2023 World Exposure Report Women's Basketball Assistant Coach of the Year, he helped the Crimson Tide to three consecutive 20+ win seasons for the first time since 1999, including a 24-victory campaign in 2023-24 that was Bama's finest since 1998.

The 2023-24 unit forged a 24-10 overall record and 10-6 SEC mark, tying for fourth place and earning the league tourney's No. 4 seed. The Tide later advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, marking the program's first win in that event since 2021.

A contributing factor to that on-court success was UA's effort in recruiting, where he directed the charge in the signing or commitment of 16 players during his tenure as recruiting coordinator. He recruited and assisted in the development of two All-SEC players (Sarah Ashlee Barker, Aaliyah Nye) who went on to be selected #9 by the LA Sparks and #13 by the Las Vegas Aces in the 2025 WNBA Draft and an SEC All-Freshman selection (Essence Cody) in 2023-24. He also helped land a 2023 recruiting class ranked No. 11 by espnW and a portal class rated No. 25 by 247Sports and Brandon Clay Scouting that season as well. The signing group included Cody, Reychel Douglas and Naomi Jones.

From the time he arrived in Tuscaloosa, the Tide elevated from 20-14/6-10 (10th) with a WNIT quarterfinal berth in 2021-22 to 20-11/9-7 (t5th) and an NCAA appearance in 2022-23 before the next step forward in 2023-24. During that window, he coached SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year Hannah Barber and All-SEC First Team selection Brittany Davis, the No. 36 overall pick by the Las Vegas Aces in the 2023 WNBA Draft.

Prior to his stint at Alabama, Tubner spent a season at Ball State under head coach Brady Sallee. He assisted for a 14-11/12-8 (6th, MAC) Cardinal squad and worked primarily with the point guards, developing All-MAC Honorable Mention selection Sydney Freeman.

In 2019-20, he served as an assistant coach to Karen Barefoot at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington. While there, he recruited 2021 All-Colonial Athletic Association Sixth Player of the Year ZaNautica Downs and worked with three student-athletes who garnered All-Colonial Athletic Association honors.

Tubner spent a season in Terre Haute, Ind., in 2018-19, holding the position of assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Indiana State. He helped the Sycamores produce their highest scoring average in five years and reeled in one of the top recruiting classes in the Missouri Valley Conference en route to being named to the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) 30 Under Thirty list.

From 2017-18, Tubner gained experience as an assistant at Austin Peay, where he helped lead the Governors to 16 wins, the most for the program in a decade. He also helped develop Brianne Alexander into an All-OVC First Team selection.

Prior to his stop at APSU, Tubner logged three years at Arkansas Tech from 2014-17. While there, he assisted the Golden Suns to a 72-19 record and three NCAA Division II Tournaments, two regular-season Great American Conference championships (2014-15, 2015-16) and a league tourney title (2015-16). Tech also carded a second-place conference regular season finish in 2016-17 and tourney runner-up showings in 2014-15 and 2016-17.

Tubner got his start in coaching at the University of Arkansas-Monticello, where he worked from 2011-13 as a men's basketball graduate assistant before being promoted to assistant women's basketball coach and recruiting coordinator for the 2013-14 campaign. He helped the 2011-12 UAM men's team to 21 wins and coached two DII All-Americans while with that program.

A graduate of Montgomery (Ala.) Catholic High School, Tubner was a three-sport athlete in high school who went on to play at Centenary College in Louisiana. He graduated from Centenary with a bachelor's in psychology in 2011 and earned his master's from Arkansas-Monticello in 2012 with studies in physical education and coaching. He is married to the former Kyndra Daniels, and they have two daughters: Skylar and Rhian.

GABE LAZO

ASSISTANT COACH

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE/9TH YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
BARRY '08

Gabe Lazo joined Tennessee Athletics on April 16, 2024, as Kim Caldwell named him an assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols.

Lazo, who is in his second year on Rocky Top and ninth season in coaching at the collegiate level, has accumulated a 138-105 record at five schools over an eight-year period. The teams he has helped lead have recorded four postseason appearances (3 NCAA, 1 WBIT), a conference championship and a conference tournament title.

In his first year in Knoxville, Lazo was chosen to attend the 2024 Top-Connect Basketball Symposium in Las Vegas. The program identifies the top assistant basketball coaches in the country and connects them with mid-major athletic directors, providing tremendous networking and leadership development opportunities for both parties. He also was named to the board of directors for the Latino Association of Basketball Coaches (LABC) in 2024 and was chosen as the 2025 World Exposure Report Assistant Coach of the Year.

Lazo helped UT card a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play in 2024-25, notching notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. The Big Orange advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked 15th and 16th, respectively, in the AP and USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Polls.

Tennessee set school and SEC records in 2024-25 for points (139), three-pointers made (30) and threes attempted (63) vs. N.C. Central on Dec. 14. The treys made also eclipsed NCAA (M/W), NBA and WNBA bests, while the point total ranked fifth in NCAA women's history. Additionally, UT tallied the most treys made (343) and attempted (1,054) in a season at UT, also setting SEC bests in those areas. UT's 86.6 points per game stood fourth in school annals and eighth in the SEC record book.

On the recruiting front, Lazo had a lead role in helping secure early success for the staff. The first portal class featured Zee Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn playing lead roles for the 2024-25 squad. UT then signed a 2025 high school class ranked No. 1 or 2 (Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl, Jaida Civil, Lauren Hurst, Mya Pauldo) and added the top portal class of 2025 (Janiah Barker, Nya Robertson, Jersey Wolfenbarger), according to ESPN.

Lazo arrived at Rocky Top after spending two seasons at Mississippi State, earning a promotion to associate head coach there after helping the Bulldogs make the NCAA Tournament Second Round in 2022-23 and the WBIT Elite Eight in 2023-24. They did so while posting back-to-back seasons of 22 and 23 victories and charting a 45-23 record during that time frame.

Known as a relentless recruiter, a motivator and a mentor to, and developer of, student-athletes. Lazo served as MSU's designated defensive coordinator. The first assistant hired by the Bulldogs' Sam Purcell when he took the job in 2022, Lazo provided opponent scouting and defensive approach as well as in-game tactics and adjustments from the bench.

His ability to identify talent and build relationships was critical to the Bulldogs landing the No. 3 transfer class ahead of the 2023-24 campaign. He also played a key role in Mississippi State securing highly-regarded classes over his last two signing cycles there, including the 16th-rated class in 2022-23, which was the second best in school history.

Lazo, who has been cited for his work ethic, was a key staff member for Purcell, highlighted by his scouting assignment that helped the No. 11-seeded Bulldogs upset No. 6 seed Creighton in the first round of the 2023 NCAA tournament. Lazo also played a significant role in the recruitment of former Seton Hall transfer Lauren Park-Lane, who broke MSU's single-season assists record during the 2023-24 campaign.

Prior to making the move to Starkville, Lazo spent the 2021-22 campaign as an assistant at George Washington, helping mold the second-ranked defense in the A-10 Conference. During that season, he signed top-30 recruit Nyanna Robertson and lent his expertise as an improving GWU squad reached the quarterfinals of the A-10 Tournament.

From 2019-21, Lazo served as an assistant at Stony Brook, helping the Seawolves fashion a 43-9 overall record. Among SBU's achievements were winning the 2019-20 America East regular-season championship, with 28-3 overall and 14-2 league marks, and capturing the 2021 America East Tournament championship and earning a berth in that season's NCAA Tournament. While on Long Island, Lazo assisted with the development of five all-conference selections in 2020, including first-team honoree India Pagan.

Lazo cut his teeth in the college coaching ranks at FIU, filling a role as an assistant there from 2017-19. Working for head coach Tiara Malcom, he contributed toward the Panthers carding in 2017-18 their most overall victories since 2013-14 and their most league wins since joining Conference USA.

Prior to making the move to college basketball, Lazo was varsity girls head coach at John. A. Ferguson Senior High School from 2012-17, earning Miami-Dade County Coach of the Year distinction on three different occasions. He guided the Falcons to regional championships in 2015-16 and 2016-17 and to state runner-up finishes during those seasons as well and a No. 2 overall Florida state ranking in Class 8A.

His duties dovetailed with his summer role as head coach of the Miami Suns in the Nike Girls Elite Youth Basketball League from 2010-17. His 2014 "Team Larkins" squad achieved a top-10 national ranking and was invited to Nike Nationals.

Lazo played collegiately at FIU (2004-06) and Barry University (2006-08), earning a bachelor's degree in education from Barry in 2008. He also played professionally for two years with Cariduros de Fajardo BSN in Puerto Rico.

During his high school days, Lazo was a four-year letterwinner and an honor roll student at Miami Senior High. He led MSHS to the state final four as a junior and the elite eight as a senior and was part of squads winning three district titles and two city championships.

JENNA BURDETTE

ASSISTANT COACH

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE/7TH YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
DAYTON '18

Jenna Burdette joined Tennessee Athletics on April 16, 2024, as Kim Caldwell named her an assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols. This marks the third time they have worked together.

Burdette, who is in her seventh season in coaching and her eighth year overall in college basketball, has fashioned a 138-34 career record at three schools over six seasons. The teams she has helped coach have carded four NCAA Tournament appearances, three conference championships and a trio of conference tournament crowns as well.

With her assistance, UT carded a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play in 2024-25, notching notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. The Big Orange advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked 15th and 16th, respectively, in the AP and USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Polls, with Burdette serving as interim coach during the game at Texas while Caldwell was absent after the birth of her son.

Tennessee set school and SEC records in 2024-25 for points (139), three-pointers made (30) and threes attempted (63) vs. N.C. Central on Dec. 14. The treys made also eclipsed NCAA (M/W), NBA and WNBA bests, while the point total ranked fifth in NCAA women's history. Additionally, UT tallied the most treys made (343) and attempted (1,054) in a season at UT, also setting SEC bests in those areas. UT then signed a 2025 high school class ranked No. 1 or 2 (Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl, Jaida Civil, Lauren Hurst, Mya Pauldo) and added the top portal class of 2025 (Janiah Barker, Nya Robertson, Jersey Wolfenbarger), according to ESPN.

She joined Caldwell and fellow assistant coach Angel Rizor in making the transition from Marshall to UT. The former Thundering Herd staff member served as associate head coach during the 2023-24 campaign in Caldwell's first year at the Huntington, W. Va., school. She had been an assistant on the MU staff for two previous seasons since being hired in May of 2021, helping the program to a 58-34 overall record during that span.

Included in that was the 2023-24 triumphant season at Marshall, where the Herd went 26-7 overall and 17-1 in Sun Belt Conference play en route to regular season and tournament championships and an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. The 26 wins marked a program best, and MU made its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1997 and only its second ever.

The Thundering Herd averaged 85.3 points per game to rank fourth among NCAA Division I schools and were first in three-pointers attempted per game (31.9), second in turnovers forced per game (24.2), third in three-pointers made per game (10.6), third in steals per game (13.2), third in turnover margin (7.94) and fifth in offensive rebounds per game (16.4).

The duo first worked together at NCAA Division II Glenville State, where Burdette served as an assistant to Caldwell from 2018-20. They helped lead the Pioneers to a 56-8 overall mark, which included a 40-4 mark in conference play and a pair of Mountain East Conference championships. GSU also won MEC Tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in each of those seasons.

Glenville State ranked No. 1 in NCAA Division II in scoring per game in 2018-19 (102.3) and 2019-20 (106.8). The Pioneers also finished first in three-pointers made, three-pointers attempted and three-pointers attempted per game both seasons and wound up third in steals per game in 2018-19 and fourth in 2019-20.

Between her stints at Glenville State and Marshall, Burdette served as the director of basketball operations at Northern Kentucky University in 2020-21 before joining Marshall's staff for the 2021-22 season.

A native of Coolville, Ohio, Burdette was a standout player at the University of Dayton from 2014-18, earning a degree in exercise science. During her career she played in 120 games and averaged 11.2 points per contest, becoming the 25th Flyer to reach the 1,000-point mark.

Burdette garnered All-A-10 honors twice, earning second-team acclaim as a junior in 2016-17 and first-team accolades as a senior in 2017-18, when she put up 16.2 points and 3.9 assists per game and hit 44.5 percent of her three-point attempts to rank second in the A-10 and eighth nationally. Additionally, she was named A-10 Tournament Most Outstanding Performer as a junior and was a member of the A-10 All-Rookie Team in 2014-15.

Dayton and Tennessee met during Burdette's junior campaign, squaring off in the NCAA First Round in Louisville, Ky., on March 18, 2017. The Lady Vols overcame a 29-all tie at the intermission to secure a 66-57 victory over a determined Flyers squad. Burdette contributed seven points, three rebounds and three assists to her team's cause over 28 minutes.

As a high school player at Reedsville Eastern, Burdette was a three-time First Team Ohio selection and was Eastern's all-time leading scorer. She was also the Associated Press Division IV Southeastern District Player of the Year for three years and was ranked No. 18 at her position by ESPN HoopGurlz.

ANGEL RIZOR

ASSISTANT COACH

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE/4TH YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
CINCINNATI '20

Angel Rizor joined Tennessee Athletics on April 16, 2024, as Kim Caldwell named her an assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols. This marks the third time they have worked together.

Rizor, who is in her fourth season in coaching, has fashioned a 85-18 career record at three schools over three seasons. The teams she has helped lead have recorded three NCAA Tournament appearances, one national championship, two conference championships and a conference tournament crown.

With her assistance, UT carded a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play in 2024-25, notching notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. She joined Caldwell and fellow assistant Jenna Burdette in making the transition from Marshall to UT. The former Thundering Herd staff member served as an assistant coach during the 2023-24 campaign in Caldwell's first and only year as head coach at the Huntington, W. Va., school.

During her brief stint at MU, the Herd went 26-7 overall and 17-1 in Sun Belt Conference play en route to regular season and tournament championships and an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. The 26 wins marked a program best, and MU made its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1997 and only its second ever.

Prior to making the move to Marshall, Rizor broadened her coaching education while playing professionally in Germany in 2022-23. She led several local high school and club teams there to gain an international perspective on the game of basketball.

The duo first worked together at NCAA Division II Glenville State, where Rizor served as an assistant to Caldwell during the 2021-22 campaign. During that season, the Pioneers went 35-1 overall and 22-0 in the Mountain East Conference, claiming the NCAA Division II National Championship and the MEC regular season crown.

As they did many times under Caldwell, Glenville State once again led NCAA Division II in points per game at 95.5 as well as threes made (342) and attempted (1,030) in 2021-22. GSU also was No. 1 in assists (620), turnovers forced per game (25.72), steals (520) and scoring margin (32.7).

Prior to entering the coaching ranks, Rizor spent a year playing professional basketball in Cesme-Izmir, Turkey for the Cesme Basketbol Kulubu. Her team there made the TKBL Playoffs in 2021.

Among other experiences, Rizor served as tournament director at the Kingdom Sports Center in Franklin, Ohio, in 2018 and completed a 2019 internship with Redline Athletics in West Chester, Ohio.

A 2020 graduate of Cincinnati with a degree in health promotion and education: exercise and fitness, Rizor was a four-year starter for the Bearcats. She surpassed 1,000 points while averaging 8.4 points per game in her career there.

In 2019-20, she was named All-American Athletic Conference Third Team as well as being voted the AAC's Most Improved Player and to the AAC All-Tournament Team. Additionally, she was selected for the 2018-19 AAC All-Academic Honor Roll, and in 2019-20 she was named to the Legion of Excellence at Cincinnati.

LEXIE BARRIER

ASSISTANT COACH

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE/5TH YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
JMU '20

Lexie Barrier joined Tennessee Athletics in May of 2024, as Kim Caldwell named her an assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols. This stop marks the first time during their careers they have worked together, though both previously served coaching stints at Marshall at different times.

Barrier, now in year two in Knoxville, helped UT card a 24-10 overall record and an 8-8 mark in SEC play in 2024-25, notching notable wins over Florida State, Iowa, Ohio State and eventual NCAA champ UConn, the first by UT over the Huskies since 2007 in the interrupted series. The Big Orange advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked 15th and 16th, respectively, in the AP and USA TODAY/WBCA Coaches Polls.

Tennessee set school and SEC records in 2024-25 for points (139), three-pointers made (30) and threes attempted (63) vs. N.C. Central on Dec. 14. The treys made also eclipsed NCAA (M/W), NBA and WNBA bests, while the point total ranked fifth in NCAA women's history. Additionally, UT tallied the most treys made (343) and attempted (1,054) in a season at UT, also setting SEC bests in those areas. UT's 86.6 points per game stood fourth in school annals and eighth in the SEC record book.

On the recruiting front, Barrier contributed to early success for the staff. The first portal class featured Zee Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn playing lead roles for the 2024-25 squad. UT then signed a 2025 high school class ranked No. 1 or 2 (Mia Pauldo, Deniya Prawl, Jaida Civil, Lauren Hurst, Mya Pauldo) and added the top portal class of 2025 (Janiah Barker, Nya Robertson, Jersey Wolfenbarger), according to ESPN.

Prior to joining the Big Orange, Barrier spent the previous two seasons as an assistant at James Madison University. While coaching at her alma mater, she helped the Dukes to a pair of 23+ win seasons, forging a 49-20 overall record and 26-10 mark in the Sun Belt Conference during that time. The program made two postseason appearances and picked up two pieces of SBC hardware along the way.

In 2023-24, she helped guide the Dukes to a 23-12 overall record and a 13-5 effort in league play, highlighted by the program's second consecutive trip to the Sun Belt Conference Women's Basketball Championship game. JMU, which lost in the SBC Tourney title match-up, 95-92 in overtime, to Caldwell's Marshall club, made its second-straight postseason tournament appearance. It earned an at-large bid to the newly-formed Women's Basketball Invitation Tournament, falling to Stony Brook in the opening round.

That Dukes squad finished first in Division I in defensive rebounds per game (32.3), second in rebounds per game (47.49), fifth in rebound margin (+11.3), ninth in bench points per game (27.8) and 12th in field goal percentage defense (.361) for the 2023-24 campaign.

In 2022-23, the Dukes went 26-8 overall and 13-5 in conference games, tying for first in the SBC during the regular season and capturing the SBC Tournament Championship title to earn an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. That JMU unit led the league in scoring margin (+8.8), opponent field goal percentage (.361), opponent three-point percentage (.286), and rebounding margin (+8.1).

Prior to her move back to Harrisonburg, Barrier spent a year at Marshall, working alongside current UT assistant Jenna Burdette during the 2021-22 campaign. During her time with the Thundering Herd, Barrier acted as the recruiting coordinator, assisted in player development and served as the academic liaison for players.

In Barrier's lone season in Huntington, the Herd finished the year with a 15-13 record (10-8 C-USA). Marshall capped the regular season with two big victories over WKU. The squad set a program record for the fewest turnovers per game at just 12.7, which led the league and ranked 22nd in the nation. Marshall also led C-USA in fewest total turnovers (355), which ranked ninth in the NCAA.

Marshall flourished in the classroom as well in 2021-22, as 14-of-15 players were honored on the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll, three received the Academic Medal for a GPA of 3.75 or better, and the Herd's team GPA for the academic year was 3.49.

Before her stint at Marshall, Barrier served as a graduate manager at NC State during the 2020-21 season, earning an MBA in adult and continuing professional education from the school in 2021. The Wolfpack ranked seventh nationally in the final USA Today Coaches Poll to end the year in the top 10 for the third-straight season. That came as a result of a 22-3 record, second-consecutive ACC title and a third NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in a row. NC State spent every week of the season in the top 10 of the coaches poll, which included three-straight weeks at No. 2.

As a player at JMU, Barrier started 96 of 127 games played, racking up 1,216 points and tying for 21st in program history. She also added 497 rebounds, 236 assists, 126 steals and 129 three-pointers in her career. She finished with cumulative averages of 9.6 points, 3.9 rebounds and 1.9 assists and posted a career-high 24 points against Northwestern in her junior season.

She collected All-Colonial Athletic Association Second Team honors in 2017-18 and 2018-19 as well as a spot on the CAA All-Rookie squad following the 2016-17 season. The Ironton, Ohio, native graduated from JMU in May 2020 with a bachelor's degree in sport & recreation management.

Barrier, who was blessed by the arrival of daughter Alani in February 2024, launched her playing career at Ironton High School and left the program as its all-time leading scorer. She was voted Southeast Ohio AP District Player of the Year and the 2016 All-Ohio Division III Co-Player of the Year while earning all-state honors as a junior and senior.

HEATHER ERVIN

DIRECTOR OF STUDENT-ATHLETE SUCCESS & EXT. RELATIONS

TENTH YEAR ON STAFF/24TH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
TROY '99

The 2025-26 campaign is the 10th season as a member of the UT women's basketball staff for Heather Ervin and her fourth as the director of student-athlete success and external relations after serving the previous three as the director of player relations and administration.

Among Ervin's focused responsibilities for her latest role are implementation and oversight of a program based on building lifetime success, which focuses on character development, life skills and career connections, and provision of individualized education and guidance to current student-athletes in the areas of personal brand alignment, image consultation, career exploration and business leadership development.

Additionally, she has oversight for the program's mentorship program, serving both as an advisor to student-athletes as well as connecting student-athletes with other high-character role models, and partnering with the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center in the area of student-athlete development for each Lady Vol player.

Ervin made a return to college athletics after serving as the program administrator at the UT Center for Information and Communication Studies in the College of Communication from March 2015 to July 2016.

Prior to that, Ervin worked with the University of Tennessee football program for 13 years, from 2001-14. She was promoted in 2009 to assistant director of football operations, as the only female in the Southeastern Conference to hold that position. Ervin has a wealth of knowledge in the sports industry not only as a former student-athlete but as a coach and administrator as well.

A member of the WBCA and Women Leaders in College Sports, Ervin's additional responsibilities have included providing mentorship to current student-athletes, serving as the academic liaison and spearheading the DEI initiatives for the program. She also has been involved with Lady Vol facility projects, student-athlete housing and Letter Award distribution. She currently serves as a UT Promise mentor, is on the competitive excellence strategic planning committee and is a member of the Vols Leadership Academy (VOLeaders).

Previous responsibilities have included assisting with all aspects of day-to-day recruiting operations, updating the recruiting boards and assisting with official and unofficial visits. She also was responsible for managing pre- and post-signing paperwork as well as organizing prospect evaluations and managing the coaches' recruiting travel.

Ervin's responsibilities in her previous role in athletics were to manage the head football coach's daily schedule while also providing administrative support to the director of football operations and the senior associate athletics director for football administration. Ervin also was responsible for arranging summer employment opportunities for student-athletes and working closely with the Thornton Center in monitoring student-athletes' class attendance.

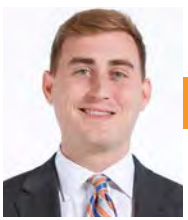
In addition, she served as chief liaison for all player family event functions as well as managing a website designed for players' families. Ervin also was substantially involved with official and unofficial on-campus recruiting visits.

The Sweetwater, Tenn., native holds both a bachelor's degree in health and human services (1999) and a master's degree in foundations of education with an emphasis in sports management (2001) from Troy University, where she played basketball and later served as a graduate assistant basketball coach for two years.

Prior to that, she played two seasons at Hiwassee College in nearby Madisonville, Tenn. While there, Ervin helped the Tigers to a combined 57-10 record and two trips to the NJCAA national tournament before graduating in 1997.

During her playing days at Sweetwater High School, the former Heather Lenoir was a multi-sport athlete in basketball, softball and track and field. She set 12 track records and still owns nine of those today.

Ervin and her husband, Harry, reside in Maryville and have two daughters: Jasmine and Jada.



JOSH THEIS

DIRECTOR OF VIDEO & CREATIVE CONTENT

SEVENTH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
XAVIER (OH) '19

The 2025-26 campaign is the seventh season for Josh Theis with the Lady Vol program but his fifth year in a full-time capacity, accepting a role in May of 2021 and serving as director of video and creative content.

Theis, who served as a graduate manager with the Lady Vols from 2019-21, worked alongside the recruiting coordinator and coaching staff to create graphics and videos for use in recruiting and social media. He now has a leadership role in that area as well as in assisting the coaching staff in opponent scouting reports and coordinating all aspects of film exchange and video editing.

In addition to creating and developing recruiting content, he assists in cultivating image and branding for Tennessee women's basketball, its student-athletes and coaches.

The Cincinnati, Ohio, native received his undergraduate degree in graphic design in 2019 from Xavier University. He spent four years with the Xavier men's basketball team as a student program assistant, working with a squad that made an NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 2017 and won the BIG EAST regular season championship in 2018. He earned a master's degree in sports management from the University of Tennessee in May 2021.

MAGGIE STANLEY

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE
MARSHALL '20

Maggie Stanley joined Tennessee Athletics in July of 2024, as Kim Caldwell named her a graduate assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols. On May 1, 2025, Stanley began a full-time position as the assistant director of women's basketball operations/special assistant to the head coach.

Stanley came to Knoxville after spending six seasons working with the women's basketball program at Marshall, including a role as director of basketball operations from 2022-24. Stanley was instrumental in the program's 2023-24 Sun Belt Conference Championship season, navigating the logistics of qualifying for the program's first NCAA Tournament appearance in more than 25 years.

Beginning her journey with the Marshall women's basketball team in 2018 as a student manager, Stanley was soon named head manager and supervised three other student managers. She engaged in limited on-court activities and operated the clock during practices. Stanley assisted with game day preparation for home and away games and helped handle logistics on the road. Stanley ensured that laundry was done for both the team and the coaching staff, and she also assisted the director of operations with camps, fundraising and other day-to-day functions.

Stanley had many duties during her two seasons as a graduate assistant from 2020-22. She oversaw ordering and distribution of equipment and gear for the entire program and assisted the director of operations with day-to-day tasks and helped with travel logistics and coordination of meals. She also oversaw the budgeting for equipment, recruiting and meals as well as the academic team for the student-athletes. Stanley engaged in on-court activities and created graphics for social media and recruiting. She also recorded statistics and provided analysis with the coaching staff.

Stanley graduated with a bachelor's degree in sport management from Marshall in 2020 and earned a master's degree in sports administration from the school in 2022.

MASHAYLA CECIL

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

GLENVILLE STATE '22

Mashayla Cecil joined Tennessee Athletics in May of 2024, as Kim Caldwell named her a graduate assistant on her first staff as head coach of the Lady Vols. She now is in year two with the program.

Cecil, who is in her third season in coaching, made the move to Knoxville after serving as an assistant coach in 2023-24 at Marshall under Caldwell and alongside current Lady Vol assistants Jenna Burdette and Angel Rizor.

In addition to her year with Caldwell at MU, Cecil played three seasons at Glenville State from 2019-22, helping Caldwell and the Pioneers win an NCAA Division II National Championship trophy during the 2021-22 campaign. The duo also collected two Mountain East Conference titles and an MEC Tournament crown while compiling a 73-10 record during that period, including a 51-5 mark in league games.

After winning the national title, Cecil transferred to Wayne State University in Detroit, where she finished her career on the hardwood in 2022-23 while pursuing a master's in counseling. She earned the D2 ADA Academic Achievement Award while at WSU.

Cecil, who attended Paul Laurence Dunbar High School in Lexington, Ky., was the 11th Region Player of the Year and a Miss Kentucky Basketball candidate as a senior, and she became the all-time leading scorer in Fayette County Public Schools history with 2,232 points. Cecil earned all-city and all-district acclaim three times prior to beginning her college career at EKU in 2018-19 before making the moving to Glenville State.

In 2022, Cecil earned a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in health promotions from GSU. She is pursuing a master's in sport management at Tennessee and is a recipient of the Steve & Kaye Maynard Women's Basketball Graduate Assistant Scholarship Fund.

CASI DAILEY

DIRECTOR OF WBB/OLYMPIC SPORTS MEDICINE

SIXTH YEAR ON STAFF/NINTH OVERALL YEAR AT TENNESSEE
HOPE '08

Casi Dailey is in her sixth season at the University of Tennessee as an associate director of sports medicine and has overseen the medical care for the Lady Vol basketball team since June 2020.

Dailey, who had a previous stint at UT from 2008 to 2011 as a graduate assistant and intern, returned to Knoxville from North Carolina State University, where she was employed from 2012-20. During her eight years at NC State, Dailey worked primarily with a women's hoops program that claimed the 2020 ACC Tournament and posted back-to-back NCAA Sweet 16 appearances in 2018 and 2019. She also assisted the softball team and served as the treasurer for the ACC Sports Medicine Association from 2018-20.

Dailey received her bachelor's degree in athletic training in 2008 from Hope College in Holland, Mich., and became a certified athletic trainer. She then attended UT, where she earned a master's in sport management in 2010.

As a graduate assistant at Tennessee, Dailey worked with the 2009 NCAA champion Lady Vol track & field team as well as the women's golf and women's tennis programs. After earning her master's from Rocky Top, Dailey stayed an additional year as an intern athletic trainer.

Dailey has completed all three of the classes offered by the Kinesio Tape Association International. She is BFR certified through Owens Recovery Science. She is certified in dry needling through IDN. She also has completed the first module of Graston courses. She currently serves as the secretary on the board for the College Athletic Trainers Society.

NOLAN HARVATH

DIRECTOR OF WBB SPORTS PERFORMANCE

SOUTHERN INDIANA '13

Nolan Harvath joined the Tennessee Athletics staff on April 22, 2024, accepting the role of director of women's basketball sports performance for head coach Kim Caldwell. He is in year two working with the Lady Vol program and helps improve student-athletes' strength, speed and endurance so they can excel in Caldwell's system.

He made the move to Knoxville after serving with the West Virginia University strength and conditioning staff from December of 2020 until spring 2024. An assistant strength and conditioning coach there, Harvath worked with Mountaineer football since spring 2022. He originally arrived in Morgantown in December 2020 after being hired to assist the Mountaineer baseball and golf programs.

Harvath came to WVU after a three-year stint as the director of strength and conditioning at Glenville State University from 2018-20. He also was assistant athletic director at GSU from 2019-20, working there while Caldwell was leading the Pioneer women's basketball program.

At Glenville State, Harvath was responsible for all strength and conditioning activities within the athletic department, including program design and implementation. Additionally, he oversaw all strength, speed, power and ability testing, as well as budgeting and fundraising activities related to strength and conditioning.

Prior to his time in Glenville, Harvath was a strength and conditioning intern at WVU, working primarily with the football team. He assisted during team lifts and runs and was responsible for setting up and breaking down all team strength and conditioning activities.

Harvath also served as a consultant for the University of Charleston baseball team from 2016-20, designing all strength and conditioning programs for the team. He also tracked, monitored and assessed all data obtained from each macrocycle.

In the West Virginia prep ranks, Harvath spent time as a strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater, East Fairmont High (2016-17), and Morgantown High (2013-15). In 2013, Harvath was given the opportunity to be the graduate assistant head strength and conditioning coach at MHS while pursuing his master's. He was responsible for all strength and conditioning activities, including program design and implementation for football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, men's and women's soccer, track and cross country, wrestling and volleyball.

Harvath also was responsible for overseeing the strength and conditioning internship program at Morgantown High School in conjunction with West Virginia University. He oversaw all fundraising activities for the strength and conditioning program, and all strength, speed, power and agility testing.

A native of Fairmont, W.Va., Harvath graduated from the University of Southern Indiana in 2013 with a degree in exercise science before earning his master's in athletic coaching education with emphasis in human performance from WVU in 2016. While attending USI, he was a four-year member of the men's soccer program and was a two-year captain as well as three-time academic all-conference honoree.

He began his strength and conditioning career during his senior year at USI at the Sports Acceleration Center located in Evansville, Indiana. The primary training focus of the Center is on the development of an athlete's speed and power potential.

Harvath also worked in the private sector of strength and conditioning at Pro Performance in Morgantown. While at Pro Performance, Harvath was able to expand his training knowledge and philosophy by working with a wide variety of sports and skill levels. He is a National Strength and Conditioning Association certified strength and conditioning coach and is a certified physical preparation specialist.

Harvath and his fiancé, Jeri, reside in Knoxville.

ANGIE BOYD KECK

SR. ASSOCIATE A.D./SR. WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR

31ST YEAR AT TENNESSEE
TENNESSEE '94

Senior Associate Athletics Director Angie Boyd Keck works closely with SEC and NCAA staff as UT's Senior Woman Administrator and also serves as the sport administrator for women's basketball, men's and women's golf and volleyball.

Among her duties, she monitors and directs sports programs in all aspects of operations, budget planning, resource allocation and scheduling. She approves and monitors practice, competitive schedules and NCAA time management legislation as well as advising the director of athletics on all matters concerning assigned sports programs.

Additionally, she manages and facilitates administrative situations associated with those sports, conducts evaluations of assigned coaches and oversees the general conduct of the program, including player/coach relationships, event management, travel conditions and criteria, competitiveness and student-athlete behavior and conduct.

Keck assists with facility renovation/construction designs, fundraising for new facilities/renovations, and she also provides input for marketing plans and promotions for assigned sports.

During the development of Tennessee Athletics' comprehensive five-year strategic plan, Rise Glorious—published in July of 2022—Keck chaired the Mission, Vision & Values Committee.

Immediately prior to assuming her current post, she served as an associate AD–most recently for Business & Internal Affairs–from 2008-19. She took on the role of SWA in the summer of 2019.

In the fall of 2019, Keck began a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Committee. She also has served on UT's exempt staff council, the Work Culture Improvement Team and is a member of Women's Leaders in College Sports.
She is also on the SEC Championships committee since 2020, which selects sites and oversees SEC Championships.

Keck began her career in intercollegiate administration in 1994-95, when she was the assistant women's golf coach with the Lady Vols. Prior to her coaching stint, she was a member of the inaugural Tennessee women's golf team in 1992. Keck (then Angie Boyd) captained the 1993-94 squad to a 13th-place NCAA finish in 1994. She was named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll in both her years as a player and earned a spot in the Lady Vols Hall of Fame (now the University of Tennessee Athletic Hall of Fame) in the Fall of 2005.

A 1994 graduate of Tennessee, Keck earned her bachelor's degree in Public Administration. In 1997, she received her master's in Sport Administration from UT.

Keck and her husband, Kelly, reside in Dandridge, Tennessee. They have a son, Josh, and a daughter, Sidney.

BRAD BRIGGS

DEPUTY A.D./CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

12TH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
SOUTHERN ILLINOIS '10

Brad Briggs is in his 12th year with Tennessee Athletics in 2025-26 and his first as deputy athletics director/chief financial officer.

Briggs oversees financial management, business operations, Anthony Travel, procurement and information technology for Tennessee Athletics.

Prior to his role as deputy athletics director, Briggs was UT's executive associate athletics director of business affairs & administration/CFO after previously serving from 2023-24 as senior associate athletics director of business affairs & administration/CFO.

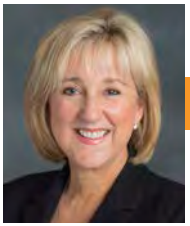
From 2019-23 as UT's assistant AD of business and finance, Briggs oversaw the Athletics Business and Finance Office, which manages the department's financial reporting, budget development and business operations. He also monitored the athletics department's more than $140 million operating budget and served as the liaison between the athletics department and the university's procurement office.

During the development of Tennessee Athletics' comprehensive five-year strategic plan, Rise Glorious—which was published in July of 2022—Briggs served on both the Competitive Excellence and Resources committees. In 2022, Briggs received the inaugural Summitt Excellence Award, named in recognition of Pat Summitt, which recognizes a UTAD employee who best exemplifies Pat Summitt's Definite Dozen, a model for success.

Briggs began working with Tennessee Athletics in 2013 as a graduate intern with event management. Before being promoted to his current role, he served as a business analyst, manager of financial planning and director of business and finance.

A native of Manhattan, Kansas, Briggs earned a bachelor's degree in business management from Southern Illinois University in May 2010. He received the SIU President's Academic Excellence Award as a student-athlete on the Salukis football team. After working in the private sector as a financial analyst, Briggs received a master's degree in business administration and another in sport management from the University of Tennessee.

A resident of the Town of Farragut, Briggs and his wife, Lainey, have two children, Carter and Ava.



DR. DONDE PLOWMAN

UT KNOXVILLE CHANCELLOR

SEVENTH YEAR AS CHANCELLOR AT TENNESSEE
SMU, '74

Donde Plowman has served since 2019 as chancellor of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, the state's flagship land-grant research university. In that time the university has set new records in student retention, alumni giving, state support and research expenditures.

UT has a footprint that spans the entire state, including the main campus in Knoxville, the Space Institute in Tullahoma, and the Institute of Agriculture and its Extension offices in all 95 counties. Plowman oversees a campus budget of $1.9 billion as well as more than 38,000 students, nearly 7,000 staff, and more than 1,800 full-time faculty.

Under five years of Plowman's leadership, the university has doubled its annual research awards, hitting a record $428 million, and greatly expanded innovation and economic development partnerships with companies including AT&T, Eastman and Volkswagen.

Plowman's role as chancellor includes oversight of Tennessee Athletics, an operation generating more than $200 million in annual revenue, to which she has provided decisive and timely leadership. In 2020 she was selected by her peers in the Southeastern Conference to represent the SEC as a member of the NCAA Presidential Forum, and in 2023 she was elected vice president of the SEC Executive Committee. Plowman is known across the country as an advocate for student-athletes by supporting their pursuits on and off the field.

Shortly after her arrival at UT, Plowman created the Division of Student Success to ensure that students receive a wide range of support as they navigate college life. The university saw immediate results in its retention and graduation rates and captured the attention of peers across higher education.

Before becoming chancellor, Plowman served at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln as dean of the College of Business and then executive vice chancellor. She was previously a department head at UT. Plowman is a globally recognized organizational scientist whose scholarship includes the topics of leadership, change management and strategic decision-making.

DR. MATT HARRIS

NORTH CAROLINA '13

Matt Harris is the Boyd Distinguished Associate Professor of Health Economics at Tennessee and the university's Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) to the Southeastern Conference. He came to UT in 2013 and has served as co-FAR since 2020. The role of the FAR is to build bridges between faculty and athletics, supporting a campus environment in which intercollegiate athletics is a vital component of the educational program, and serving as ombudsperson for student-athletes.

Dr. Harris holds a dual appointment in the Department of Economics and the Boyd Center for Business and Economic Research in the Haslam College of Business. The Boyd Center a nonpartisan research hub within the Haslam College of Business. The center conducts research on national and state economic trends for UT, state agencies and public and private organizations. It also analyzes and disseminates data on the demography and economy of Tennessee in conjunction with the Tennessee State Data Center.

Dr. Harris' academic research focuses primarily on health and labor economics, with a particular interest in the effects of the opioid epidemic on labor market and family outcomes. He is a co-editor of the Southern Economic Journal and on the editorial board at Health Economics.

In his work with the Boyd Center, Harris produces the population forecast for the State of Tennessee and conducts research on programs for workforce development, emerging trends in Tennessee's labor market, the economics of public health insurance, long term care options for older Tennesseans and economic impact of child maltreatment in Tennessee.

Harris is the Michael Stahl PEMBA Faculty Research Fellow. He teaches in both the Physicians Executive MBA program and the EMBA for Healthcare Leadership and has served on the UT Faculty Senate since 2018. Harris has also taught economics classes to executive education students internationally in Shanghai and Nur-Sultan, Kazakhstan.

Matt and his wife, Katherine, have three children: Michael, Christopher, and Virginia.

DR. DANIEL J. WHITE

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

SIXTH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
NOTRE DAME '02

Danny White's innovative and forward-thinking approach to the rapidly evolving landscape of intercollegiate athletics primed University of Tennessee Chancellor Donde Plowman to name him Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics on Jan. 21, 2021.

With extensive industry experience, White led remarkable competitive, academic, and service excellence at the University of Central Florida from 2015 to 2021. Before that, White was the Athletic Director at Buffalo from 2012 to 2015.

Since arriving at Rocky Top in 2021, White revitalized Tennessee Athletics, restoring its national prominence and was named the Sports Business Journal Athletic Director of the Year in May 2025.

White's achievements in his department have led to numerous awards. He has been recognized multiple times as a Sports Business Journal 40 Under 40 honoree, made the Orlando Business Journal's 40 Under 40 list, and has been selected several times as one of the 50 Most Powerful People in Orlando by Orlando Magazine. Additionally, he was a finalist for the SBJ Athletics Director of the Year award in both 2018 and 2023.

A native of New Orleans, Louisiana, White was named the NACDA Athletics Director of the Year in the spring of 2019. In 2018, Sports Business Journal recognized him as

Full Name: Dr. Daniel J. White
Born: Oct. 28, 1979
Hometown: New Orleans, La.
Education: Notre Dame, 2002
Wife: Shawn
Children: Aidan, Molly, Caitlin, James

EXPERIENCE:
1998-2000: Towson, Men's Basketball Student-Athlete
2000-02: Notre Dame, Men's Basketball Student-Athlete
2004-05: Ohio, Men's Basketball Director of Operations
2005-06: Ohio, Men's Basketball Assistant Coach
2006-07: Northern Illinois, Assistant AD for Development
2007-09: Fresno State, Associate AD for Development
2009-12: Ole Miss, Senior Associate AD/UMAA Foundation Executive Director
2012-15: Buffalo, Director of Athletics
2015-21: UCF, Vice President & Director of Athletics
2021-pres.: Tennessee, Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics

one of the six most influential people in the sports business, while Orlando Magazine named him the most powerful person in sports in the area.

Rocky Top Revival

Since White's arrival on Rocky Top, Tennessee has consistently excelled in every sport. During the 2024-25 academic year, Tennessee was unique among universities, as its football program competed in the College Football Playoff. Additionally, both the men's and women's basketball teams advanced to the Sweet 16. The men's basketball team also reached the Elite Eight for the second consecutive season, marking the first time in school history that they made back-to-back appearances in the Elite Eight.

For the second year in a row, all 20 of Tennessee's sports teams reached the postseason. This remarkable achievement positioned Tennessee as the only Power Four school in the nation to accomplish this for two straight seasons.

For the first time in school history, Tennessee Athletics achieved its third consecutive top-10 finish in the LEARFIELD Directors' Cup for the 2024-25 academic year. Tennessee ranked sixth in the nation, marking its second-best finish since the Directors' Cup was established in 1993.

The top three finishes for Tennessee in the Directors' Cup have occurred in the last three years. It has continued at a torrid pace since White was named AD. The Big Orange has steadily ascended in the Directors' Cup standings over the last five years since the competition was canceled in 2019-20. Tennessee finished 26th in 2020-21, 13th in 2021-22, sixth in 2022-23 and last year's high-water mark of No. 3.

Before UT's three consecutive top-10 rankings over the previous three years, Tennessee last achieved a top-10 Directors' Cup finish in 2006-07, when it reached a previous-best No. 7.

Five sports finished in the top five nationally, led by softball's national semifinal finish. Overall, 12 UT programs placed in the final top 15 for the 2024-25 academic year.

The success continued in the classroom under White's leadership. The Spring 2025 semester continued a remarkable run of record-breaking academic excellence for Tennessee Athletics, as the student-athlete population achieved a cumulative 3.43 GPA, the highest GPA in UT history for any semester.

The record-setting spring metrics marked the 25th consecutive semester in which the Vols and Lady Vols combined to post a GPA of 3.0 or higher. For the fifth straight semester, every team in every sport had a GPA above 3.0.

The spring semester included a record-high combined GPA of 3.33 for Tennessee's men's sports, including program-best performances achieved by baseball (3.71), men's basketball (3.59), and football (3.25).

Tennessee Athletics' Rise Glorious Strategic Plan features a directive to "honor the foundation of college sports by maximizing the educational journey of each student-athlete and creating championship-level performance expectations academically."

The wave of momentum on Rocky Top reached a historic level in 2023-24. Tennessee Athletics finished its best year ever, as one of only two Power Five schools to send all its teams to the postseason —the first such occurrence in UT history.

The across-the-board success helped Tennessee earn a third-place finish in the LEARFIELD Directors' Cup standings, its best mark ever, and its third straight SEC All-Sports Trophy. Tennessee became the second school to win three consecutive SEC All-Sports titles.

Tennessee never won the SEC All-Sports Trophy before White's arrival.

Eleven sports finished in the top 10, with six in the top five. The banner year concluded with the baseball team winning its first national championship, the 24th team crown in Tennessee history and first since 2009.

In 2023-24, UT also became the first school to win SEC championships in men's basketball, softball, and baseball in the same year. In total, it collected four SEC titles, running its tally to 12 since 2021 after amassing just two in the four years before White's arrival.

Tennessee has reached the postseason in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, baseball, and softball in all four of White's full years at the helm, the only school in the nation to achieve this feat.

Six days after he was named AD at Tennessee, White announced the hiring of Josh Heupel as the Volunteers' 27th head football coach. Heupel had spent the previous three years working alongside White as head coach at UCF, where he compiled an impressive 28-8 (20-5 AAC) record.

In just his second year at Tennessee, Heupel guided the Volunteers to an 8-0 start, 11 wins and an NY6 triumph overClemson at the Capital One Orange Bowl. Heupel's record-setting offense propelled UT to No. 1 status in the first edition of the 2023 CFP rankings. In May 2023, the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame recognized Plowman, White and Heupel collectively as "Tennesseans of the Year."

The football program's emphatic resurgence in 2022 ignited a wick of team success that wove through Tennessee's entire athletic department. A dozen other UT teams followed suit with national top-16 finishes during the 2022-23 season. That comprehensive success led to the Big Orange earning their second consecutive SEC All-Sports Trophy while becoming only the second school to sweep the men's and women's all-sports standings.

Equally as impressive, Tennessee followed up a 13th-place finish in the 2021-22 LEARFIELD Directors' Cup standings with a sixth-place national finish in the 2022-23 Directors' Cup race.

Tennessee's robust improvement in the Directors' Cup standings was noteworthy. Before finishing 13th, UT had not placed in the top 15 nationally since 2006-07.

After the baseball program swept the SEC regular-season and tournament titles in 2022, softball did the same in 2023. UT also became the only school to win a New Year's Six bowl game, advance both its men's and women's basketball teams to the Sweet Sixteen and send both its softball and baseball teams to the College World Series in the same academic year.

Leading The Way Off The Field

Led by a leadership team handpicked by White, the Tennessee Fund reported its third consecutive record year across multiple fundraising metrics in FY25. For the fiscal year that ended on June 30 (FY25), the Tennessee Fund team set records for fundraising total ($169.5M) and annual fund ($72.4M). Since White's arrival, UT has seen a 110 percent growth in fundraising dollars raised, a 117.4 percent growth in the annual fund, and a 42 percent increase in total donors.

Since White launched the My All Campaign in the summer of 2021, the Tennessee Fund has secured commitments totaling over $728 million, far exceeding the campaign's goal of raising $500 million by the summer of 2026.

For the first time in 2024-25, Tennessee became CLC No. 1 school nationally, selling more licensed products than any other school in the country.

White also moved Tennessee's outbound ticket sales efforts in-house, generating more than $26 million in ticket revenue in 2022 and growing the football season ticket base by 17 percent in one year. The following three seasons saw UT sell out all 70,500 season tickets in Neyland Stadium before the start of the summer. The Volunteers now have a season ticket waitlist of nearly 25,000.

Knoxville has again proven why it is America's College Sports City, as evidenced by its success in each of the last two years. Tennessee posted the highest overall attendance of any school in the nation across football, men's, and women's basketball in both the 2023-24 and 2024-25 seasons.

The remarkable success at home included four sports selling out of season ticket inventory – football, men's basketball, softball, and baseball for two consecutive years. It marked the first time in Tennessee's history that four different sports had completely sold out of their season ticket inventory in the same year.

For the third consecutive year, the department eclipsed a program record in revenue generation. The cumulative effect of the initiatives above led Tennessee Athletics to its highest-ever operating revenue of over $234 million in FY24.

The $234 million in total operating revenue was a new high watermark in UT Athletics history, eclipsing last year's record total of just over $202 million.

The historic total was due to impressive levels of self-generated income for Tennessee Athletics. Ticket sales increased over 16 percent from $39.7 million in FY 2023 to $46.6 million in FY 2024. It marked the best year of ticket revenue in Tennessee Athletics history. The top two years of ticket revenue on Rocky Top have occurred over the last two fiscal years.

Contributions soared to new levels for the third straight year, with $72.7 million coming in FY 2024. It marks a staggering 233 percent increase since FY 2021.

White has grown the budget by over $150 million since his arrival on Rocky Top.

One of the top priorities in "Rise Glorious" was to intentionally grow the annual operating budget as part of a relentless commitment to resource all Tennessee Athletics programs and departments at an elite, championship level. UT is already outpacing the 2026-27 goal of a 200+ million-dollar budget.

White has made substantial investments in Tennessee's athletics facilities, including the modernization of two iconic venues: Neyland Stadium and Lindsey Nelson Stadium. The budget for Phase 1 of the Neyland Stadium renovation is $337 million, while the total budget for the Lindsey Nelson Stadium project exceeds $100 million.

White and his leadership team partnered with Pilot, designating it as the presenting partner of the $337 million Neyland Stadium renovation project, which commenced in 2022. Additionally, Pilot became the official travel stop for Tennessee athletics. In 2023, Tennessee secured a 10-year naming rights deal worth $20 million with Food City, which resulted in rebranding the school's long-standing basketball home to Thompson-Boling Arena at Food City Center.

UT is undertaking major renovations and additions to six venues: Neyland Stadium, Lindsey Nelson Stadium, Sherri Parker Lee Stadium, Anderson Training Center, Food City Center and the Neyland Entertainment District.

A former college basketball student-athlete at Towson and Notre Dame, White quickly ascended in the ranks of college athletics leadership. Before his first opportunity as athletics director at Buffalo, he served as senior associate athletics director at Ole Miss from 2009 to 2012. He previously served two years as associate athletics director for development at Fresno State (2007-09) and one as assistant athletics director for development at Northern Illinois (2006-07).

Prior to pivoting to athletics administration, White spent one year as the director of basketball operations and another year as an assistant coach with the Ohio University men's basketball program.

White graduated from Notre Dame in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He earned master's degrees in business administration and sports administration from Ohio University and completed a Ph.D. in higher education leadership from Ole Miss in 2016.

White comes from a family deeply involved in intercollegiate athletics. His father, Kevin, was the longtime vice president and director of athletics at Duke (and previously held that same role at Notre Dame, Arizona State, Tulane, Maine and Loras College). His brother, Michael, is the head men's basketball coach at Georgia. His brother, Brian, is the vice president and director of athletics at Florida Atlantic.

2024-25 REVIEW

2024-25 POSTSEASON NOTEBOOK

HOW WE FARED IN 2024-25

- Facing the 2024-25 campaign with an unranked squad and a dash of skepticism from media members, Kim Caldwell guided the Lady Vols to a 24-10 overall record and 8-8 mark in the SEC.
- Tennessee earned a tie for eighth place during the league's initial season with 16 teams, with Texas and Oklahoma participating in the conference for the first time.
- UT was the No. 9 seed in the SEC Tournament, defeating No. 16 seed Texas A&M before falling to No 8 seed Vanderbilt.
- In the NCAA Tournament, the No. 5 seed Lady Vols advanced to the Sweet 16 in Birmingham, Ala. They blew out No. 12 seed South Florida, 101-66, and upset No. 4 seed Ohio State in Columbus, Ohio, before falling to No. 1 seed Texas in the regional final, 67-59.
- Tennessee finished at No. 15 and 16, respectively, in the final AP and Coaches Polls.

CALDWELL OFF TO NICE START

- Kim Caldwell's 13-0 start last season was the best opening run ever by a coach in her first season leading the Lady Vols.
- Caldwell's total of 24 wins ranked second among first-year Lady Vol head coaches behind only Holly Warlick's 27 in 2012-13.
- In her second season in NCAA Division I, UT's road win over Ohio State in the NCAA Tournament gave Kim Caldwell her 50th "W" at this level.

BIG WINS IN YEAR ONE FOR CALDWELL

- Kim Caldwell's first season at the helm of the UT program included key victories over eventual NCAA champ UConn as well as #15/13 Ohio State, #17/20 Iowa, No. 18/19 Alabama and RV/RV Florida State.
- The win over No. 5 UConn stopped a four-game head-to-head losing streak and gave the Lady Vols their first victory over the Huskies since 2007 in a series that had been dormant until 2020.
- Tennessee picked up its fourth ranked win of the year during the NCAA Second Round over Ohio State, handing the Buckeyes their first home loss all season.
- The win over OSU was UT's first win over a ranked team on the road since the Lady Vols beat No. 13/13 Georgia in Athens, 63-55, on Jan. 23, 2022.
- The victory over the No. 15/13 Buckeyes was only the third road win ever for the Lady Vols during the NCAA Tournament, following a 1996 Mideast Regional Elite Eight triumph at Virginia, 52-46, and a 2016 NCAA Second Round victory at Arizona State, 75-64.

LIGHTING UP THE SCOREBOARD

- Tennessee averaged 86.6 points per game in 2024-25, ranking as the No. 4 total in Lady Vol history and the eighth-best all-time in SEC women's basketball.
- The Big Orange's average ranked third nationally and first in the league last season.
- UT defeated NC Central, 139-59, on Dec. 14, setting SEC and school records for the most points in a game. It ranked as the fifth-most in NCAA history.
- By scoring 101 points in the NCAA First Round vs. South Florida, UT matched the program record of seven (1987-88) for most games scoring 100 points or more in a season.

A RECORD YEAR FOR THREES

- Tennessee set SEC and program records for three-pointers made (343) and attempted (1,054) last season.
- Against N.C. Central on Dec. 14, Tennessee drained 30 three-pointers, setting school, SEC and NCAA records for a game. That total also was higher than the bests for NCAA men's basketball as well as the WNBA and NBA.
- The Lady Vols also attempted 63 threes in that contest, setting UT and SEC records for that as well.
- Samara Spencer's nine three-pointers made vs. NC Central set a school record and tied for fifth-most in SEC history.

MAKING 10 OR MORE TREYS PER GAME

- Tennessee finished second in the NCAA and first in the SEC in three-pointers per game at 10.1.
- UT hit 10 or more three-pointers a program-best 18 times in 2024-25. The previous high was six times.
- Additionally, the Lady Vols were third in the NCAA and first in the SEC with 31.0 treys attempted per contest.

UT'S FIRST-EVER 50-TREY TRIO

- Jewel Spear (77), Samara Spencer (66) and Tess

Samara Spencer dished out 158 assists, tying her for the No. 10 single-season total in Lady Vol history.

Darby (58) gave UT its first-ever trio to hit 50 or more treys each in the same season.
- The last time UT had three or more with 40+ deep balls, Angie Bjorklund (73), Meighan Simmons (63) and Shekinna Stricklen (42) accomplished that feat during the 2010-11 campaign.
- The finger prints of Darby and Spear are all over Tennessee's three-point records, including game, season and career marks.
- Darby (228) and Spear (146) finished fifth and 10th, respectively, on UT's career three-pointers made list.
- Darby (626) and Spear (388) also tied for third and finished ninth, respectively in career threes attempted.
- Spear, meanwhile, tied for fifth on the UT single-season list with 77 threes made last season, while Darby's total of 70 from 2022-23 stands 10th.
- In season attempts, Spear's 203 from 2024-25 and her 185 from 2023-24 stand third and ninth, respectively, in Lady Vol history.
- On the single-game makes list, Spencer is atop it with nine makes (vs. N.C. Central), while Spear's six vs. Texas A&M (1/2/25) and Oklahoma (1/5/25) tie her for 12th.
- For most treys attemped in a game, Darby and Spencer are fifth with 13 each vs. N.C. Central (12/14/25), and Spear is 10th with 12 vs. Samford (11/5/24).
- Spear tied the best single-game three-point percentage of 1.000 with the most makes (6-6) vs. Alabama on March 8, 2024.

THE PRESS TOOK ITS TOLL ON FOES

- Tennessee's press last season forced an eye-popping 30 10-second backcourt violations.
- The Lady Vols forced 754 turnovers (most by the program since 784 in 2007-08) and finished No. 9 nationally and No. 1 in the SEC in TOs forced per game at 22.18.
- Twenty-one of UT's 34 foes committed at least 20 miscues.
- A school-record-tying eight of the Big Orange's foes [N.C. Central (44), Samford (37), Western Carolina (37), Winthrop & Texas A&M2 (32), UT Martin & Oklahoma (31) and Iowa (30)] lost the ball 30+ times last season.
- The 44 miscues by N.C. Central marked only the fifth time in program annals that a team committed 40 or more. The others: Hawaii Pacific (50, 1985-86), Memphis (46, 1998-99), Stetson (42, 1989-90) and Charlotte (40, 1992-93).
- Prior to 2024-25, the last time UT forced 30+ turnovers five times or more during a season was when it did so a program-record eight times in 1997-98.
- The team's 7.91 turnover margin stood sixth in the NCAA and first in the SEC.

UT RACKING UP STEALS AT A HIGH RATE

- Tennessee finished with 385 steals in 34 games in 2024-25 for the 10th highest total in school history.
- The Lady Vols recorded 159 the previous season in 33 contests.
- UT's season total of double-digit steals efforts a year ago came to 18 after it grabbed 15 vs. Ohio State on March 23 in the NCAA Second Round.
- The Lady Vol record for most 10+ steal performances in a season is 35, which occurred in 1997-98. No. 2 is 28 (2007-08, 1988-89, while No. 3 is 26 in 2006-07.

Tess Darby finished No. 2 in games played (146) and No. 5 in three-pointers made on Tennessee's all-time career lists.

COOP WAS QUICK TO TAKE IT AWAY

- Talaysia Cooper ranked No. 8 nationally and No. 1 in the SEC with 105 steals last season.
- That total ranks No. 6 on UT's season list.
- Her 3.09 steals per game rated No. 10 nationally and No. 1 in the league in 2024-25.
- Cooper recorded a career-best nine steals vs. Oklahoma on Jan. 5, 2025, that ranked as the third-highest total ever by a Lady Vols.

SAM DROPPED SOME DIMES

- Samara Spencer finished her lone season at UT with 158 assists and 70 turnovers, ranking No. 32 nationally and fourth in the SEC with a 2.26 assist/TO ratio.
- Spencer's total of 158 dimes tied her for the 10th best season by a Lady Vol with Ariel Massengale (2012-13) and Lea Henry (1981-82).

WORKING THE OFFENSIVE GLASS

- UT finished No. 3 nationally and second in the league in offensive rebounds per contest at 16.9.
- The Lady Vols pulled down 12 or more offensive boards in every game but five (Texas-1, LSU, Ole Miss, Georgia, Vandy-SECT).
- Tennessee grabbed a season-high 33 o-boards vs. UT Martin and had 31 vs. Western Carolina. It also had 24 vs. Winthrop and 23 vs. Florida State and Memphis.
- UT's SEC high for o-boards was 21 vs. Texas A&M and Arkansas.
- The total of 33 offensive rebounds vs. UT Martin was the most since UT had 33 vs. Ga. Tech on Nov. 17, 2013.

- Before 2024-25, the last time the Lady Vols posted 30+ o-boards twice in one season was in 2013-14 vs. Georgia Tech (33, 11/17/13) and vs. Troy (32, 12/14/13).
- The program best for the most 30+ offensive rebound efforts in a year is three, occurring twice. The last time came during the 1991-92 season vs. Penn State (35, 12/28/91), vs. Arkansas (30, 2/29/92) and vs. Kentucky in the SEC Tournament (30, 3/8/92). It also happened in 1985-86 at South Carolina (31, 1/6/86), at North Carolina (33, 1/11/86) and at Kentucky (31, 1/24/86).

POTENT BENCH PRODUCTION

- Tennessee finished No. 5 nationally and second among SEC schools in bench points per game (29.8).
- The Lady Vols got 54 points from their reserves vs. South Florida, 50 vs. UT Martin, 49 vs. N.C. Central and Texas A&M, 45 vs. Winthrop and 40 vs. Samford and Tulsa. They had a 54-3 margin vs. USF, 31-14 at No. 7/7 Texas, 34-6 vs. Auburn, 22-5 vs. Ole Miss, 28-5 vs. Florida, 39-8 vs. Texas A&M and 38-13 vs. No. 15/13 Ohio State in the NCAA Tournament.
- They held USF and Richmond's benches to only three points and Alabama, Ole Miss and Florida to five each.
- The 2023-24 UT team averaged 20.1 points per contest from its bench to rank 101st in the country and fifth among league schools.

ATTENDANCE ON THE RISE

- Tennessee averaged 10,647 in attendance, ranking fifth nationally in 2024-25 for its highest national placement since finishing second in 2017-18.
- It stands as UT's highest average since 2013-14, when the Big Orange drew 11,038 per contest.
- The crowd of 16,215 vs. UConn was the largest home crowd since Feb. 26, 2012, when 18,563 were on hand vs. Florida in the last home game of the legendary Pat Summitt's career.

WINNING 20 GAMES FOR THE 48TH TIME

- Tennessee (24-10) reached the 20-win plateau for the 48th time, dating back to 1974.
- Win number 20 came on Feb. 20, as the No. 15/13 Lady Vols defeated No. 18/19 Alabama in Knoxville, 88-80.
- It marked Tennessee's fifth 20-win season in the past six years, with the 2020-21 total of 17 wins impacted by several COVID-related game cancelations that prevented the Lady Vols from getting to 20.

THE ONLY SCHOOL IN ALL 43

- The Lady Vols made their 43rd consecutive NCAA Tournament, continuing as the only school to appear in every Division I tourney.
- Tennessee was an at-large qualifier for the 2025 NCAA Tournament, finishing in a tie for eighth in the SEC regular season.
- UT earned a No. 5 NCAA seed and drew higher than a four seed for just the sixth time ever.
- The Lady Vols now are 133-35 in NCAA Tournament play, and they rank first in games played (168) and second in victories (133) in NCAA tourney history.
- The Big Orange advanced to its 37th Sweet 16 alltime, which is the most of any team.
- Tennessee is second behind UConn in winning percentage at .792 in NCAA Tourney play.

2025 SEC POSTSEASON HONORS

- Redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper was a member of the Coaches All-SEC Second Team for the first time.
- She also made her debut on the USA TODAY Sports Network All-SEC Second Team.
- Additionally, Cooper was named to the Coaches SEC All-Defensive Team for the initial time.
- Tess Darby became the first Lady Vol to be named to the SEC Women's Basketball Community Service Team three times.

UT ALWAYS STRONG IN THE CLASSROOM

- For the third year in a row, nine or more Lady Vols were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll. A total of 11 off the 15-member 2024-25 squad made the list.
- Making the squad in 2024-25 were returnees Edie Darby, Tess Darby, Sara Puckett, Jewel Spear, Avery Strickland, Destinee Wells and Kaiya Wynn. Picking up acclaim for the first time as Lady Vols were Favor Ayodele, Alyssa Latham, Zee Spearman and Samara Spencer.
- Puckett was chosen for the second time as a member of the College Sports Communicators (CSC) Academic All-District Team.
- The Lady Vols once again earned "Special Mention" status for their collective 3.323 grade point average as part of the WBCA's 2024-25 Academic Team Honor Roll.
- That was an improvement over the 3.301 recorded in 2023-24.

Sara Puckett averaged 6.3 ppg. for her career, made the SEC Academic Honor Roll four times and was named CSC Academic All-District twice.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – The Tennessee women's basketball team eclipsed the century mark in a season opener for just the sixth time in its illustrious history, cruising to a 101-53 victory over Samford in Kim Caldwell's debut as Lady Vol head coach.

With a crowd of 9,515 looking on at Food City Center, five Big Orange players scored in double figures to lead the charge. Junior forward Zee Spearman racked up 15 points in the fourth quarter and finished with a career-high 25 to chart the second-highest total ever by a Lady Vol in her debut game. Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper was next for Tennessee (1-0) with 19, followed by fifth-year guard Jewel Spear with 18, senior guard Samara Spencer with 12 and junior guard Ruby Whitehorn with 10. Spear drained four threes to aid her cause and help the home team card 10 long balls for the game.

Samford (0-1) was paced by four in double figures, with Claire Johnson tossing in 13, Emily Bowman and Kennedy Langham 12 each, and Annie Ramil 11. The Bulldogs, who were held to 35.7 percent field goal percentage and 15 percent (3-20) beyond the arc, committed 37 turnovers that led to 50 Lady Vol points on the night.

SU grabbed early 3-2 and 7-5 edges before the Lady Vols seized the lead for good with a 10-0 run. Cooper fueled the spree, pushing her point total to seven and giving UT a 15-7 advantage heading into the 5:03 media timeout with back-to-back layups. The teams exchanged scores over the final five minutes of the opening stanza, with Whitehorn converting a layup off an inbounds pass from Spencer to send the home team into the second quarter with its largest lead at 26-17.

The Lady Vols opened the second period with an 11-0 surge, extending an active run to 14 to take a 37-17 lead into the 4:58 media timeout on a Spear three. Tennessee stymied the Bulldogs into 0-for-5 shooting to keep the visitors scoreless during that span. Coming out of the timeout, UT tallied the next seven points to extend its scoring streak to 21, building a 44-17 lead on a Whitehorn bucket with 3:47 left in the half. A Spear trey with 21 seconds remaining sent the Big Orange into the intermission leading 49-26.

Tennessee burst out of the locker room with an 8-0 gush that extended a run from the second quarter to 13-0. Cooper was good for six points during that blitz, and a Kaniya Boyd layup forced Samford to take a timeout with 5:58 to go in the frame with UT up by its largest margin, 61-28. Spearman and Spear helped Tennessee end the quarter with a 78-42 lead, as Spearman scored six straight and Spear knocked down a trey before the buzzer sounded.

The fourth quarter was all Spearman, as she accounted for all but eight of the Lady Vols' 23 points in the frame. She finished six of seven from the field, including several layups and a transition three-pointer that pushed the gap to 94-48 with 3:26 left. Her bucket from long range was part of a 19-2 advantage in points off turnovers in the period, with UT grabbing nine steals and forcing 12 Samford miscues.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Tennessee forced an opponent into 30+ turnovers for the second straight game and scored 48 points off those miscues on its way to a 90-50 victory over UT Martin at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (2-0) were led by junior guard Ruby Whitehorn, who produced a double-double by halftime and finished with 18 points and 14 rebounds on the night. She had help on the scoring front from fifth-year guard Jewel Spear with 13, senior forward Sara Puckett with 11 and senior guard Samara Spencer with 10. Whitehorn's work on the boards enabled the Big Orange to finish with a 54 to 28 advantage on the glass, including 33-7 on the offensive end and a 32-5 edge in second-chance points.

The Skyhawks (0-2), who were led by Kenley McCarn with 13 points, committed 31 turnovers on the night, with the Lady Vols posting a 48-11 margin in points off turnovers. Because of those miscues, UTM managed only 45 field goal attempts to Tennessee's 84.

After UT Martin jumped on top early, 2-0, Tennessee countered and seized control. A Puckett jumper, a pair of Alyssa Latham free throws and a layup and three by Tess Darby propelled the Lady Vols to a 9-2 advantage by the 7:51 mark. After a Spear three-pointer just before the 4:56 media timeout and a Darby free throw immediately after it gave UT a 13-7 edge, the home team began to pull away. Puckett contributed six points to a 10-0 run to close the first frame, hitting a layup with 14 seconds remaining to send UT into the second quarter with a 23-9 lead.

Whitehorn came alive at the outset of the second period, tallying six points on a putback, jumper and layup, while Kaniya Boyd added a layup to send the Big Orange into the 4:48 media break with a 31-17 lead. Spear drained a three and then scored a layup on a heads-up pass from Talaysia Cooper to push the gap to 19, 36-17, with 3:41 to go. A Puckett layup and Cooper jumper extended the lead to 21, and Whitehorn's putback with 57 seconds to go gave her a 10-point, 10-rebound double-double for the opening half and sent her squad into the locker with a 42-20 cushion.

Tennessee outscored UTM, 14-7, over the first 5:12 of the third stanza, with Spear and Avery Strickland knocking down three balls and Whitehorn hitting a layup before the 4:48 media timeout to build the Lady Vol lead to 59-27. A Samara Spencer three-pointer and a Whitehorn layup elevated the lead to 66-35 with 1:35 remaining, and free throws by Spencer and Zee Spearman sent the Big Orange into the final frame leading 69-37.

The Lady Vols scored the first five points of the final quarter, getting a pair of free throws from Whitehorn, another from Spencer and a trey from Boyd. Favor Ayodele scored off of a layup before UTM tallied prior to the 8:01 media break to make it 77-40. Tennessee out-dueled the Skyhawks 13-10 the rest of the way, with seven different Lady Vols adding points and Ayodele ending the evening with a tip-in to account for the final score.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – In a battle of undefeated in-state rivals residing just outside the top 25, Tennessee narrowly missed a school record in draining 15 three-pointers to sink Middle Tennessee, 89-75, in front of a crowd of 9,697 at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (3-0) tied two previous performances for second in the school record book with their 15 makes, coming up just short of the 2011 program best of 16 vs. Kentucky on March 6, 2011. They did, however, topple the UT mark for three-point attempts for the second straight game, unleashing 42 tries behind the arc and finishing just five off the SEC record.

Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper paced the Big Orange on the evening, recording her first-ever double-double with 18 points and 10 rebounds on 8-of-16 shooting. She also added four rebounds, four steals and a block to her stat line. Joining her in double figures for points were senior guard Samara Spencer, with 17, followed by fifth-year guard/forward Tess Darby and senior forward Sara Puckett with 14 and 13, respectively.

Middle Tennessee (2-1) was led by guard Courtney Blakely, who fired in a game-high 25 points. She was joined in double figures by Anastasiia Boldyreva, with 18, along Jalynn Gregory and Ta'Mia Scott, who tossed in 13 points apiece.

MTSU jumped out to a 4-0 lead before Spencer got the home team on the scoreboard with a three-pointer with 7:36 to go in the opening stanza. The Blue Raiders, who scored 10 of their first 12 points in the paint, built their lead to seven, 12-5, before a pair of Darby free throws cut the gap to five heading into the 4:38 media timeout. The rest of the period, UT unleashed a 16-6 run, with a trio of Spencer treys and Cooper buckets helping fuel the Big Orange to a 23-18 lead after one. Tennessee tallied 11 points off six MTSU turnovers during that initial 10 minutes.

The teams exchanged buckets early in the second frame before a UT trap forced a Middle Tennessee timeout with the Lady Vols leading, 25-20, with 7:16 to go. Coming out of the break, Tennessee built a 29-23 lead on a Jillian Hollingshead layup and pair of Kaniya Boyd free throws. After the Blue Raiders trimmed the gap to 29-27 at the 5:00 mark, the Lady Vols got consecutive threes from Alyssa Latham, Puckett and Zee Spearman to stretch their advantage to 38-27. Another three by Puckett with 46 seconds left increased the lead to 13, 41-28, before a bucket by Boldyreva sent the teams to the locker room with the Big Orange in front, 41-30.

Tennessee built its biggest lead at 17 twice midway through the third, with Cooper getting layups to push her team up 53-36 (6:56) and 55-38 (6:15). She netted 10 points during that span as her squad took a 55-42 lead into the 4:50 media timeout. Middle Tennessee began to chip away at the gap, cutting the deficit to 10, 60-50, with 2:20 to go and then got a layup with four seconds left to trail 67-57 going into the final quarter.

The Blue Raiders trimmed the margin to eight twice in the early moments of the fourth, including 69-61 with 7:58 to go, but a pair of threes by Darby put the Lady Vols back up by 11, 75-64, forcing MTSU to ask for time with 6:06 remaining. A free throw by Blakely enabled Middle Tennessee to work within nine, 75-66, with 5:51 remaining, but a Cooper driving layup and a corner three by Latham sent the home team into the 4:37 media timeout with an 80-67 advantage. After MTSU netted a pair of free throws after the break, Ruby Whitehorn made it 83-69 with a three at the 3:40 mark and then Darby hit two more of her four final-frame treys with 2:58 and 1:47 remaining, respectively, to put the game on ice.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper fired in a career-high 33 points, propelling Tennessee past Liberty, 109-93, in front of a crowd of 9,109 at Food City Center.

Cooper connected on 12 of 20 field goal attempts, sinking all seven free-throw tries and netting two of four three-point shots to pace the Lady Vols (4-0). She finished a rebound shy of her second straight double-double and added three assists and a pair of steals. Also in double figures for the Big Orange were Ruby Whitehorn, Sara Puckett and Jewel Spear, who tossed in 13, 12 and 10 points, respectively, as their team drained 14 three-pointers on 36.8-percent accuracy.

The Lady Flames (2-2), who are picked to finish second in Conference USA, got 27 points from 6-foot-6 center Bella Smuda as well as 19 from Avery Mills, 11 from Emma Hess and 10 from Emily Howard. LU finished the game at 51.5 percent from the field, including 50 percent (11 of 22) from beyond the three-point arc.

The Lady Vols came out firing on all cylinders, racing to an 8-0 lead by the 7:43 mark. UT connected on 75-percent accuracy over the first five minutes of the game, with Cooper, Puckett, Spear and Zee Darby knocking down threes in a 4-for-5 shooting flurry from beyond the arc to build a 17-3 cushion by the 4:59 media timeout. UT pushed a scoring run to 11-0 with a Jillian Hollingshead layup and upped the gap to 16, 19-3, with 4:54 to go before Liberty began to find its range. Buckets by Cooper and Whitehorn in the final 11 seconds of the period, though, enabled the Big Orange to close out the opening frame with a 34-15 advantage.

Liberty whittled Tennessee's advantage to 15 at 38-23 on a three-pointer by Hess with 8:45 to go in the second stanza before the Lady Vols stretched the lead back to 19 and forced the Lady Flames to take a timeout trailing 42-23 with 7:26 remaining. UT expanded the margin further midway through the second period, getting buckets by Whitehorn, Avery Strickland and Alyssa Latham just before back-to-back three-balls by Spear and Hollingshead made it a 25-point game, 50-25, with five minutes to go. LU kept fighting back, getting a 10-0 run to cut the gap to 60-39 with 1:58 left. A pair of Cooper buckets before the half, though, sent Tennessee into the intermission with a 64-43 edge.

The Lady Vols scored first to open the second half on a Zee Spearman three-pointer to make it 67-43, but Liberty followed a 63-percent second-quarter shooting effort by connecting on 60 percent (6-10) at the outset of the third period to trim the deficit to 12, 69-57, with 5:33 to go and force a UT timeout. The Big Orange responded out of the break, getting pairs of free throws from Kaniya Boyd and Cooper and a three from Cooper to build the lead back to 22, 79-57, with 4:05 remaining. The Lady Flames refused to go away, however, getting a bucket before the buzzer to head to the fourth trailing by 18, 89-71.

The teams exchanged baskets in the first five minutes of the fourth quarter, with a Whitehorn three putting Tennessee back up by 19, 99-80, with 6:18 remaining. Liberty, however, had closed the gap to 15, 99-84, by the 4:43 media timeout. The Lady Flames, who outscored the hosts in the final two quarters by a 50-45 count, whittled the deficit to 12 again at 105-93 with 1:54 to go, but Cooper sank four free throws over the final 1:07 to close out the scoring and keep her squad unbeaten.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – The Lady Vol basketball team posted a program first, hitting 100 points three times during the first five games of a season, as it forced 37 turnovers and raced to a 102-50 victory to close out a November slate of games undefeated.

With a crowd of 9,086 looking on at Food City Center, Tennessee (5-0) followed a 109-point performance vs. Liberty on Nov. 16 and a 101-point showing vs. Samford on Nov. 5 with a third trip over the century mark. The quickest UT had done that before was three times in the first eight contests in 1987-88. It also marked the first back-to-back 100-point games recorded by the Big Orange since the 2017-18 season, when the team won, 104-51, vs. Alabama State on Dec. 3 and, 131-69, vs. Troy on Dec. 6.

Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper led five Lady Vols in double figures with 20 points on 8-of-13 shooting, including 4-for-6 accuracy beyond the three-point arc. That effort came on the heels of a 33-point game vs. Liberty on Nov. 16. Scoring 10+ points along with Cooper were Ruby Whitehorn with 16, Tess Darby with 12 and Zee Spearman and Samara Spencer with 11 each.

Whitehorn and sophomore Alyssa Latham led the Lady Vols on the boards, pulling down seven each, with Whitehorn grabbing five offensive caroms and Latham four to fuel a 31-4 disparity on the o-glass. That edge allowed UT to outscore WCU (5-3) by a 31-4 count in second chance points.

The Catamounts placed only one player in double figures, with Avyonce Carter dropping 18 on the night.

After Western Carolina took a quick 2-0 lead, Tennessee bounced back with consecutive buckets from Zee Spearman, Ruby Whitehorn and Jillian Hollingshead and Spencer to build a 7-2 advantage. The Lady Vols proceeded to carry an 11-6 edge into the 4:43 media timeout courtesy of a Cooper turnaround jumper. UT outscored WCU only 12-8 the rest of the period to take a 23-14 edge into the second frame on the strength of a pair of Cooper threes that ran her personal scoring total to 10 over the opening 10 minutes.

The Big Orange tallied the first four points of the second stanza, getting layups by Whitehorn and Hollingshead to increase the score to 27-14 before forcing the Catamounts to call a timeout after being trapped by a vigorous UT press. The Lady Vols would pour it on from there, going on a 21-6 tear and forcing another Western Carolina timeout with 2:23 left after Darby drained a three-pointer to give her team a 48-20 lead. The teams exchanged buckets the rest of the half, with Tennessee taking a 54-28 margin into the locker room.

UT exploded on an 11-2 run to open the third, with Zee Spearman scoring seven of those points and Whitehorn dropping in a layup on a pass from Darby to make it 65-30 and force another WCU timeout with 5:54 to go in the period. The Lady Vols outscored the Catamounts, 12-9, the rest of the quarter, getting a three-pointer from Darby to close out the frame leading 77-39 after hurrying WCU into 13 turnovers during that stanza.

The Big Orange kicked off the final frame on a 9-3 burst, forcing the final timeout by the visitors after an Avery Strickland corner three and a Darby steal and layup pushed the gap to 86-42 at the 6:30 mark. The Lady Vols racked up some close-range buckets over the remainder of the contest, getting layups from Kaniya Boyd, Ayodele, Whitehorn, Spearman and Latham as well as treys by Whitehorn and Strickland to finish out the game on a 16-8 flourish.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Tennessee women's basketball remained unbeaten, outlasting a talented Florida State squad, 79-77, in a see-saw affair in front of a crowd of 9,529 at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (6-0) used a 13-0 run to build a 20-point second-quarter lead and took an 18-point advantage into the intermission before the Seminoles stormed back via a 13-point run of their own to grab a one-point edge, 53-52, with 3:03 to go in the third period. UT quickly retook the lead and ended up staving off the visitors in the fourth quarter as redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper (12) and junior Zee Spearman (10) combined for all 22 of their team's points in the frame and the Big Orange outworked FSU on the glass, 13-6, including 8-2 on the offensive end.

For the third straight game, Cooper eclipsed 20 points and led Tennessee in scoring, dropping in 22 on 10-of-17 shooting from the field. Spearman finished with 13, followed by senior Samara Spencer with 11.

Florida State (8-2) was led by the nation's leading scorer, Ta'Niya Latson, who fired in 38 points.

The Seminoles struck first on a layup by O'Mariah Gordon before UT seized a 5-2 lead on a Spearman three and a Cooper put-back. After FSU retook the lead, 6-5, the Lady Vols reeled off six straight points on buckets from Sara Puckett, Ruby Whitehorn and Jillian Hollingshead to move ahead 11-6 and force a timeout with 4:43 remaining in the opening stanza. UT built its lead to as many as eight, 21-13, with 2:02 to go before the Seminoles cut the gap to six, 21-15, before the quarter's end.

Tennessee sandwiched threes by Tess Darby and Spencer around a Spencer coast-to-coast layup to open the third quarter by the 4:59 media break. An 11-3 burst pushed the lead to its biggest of the night at 40-25 and required another FSU timeout with 3:23 to go. Another Spear three out of the break and a Spencer layup helped the Big Orange extend the lead to 20, 45-25, with 2:06 remaining before a Seminole layup from Makayla Timpson with 1:22 to go concluded the scoring with the home team in command, 45-27.

Florida State worked itself back into the game quickly at the outset of the third frame. After UT's Cooper hit a jumper to make it 47-27 with 9:48 remaining, the Seminoles reeled off a 13-0 run and a 17-2 burst in all to cut the gap to 49-44 and force a Lady Vol timeout with 5:37 remaining. Hollingshead hit a layup to slow the FSU momentum, but the visitors responded by scoring six straight points to send the teams into the 3:44 media timeout with Tennessee in front by one, 51-50. FSU grabbed its first lead since the early going, 53-52, with 3:03 left, but a Spencer three put her team back in front, 55-53, with 2:41 to go. UT would lead again 57-55, courtesy of a Latham layup, before the Seminoles knotted it up to send the game into the final 10 minutes tied at 57.

Cooper drew first blood in the final stanza on a layup and then hit a jumper, put-back and driving layup to give UT leads of 61-59, 63-59 and 65-61 early on. A Spearman layup with 4:51 to go and a tip-in with 3:58 left gave her team edges of 67-63 and 69-63, respectively. FSU answered at the 3:51 mark on a Latson layup to send teams into the media timeout with UT up 69-65.

UT pushed the lead back to five twice, with a Cooper turnaround jumper in the paint making it 75-50 with 1:54 left on the clock. FSU kept coming, twice knotting the score at 75-75 with 1:16 left and 77-77 with 49 ticks remaining. Spearman, though, answered with a step-back jumper in the paint to give Tennessee a 79-77 lead with 24 seconds to go. A driving layup attempt by Latson just before the buzzer was off the mark, and UT collected the win.

BROOKLYN, N.Y. – Tennessee picked up its first ranked win of the season and improved to 7-0, knocking off No. 17/20 Iowa, 78-68, at the Barclays Center in the Shark Beauty Women's Champions Classic.

The Lady Vols, who only shot 39 percent for the game, rode 53.3-percent fourth-quarter shooting to victory, including three-of-five marksmanship beyond the arc, to outscore the Hawkeyes (8-1), 23-16, in the closing period and hand them their first loss on the season. UT forced UI into seven of its 30 turnovers for the game in the final stanza, generating 12 of the Lady Vols' 42 total points off those miscues in that period.

Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper, who played less than five minutes and had only four points in the first half due to foul trouble, made up for it after halftime. She tallied 19 of her team-high 23 points to fuel the Tennessee attack over the final 20 minutes. Junior guard Ruby Whitehorn chipped in 16 points, while senior guard Samara Spencer and fifth-year guard/forward Tess Darby added 11 each, with Darby nailing two three-pointers in as many tries during the decisive quarter.

Iowa was led by Lucy Olsen with 23 points, while Addison O'Grady produced a double-double of 17 points and 11 rebounds.

Tennessee exploded to an 8-0 start, getting pairs of buckets by Cooper off Iowa turnovers. An Alyssa Latham steal and score for UT's fifth made field goal in as many attempts boosted the lead to 10-2 with 7:23 to go, before the Hawkeyes reeled off eight straight to tie it up at 10-all by the 4:17 media timeout. The Lady Vols pushed back ahead four times the rest of the opening stanza, taking an 18-15 edge with 2:02 left on a Darby layup before UI put together a 7-0 run to close out the first frame.

Iowa extended its run to 10-0 and its lead to 25-18 after the quarter break, but Whitehorn stemmed the tide and cut the gap to 25-21 by nailing a trey with 9:15 to go. A layup and three by Spencer pulled the Lady Vols to within one, 27-26, with 7:50 remaining. A 7-2 Iowa burst, though, propelled the Hawkeyes into the 3:27 media timeout with a 34-28 advantage. Out of that break, Latham hit one of two free throws, and then Whitehorn put together a 6-0 personal run on a jumper and pair of layups to increase her point total to 13 and help her team forge a 35-all tie at the intermission.

Spencer hit a pair of free throws to put her team on the board first in the second half, 37-35, before Iowa equaled it at 37. A 5-0 Hawkeyes burst put them in front, 42-37, with 7:06 to go in the period, but the Lady Vols used threes by Sara Puckett and Darby to fight back to within one, 44-43, by the 4:59 media break. Cooper instigated a 12-8 burst by the Big Orange to close out the third, finishing with nine points in the frame. She gave the Lady Vols a 47-44 lead at the 3:56 mark on a layup and another three-point edge, 55-52, with 25 seconds left to close out the third with an old-fashioned three-point play.

After Iowa had taken a one-point lead in the final frame, a Darby three put Tennessee back on top, 58-56, with 8:29 remaining. Iowa moved ahead 62-59 on a 6-1 surge, though, forcing a UT timeout with 5:52 to go. After Whitehorn tied it up, the Hawkeyes moved in front, 66-62, with 4:38 left on a Kylie Feuerbach layup, but two Cooper jumpers sandwiching a layup by her pushed the Lady Vols in front, 68-67, with 3:04 on the clock. UT closed out the contest on a 10-1 blitz, getting a Darby three to make it 71-67 with 2:25 to go and a pair of Cooper scores to make it 75-68 with 39 ticks on the clock. A free throw by Spencer and two more by Zee Spearman in the final seconds accounted for the final result.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – No. 19/18 Tennessee broke the NCAA single-game record for three-pointers made in game, draining 30 from beyond the arc, and also snapped school and SEC marks for most points in a 139-59 victory over North Carolina Central at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols improved to 8-0, running their home winning streak to eight games dating back to last season. With the eighth win to begin her tenure, UT head coach Kim Caldwell carded the best start by a Big Orange women's skipper in her first season on Rocky Top.

UT rewrote program, SEC and NCAA bests with the 30-trey total. They also topped program and conference bests with 63 attempts from long range. The scoring total surpassed UT's previous peak tally of 133 that was accumulated vs. Puerto Rico-Mayaguez on Nov. 29, 2002, at the San Juan Shootout.

Senior guard Samara Spencer set the tone from three-point range, notching a program record with nine treys on 13 attempts to card a career-high 33 points. She added 10 assists to notch her first double-double as a Lady Vol and the fourth of her career. Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper swished five three-pointers in nine attempts to score 21 points and eclipse 20 or more for the fifth straight game. Fifth-year guard/forward Tess Darby also netted five threes to finish with a season-high 17 points, while junior forward Zee Spearman, junior guard Ruby Whitehorn and senior forward Sara Puckett contributed 15, 13 and 11, respectively.

N.C. Central, which fell to 0-12, was led by Shakiria Foster with 17 points, while Terriana Gray added 10. The Eagles were plagued by 44 turnovers, which ranks as the third-most ever by a Tennessee opponent and the highest total since Memphis committed 46 on Feb. 16, 1999.

The Lady Vols exploded to a quick 10-0 lead, with Spencer and Darby sandwiching threes around a pair of Cooper buckets to force an Eagles timeout with 6:34 remaining. Another 10-0 burst by UT pushed the lead to 20-0 by the 4:21 mark, forcing another timeout after a volley of scores. N.C. Central finally got on the board with 4:05 left in the period, but the Lady Vols outscored the visitors 13-8 the rest of the way to take a commanding 33-10 advantage after one.

Tennessee continued its offensive onslaught in the second stanza, outscoring NCCU, 36-8. It included a 13-0 run at the end of the half, punctuated by back-to-back threes from Spencer to increase her scoring total to 22 for the first half. Her treys also boosted her personal shooting to 6-for-8 from deep, giving her team a 16-for-36 shooting performance beyond the arc for the opening 20 minutes. That effort tied the school record at that point for threes made in a game.

Spencer added her seventh three and a school-recording-setting 17th for her team to open the third period and extended UT's scoring run to 16-0 to make it 72-18 with 9:28 to go. N.C. Central, though, would outscore the Lady Vols, 10-6, to narrow the gap to 78-28 by the 4:55 media timeout. UT responded out of the break with an 8-0 blitz, pushing the lead to 86-28 by the 3:56 mark, as an official review forced a second media timeout. The Big Orange sank six more threes before the end of the period, with Edie Darby, Spearman and Cooper accounting for the final trio of bombs to send their team to the fourth period with a 111-39 cushion via a stanza they won, 42-21.

N.C. Central kept scrapping in the final stanza, limiting the Lady Vols to a 28-20 margin for the tightest period of the game. The Eagles, however, could not cool off a Tennessee squad that shot 60 percent for the quarter and 52.2 percent for the game. The Big Orange was able to take down the previous school and conference point total of 136 when Destinee Wells' trey creased the twine with 1:40 remaining to make it 137-53. Single free throws by Spencer and Alyssa Latham countered three Eagles charity tosses and a late trey to account for the final sum.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. – No. 18/16 Tennessee placed six players in double figures in its first true road game of the season, earning a hard-fought, 90-75 victory over Memphis at FedExForum.

Fifth-year guard Jewel Spear was back in the lineup after a one-game absence due to injury, carding season highs with 18 points, six rebounds and four assists to help her team improve to 9-0. Junior forward Zee Spearman had co-scoring honors and produced her first double-double as a Lady Vol, working the paint with 18 points and a game-high 12 rebounds. Talaysia Cooper added a 12-point, 11-rebound double-double and was joined in the 10-plus scoring club by Tess Darby and Samara Spencer with 12 each, and Ruby Whitehorn with 10.

Tilly Boler tossed in 23 points to pace the Tigers (2-8), while Tanyuel Welch had 16 and Michigan State transfer DeeDee Hagemann poured in 19 in her UM debut. Hagemann, an All-Big Ten selection for the Spartans, was a difference-maker for her new team with 14 points in the first half.

After Memphis got on the scoreboard first, Darby gave the Lady Vols their first lead at 3-2 with 9:18 remaining on a long-range bucket. The Tigers scored back-to-back baskets to grab the lead back, 7-3, before Sara Puckett and Spear evened things at seven with 6:32 to go. After the Tigers reclaimed the lead, a Whitehorn putback pulled her team to within one, 10-9, before UM scored to take a 12-9 edge into the 4:53 media break. Memphis pushed its lead to six, 15-9, at the 4:02 mark before a Kaniya Boyd putback and Darby three drew their team to within one, 15-14, with 3:05 to go. With 51 seconds to go in the frame, Spear tied it up at 19, converting an old-fashioned three-point play. A three-pointer by Whitehorn propelled her team into the lead, 22-19, and UT maintained a 22-21 advantage heading to the second stanza.

Tennessee grabbed its largest lead at 27-23 to open the second quarter on a Spear three and Spearman layup, forcing a Tigers timeout at the 8:46 mark. Memphis came out of the break fired up, reeling off 11 straight points to seize a seven-point lead, 34-27, with 5:45 to go. The Big Orange whittled the lead to two on a Cooper driving layup with 3:35 remaining, but UM pushed the difference back to six, 41-35, with 2:06 to go. The Lady Vols showed resiliency, putting together a seven-point run on a pair of Spearman buckets sandwiching a Spear three to send Tennessee into the intermission with a 42-41 lead.

The Lady Vols put together a 5-0 burst out of the locker room to extend their run to 14-0 bridging the halves and built their largest lead at eight, 49-41, before a foul call review sent the teams into a media timeout with 8:40 remaining. Memphis scored twice out of the break to pull to within four, but Tennessee used a 9-2 run to build a 58-47 gap by the 4:34 media timeout with threes by Spencer and Darby helping create separation. A Spearman layup pushed the lead to 13, 60-47, right out of the break and Darby extended it to 12, 63-51, with a dagger beyond the arc with 2:04 to go. Four straight Spearman free throws lifted her team to a 67-52 advantage with 55 seconds on the clock, and Spear sent her squad to the final frame with 69-54 lead via a layup.

Memphis would not go away, scoring the first eight points of the fourth quarter, cutting the deficit to eight, 69-62, with 8:19 to go. The Lady Vols, though, steadied themselves with a Spencer three to stem the tide. Back-to-back layups by Cooper and Spearman sent the Big Orange into the 4:14 media break with a 79-66 cushion. The Tigers got as close as 10 down the stretch, but Cooper tallied six points over the final four minutes to enable the Big Orange to start out their three-game road trip with a victory.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. – Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper scored 15 of her game-high 24 points in the third quarter, propelling No. 18/16 Tennessee past RV/NR Richmond, 92-67, at the West Palm Beach Classic.

The Lady Volunteers improved to 10-0 on the season, marking the third time during the post-Pat Summitt era and 13th time in program history the team has begun a campaign with 10 straight wins. The Spiders, who are ranked No. 31 in the NCAA's NET rankings, fell to 9-3 after losing their second straight game to a ranked Power Four program.

Cooper, a 6-0 guard, took over in the third stanza, scoring 15 of the Lady Vols' 26 points in the frame after Richmond cut the gap to six just after halftime. She finished 10 of 18 from the field and added five steals in her sixth game this season with 20 or more points.

Also hitting double figures in points for the Big Orange were Ruby Whitehorn with 15 and Samara Spencer with 11, with the Fort Lauderdale native knocking down three of seven tries beyond the arc and dishing a game-best six assists.

Richmond, which trailed 23-21 after one and 47-39 at the half, was led by Rachel Ullstrom with 19 points. Maggie Doogan, Ally Sweeney and Addie Budnik chipped in 14, 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Lady Vols pushed in front early, taking a 5-0 lead with 9:07 to go on a jumper by Spearman and a Tess Darby three. Richmond evened the score at five, 10 and 12, and countered a Kaniya Boyd putback with a Doogan three to take a 15-14 advantage at the 4:46 media break. The Spiders grabbed their biggest lead of the game, 17-14, on an Ullstrom three-pointer with 4:33 remaining and led 19-16 on an Anna Camden layup at the 2:29 mark before UT reeled off five straight to wrestle back the lead, 21-19, on a three by Sara Puckett and a Spearman putback. After UR evened it up at 21, Spencer hit a runner before the buzzer sounded to provide her team a 23-21 lead after one.

UR knotted it up at 23-all out of the quarter break, but Tennessee built its biggest gap at 30-23 on the strength of a Whitehorn jumper off the glass, a Spencer three and an Alyssa Latham layup. UT pushed its lead to nine, 34-25, with 5:49 to go on a pair of Boyd free throws and a Whitehorn turnaround jumper in the paint. A 9-4 spurt via three-balls from Cooper, Spencer and Darby extended the Lady Vol lead to 13, 43-30, and forced the Spiders to ask for time with 3:15 left. UT pushed the gap to 15, 47-32, on a Whitehorn layup with 1:55 remaining, but UR trimmed the deficit to eight with a 7-0 half-ending run to trail the Big Orange, 47-39.

Richmond scored first in the second half, trimming the margin to six, 47-41, on a pair of free throws with 9:35 on the clock. Cooper offered a quick and thorough personal response, scoring 11 points over the next four minutes and putting her team up by 17, 60-43, on a layup with 5:29 to go. The Spiders managed a score before heading into the 4:29 media break trailing 60-45. Another 8-2 burst by the Lady Vols, capped by a Cooper layup, forced UR to call another timeout with UT on top, 68-47, with 2:02 left. Cooper added two more buckets in the final two minutes, finishing with 15 for the period and enabling the Big Orange to take a comfortable 73-50 cushion into the fourth frame.A 7-2 Richmond blitz to start the final quarter elicited a timeout by Tennessee with 8:04 remaining and the Lady Vols in front, 75-57. After some course correction from head coach Kim Caldwell, Tennessee pushed back in front by 20 at 81-61 with 3:38 reading on the board, getting a layup after Cooper found Puckett en route to the bucket. An Edie Darby three-pointer with 20 ticks left gave UT its largest lead of the afternoon, 92-65, before the Spiders scored the game's final points to end the proceedings at 92-67.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. – Senior forward Sara Puckett scored 12 of her season-high 17 points in the second quarter, aiding a 41-11 Big Orange blitz in that period that sent No. 18/16 Tennessee on its way to a 102-61 victory over Tulsa at the West Palm Beach Classic.

Puckett finished seven of 12 from the field, including 3-of-5 marksmanship from long range, and added seven rebounds, two assists and a pair of steals. She knocked down five of seven field goal attempts in the second period, including two three-pointers in three tries, as her team broke open a 22-20 game after the opening period.

Joining Puckett in double figures were Jewel Spear, who fired in 16 via four treys, junior Zee Spearman, who added 15, and redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper and junior Ruby Whitehorn, who chipped in 13 each. Spearman finished one shy of a double-double with a team-high nine boards.

Tulsa, which saw its four-game winning streak snapped, fell to 6-6. The GoldenHurricane got 17 points from Delanie Crawford, 12 from Mady Cartwright and 11 from Jade Clack on the offensive end.

The Lady Vols grabbed a quick 2-0 lead on a pair of free throws from Zee Spearman, but Tulsa was the aggressor early on. The Golden Hurricane built a 9-4 cushion by the 7:45 mark before a three-pointer from Cooper, a layup by Jillian Hollingshead and free throws by Alyssa Latham evened things up at 11-all with 5:58 to go. A pair of buckets by TU, though, sent it into the 4:24 media break with a 15-11 advantage, thanks to a 12-4 differential in points in the paint and 58.3-percent shooting. Tennessee began to whittle away at the deficit, getting a pair of Spear free throws and a Puckett three to retake the lead, 18-17, with 2:27 remaining. A Spearman close-range bank shot and a Cooper putback down the stretch helped their squad close out the opening stanza with a 22-20 edge.

A Cooper jumper in the paint and another from Spearman from the baseline provided the Lady Vols their biggest lead, 26-20, forcing Tulsa to ask for a timeout with 8:31 left in the second quarter. The run continued, reaching 10-0 as Tennessee increased its pressure and held its foes scoreless from the 2:18 mark in the first quarter until 6:39 remaining in the second and upped the score to 30-20. After the Golden Hurricane ended the drought with a bucket, UT scored the next five points and forced another TU timeout with the Big Orange leading 35-22 at the 6:08 mark. The Golden Hurricane scored shortly after the break, but another UT 9-0 burst propelled the Lady Vols to a 20-point lead, 44-24, with 3:08 showing on the clock. The Lady Vols closed out the first 20 minutes by outscoring Tulsa, 19-7, to take a 63-31 at the intermission behind 12 of Puckett's 15 points in the first half.

Tennessee increased its margin by one in the early going of the second half, with Spear's third trey of the game sending the teams into the 4:55 media timeout with the Big Orange on top, 71-38. A Darby three ball ballooned the lead to 37, 78-41, leading to a Tulsa timeout with 1:43 to go in the third. The Golden Hurricane tallied the last four points of the period to make it 78-45, UT, heading into the final 10 minutes.

The Lady Vols rotated in fresh reserves in the final frame, hitting a 40-point lead when Edie Darby drained a three in her third straight game to make it 89-49 with 5:21 remaining. A Cooper jumper in the paint sent the teams into the final media timeout with UT leading, 91-52. A Whitehorn layup and Destinee Wells three elicited Tulsa's final timeout with 2:37 to go and the Big Orange leading 96-54. A Spearman three, a bucket by Avery Strickland and a free throw by Kaniya Boyd helped their squad eclipse 100 points.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – No. 15/13 Tennessee improved to 12-0, shooting a season-high 53 percent from the field to run away from Winthrop, 114-50, in front of a season-best crowd of 11,152 at Food City Center in the Lady Vols' final game before SEC play.

Senior forward Sara Puckett matched her season high of 17 points that she recorded in the previous game vs. Tulsa on Dec. 21 and added a season-best eight rebounds to lead six Lady Vols scoring in double figures. Joining her in double digits were Ruby Whitehorn with 16, Jewel Spear and Kaniya Boyd with 15, Zee Spearman with 14 and Tess Darby with 10. Boyd's point total surpassed her previous career scoring high of six vs. Richmond on Dec. 20, and her four assists equaled her personal best vs. Liberty on Nov. 16 and tied Samara Spencer for team honors vs. the Eagles on Sunday.

Winthrop, which fell to 6-7, featured only one player scoring in double figures. Amourie Porter contributed 14 points to her team's cause, making most of them via an 8-for-8 day at the charity stripe.

The Lady Vols came out sizzling, bolting to an 11-0 lead out of the gate on a three-pointer and paint jumper from Puckett and back-to-back threes from Boyd and Spencer. After Winthrop got on the board via a Leonor Paisana trey at the 5:42 mark, a Darby long ball and Talaysia Cooper putback sent UT into the 4:07 media break with an 18-5 cushion. Another Spencer trey and two more from Spear enabled the Big Orange to finish the first quarter seven of 13 beyond the arc and push the score to 35-13 after one.

After the Eagles notched the first two scores of the second stanza to cut the gap to 35-17 with 9:18 to go, a Jillian Hollingshead old-fashioned three-point play and buckets by Whitehorn and Alyssa Latham lifted Tennessee to a 42-17 lead with 7:10 remaining. Layups by Darby and Cooper and a putback by Latham then propelled the Lady Vols into the 4:53 media timeout with a 48-20 advantage. After a pair of Winthrop free throws by Porter trimmed UT's lead to 26, 48-22, the Big Orange got a layup from Whitehorn, a steal and score from Spear and single free throws from Spencer and Boyd to build the advantage to a game-high 32, 54-22, with 3:12 on the clock. WU managed to hold the home team without a three in the period, but UT nonetheless outscored the visitors 26-19 to possess a 61-32 edge at the intermission.

Tennessee pushed the lead to 34 by the 5:41 mark in the third quarter, getting a steal and layup from Darby and a bucket down low by Spearman before Olivia Wagner's response made it 71-39 and elicited a timeout from the Winthrop coaching staff with 5:20 to go. Spear's three with 5:12 to go extended the gap to a game-best 35 at 74-39, and that's what the score remained until the 4:52 media break. UT increased it to a 37-point cushion through the end of the third, as Whitehorn's layup with 50 ticks left sent the teams into the final 10 minutes with the Lady Vols up, 83-46.

The roll continued into the final frame, as Tennessee put together an 11-2 run to take a 94-48 lead at the 6:26 media timeout, coming on a pair of Spearman layups and another by Spear on the break. Thirteen of 14 Lady Vols who played would etch points in the official scorebook on the afternoon, with the Big Orange closing the game with a 31-4 blitz over the final 10 minutes that included a 17-0 spree from the 8:57 mark until 3:29 remained.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas – No. 15/13 Tennessee opened SEC play at what has been a tough place to win for the program, grabbing a hard-earned 91-78 victory over Texas A&M at Reed Arena.

The Lady Vols (13-0, 1-0 SEC), who had lost in five of their last six trips to College Station, were led by Texan Jewel Spear. The fifth-year guard from The Colony knocked down six of eight attempts beyond the arc to finish with a season-high 20 points. Also in double figures for UT were Talaysia Cooper with 16, Ruby Whitehorn with 15 and Zee Spearman with 14. Samara Spencer dished out eight assists with only one turnover.

The Aggies (7-6, 0-1 SEC) were paced by 20 points from Aicha Coulibaly, while Sahara Jones and Janae Kent added 17 and 10, respectively. A&M fell despite outshooting the Big Orange on the evening, hitting 56 percent from the field to Tennessee's 47.2 percent after making nine of 13 attempts in the fourth quarter for 69.2 percent accuracy.

TAMU jumped on top, 2-0, just 16 seconds into the game on an inbound play, but Spear responded with a three-ball just eight seconds later. With a pair of Tess Darby threes, Tennessee pushed itself in front by three, 9-6, with 8:06 to go. It then reeled off six straight on a layup from Zee Spearman, a putback by Jillian Hollingshead and an Alyssa Latham layup via a dish from Spencer to move ahead 15-8 and force an Aggies timeout with 4:21 remaining. After TAMU scored twice out of the break, the Big Orange used an 8-0 burst on twos by Spencer and Latham and a three by Ruby Whitehorn to move ahead 22-11 by the 1:29 mark. A pair of Aggie scores before the end of the frame sent Tennessee into the second stanza with a 22-15 advantage.

Tennessee gave up the first three points of the next period, but an 8-2 run capped by fastbreak layups from Hollingshead and Latham gave their team its biggest lead of the night at 32-20 and elicited another Aggies timeout with 6:37 to go in the frame. The break did little to slow the Lady Vols, as they put together a six-point spree on layups from Whitehorn, Spear and Kaniya Boyd to increase the gap to 20, 40-20, with 4:18 left. UT outscored Texas A&M, 8-6, the rest of the half, getting a Spear three with two seconds left to take a 48-26 lead into the locker room and finish the period shooting 75 percent with 12-of-16 shooting over that 10-minute span.

A 7-0 run to start the second half pulled Texas A&M within 15, 48-33, forcing the Lady Vols to ask for time with 8:44 remaining in the third period. Tennessee fought back as the going got tough, riding an 8-6 edge into the 4:54 media timeout, with a Hollingshead layup on a dime from Spencer pushing the lead back to 17, 56-39. TAMU continued to tighten its defense and scrap offensively, collecting 11 points at the free throw line to outscore the Lady Vols, 27-19 in the period. The Aggies drew to within nine, 58-49 with 2:23 left, but UT countered and pushed the cushion back to 14 at the end of three, 67-53, on a late Spear three and Spencer free throw.

Texas A&M trimmed the lead to 10 at the 6:45 mark, 74-64 on a Taliyah Parker jumper, but five straight points by Cooper pushed UT back up by 15, 79-64, with 6:23 remaining. A Spear trey, her sixth of the game, made it a 15-point game again with 5:05 to go, 84-69, before the Aggies sent things into the 4:21 media break at 84-71 on a Coulibaly layup. The teams each scored seven points the rest of the way, with Whitehorn hitting five free throws down the stretch to fend off the hosts.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- No. 15/13 Tennessee outscored No. 9/10 Oklahoma, 27-12, in the fourth quarter to nearly erase a 16-point final-frame deficit before falling, 87-86, in front of a season-best crowd of 11,321 at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (13-1, 1-1 SEC), who suffered their first loss of the season, pulled to within one on a Jewel Spear three-pointer with 40 seconds left and used a shot clock violation to get the ball back with just over 10 seconds remaining. The Big Orange got an open look beyond the arc, but a shot attempt with three seconds left on the clock wouldn't go down, and the Sooners (13-2, 1-1 SEC) escaped with a one-point victory.

Spear led all scorers with a season-high 28 points, connecting on 11 of 17 shots from the field, including 6-of-11 accuracy beyond the arc. She was four of four on field goals, nailing three treys in the fourth quarter to contribute 11 points to her team's comeback. Talaysia Cooper and Samara Spencer scored 16 points each, while Ruby Whitehorn tossed in 13.

OU was led by Payton Verhulst, who hit four treys and finished with 16 points.

Tennessee jumped on top 4-0 early on a pair of Cooper transition layups before Oklahoma responded with a 7-0 run to seize a 7-4 lead with 7:35 to go. The Sooners pushed ahead by six, 13-7, at the 5:49 mark before a pair of Whitehorn layups and a free throw pulled the Lady Vols within two, 15-13, with 5:03 to go. An OU bucket by Liz Scott sent the visitors into the 4:36 media timeout leading, 17-13. The Sooners extended their lead by as many as 11, taking a 28-17 lead with 1:17 to go, but UT trimmed the gap to 28-22 by the end of the period.

Spear struck for three buckets early in the second quarter to help draw her team within three, 34-31, with 6:12 remaining. OU, however, would outscore UT, 4-2, over the next minute to carry a 38-33 advantage into the 4:57 media break. The Sooners scored two more buckets after the timeout, boosting their lead back to nine, 44-35, with 2:46 to go. UT reeled Oklahoma back to within five, 44-39, with 15 seconds left, but Nevaeh Tot sank a pair of free throws to send the Sooners into the intermission with a 46-39 edge.

A Zee Spearman turnaround jumper just after halftime drew Tennessee to within five, 46-41, and a Spencer layup, followed by a free throw cut it to four, 48-44, with 8:10 to go. Oklahoma, however, continued to hit shots and began to pull away, utilizing a 15-3 run to build its lead to 63-47 entering the 4:52 media break and later to 19 by the 3:49 mark. The Lady Vols scrapped back, though, narrowing the deficit to 11, 70-59, with 1:31 left. OU, though, would have the last word, hitting the final five points of the frame to lead by 16, 75-59, after three.

Tennessee showed resilience and battled back in the fourth stanza, cutting the gap to 10 twice, first 80-70 on a Sara Puckett three with 6:16 to go and then on a Samara Spencer corner three, making it 83-73 heading into the final media timeout with 4:54 remaining. The Lady Vols weren't finished, outscoring Oklahoma 13-4 down the stretch with a Spear layup cutting it to eight and then back-to-back threes by the fifth-year guard whittling the gap to four, 85-81, with 1:22 left. Then, a Cooper steal and layup made it a two-point game, 85-83 with 1:05 remaining. After a pair of free throws by Verhulst gave OU an 87-83 advantage with 56 ticks on the clock, Spear found the bottom of the net with a trey at the 40-second mark to make it a one-point game, 87-86. After getting the ball back via a shot clock violation with 10 seconds remaining, a last-second Lady Vol three-point attempt was just off the mark.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Facing its second top-10 opponent in five days, No. 16/15 Tennessee overcame an 18-point second-quarter deficit and pushed unbeaten No. 6/4 LSU to the brink before falling, 89-87, at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (13-2, 1-2 SEC) took two-point leads twice over the last four minutes and tied the game three times inside the final three minutes, including 87-all with 32 ticks left on the clock. LSU's Kailyn Gilbert hit an acrobatic shot with a second remaining, however, to put her team back on top. After a timeout to advance the ball and a lob on the inbound play, a desperation attempt from the paint by UT with one second left wouldn't fall, allowing the Tigers to improve to 18-0 overall and 3-0 in league play.

Tennessee, which suffered a one-point loss to No. 9/10 Oklahoma on Sunday and has lost its last two contests by a combined three points, was led by a pair of players with 20-point nights. Fifth-year guard Jewel Spear was seven of 11 from the floor and drained five of seven attempts from beyond the arc to lead all scorers with 25 points. Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper was right behind her with 24.

The Tigers also had four players in double figures, led by a 23-point, 21 rebound double-double from Aneesah Morrow.

After LSU got on the board first, Sara Puckett drained a three-pointer to put her team on top 3-2 with 9:29 to go in the first quarter. A Cooper baseline jumper knotted the score at five with 7:26 left and drew Tennessee to within one, 8-7, at the 7:06 mark before the Tigers used a 4-1 burst to take a 12-8 edge into the 4:19 media timeout. LSU built an 18-8 cushion by the 3:02 mark before UT cut the gap to 18-13 with 2:02 to go. The Tigers clawed right back, stretching their lead to as many as 13 with 42 seconds left before a Spear pulled her team to within 10, 26-16, at the end of one.

LSU used a 9-2 blitz to open up a 37-19 lead with 6:32 to go in the second stanza, but the Lady Vols responded to trim the deficit to 12, at 37-25, by the 4:49 media timeout. A pair of Spear threes after the break extended UT's run to 12 and whittled the gap to six, 37-31, with 4:20 to go. After the Tigers responded with a pair of free throws, UT pulled to within five, 40-35, with 2:53 remaining. After a pair of LSU scores, Tennessee drew within five again at 44-39 before an LSU bucket by the visitors earned a 46-39 halftime advantage.

The Lady Vols cut the deficit to three, 46-43, with 8:41 left, forcing LSU to ask for time. An intentional foul by Morrow put Spear at the line for two, and she sank both to pull her team within one, 46-45, with 7:59 remaining. LSU eased ahead, 52-45, but a pair of buckets cut it to 54-49 with 5:29 to go. Another 6-0 spurt by the Tigers put them up 11 with 3:45 to go, but the Lady Vols would not go away. A Cooper runner, Kaniya Boyd three and a Whitehorn layup forced another LSU timeout with their team leading, 62-56, with 2:37 left. Tennessee got as close as 62-60 with 44 seconds before LSU carried a 67-62 lead into the final frame.

The Lady Vols cut the margin to two, 67-65, with 9:41 remaining. After LSU built its lead back to six, 72-66, with 8:13 to go, Tennessee reeled the Tigers back in once again to make it a one-point LSU lead, 72-71, with 7:19 to go. From then on, it was a back-and-forth affair, with the Big Orange tying the contest at 74 with 6:29 to go and taking a 77-76 lead with 5:32 to go. A trey by Cooper gave her team an 82-80 edge with 3:43 to go and a Spearman layup put UT up 84-82 with 2:17 on the clock. Each time, LSU had a response, including a fast break layup by Williams that lifted her team to an 87-84 lead with 50 seconds remaining. After Spear evened the score at 87 with 32 seconds left, Gilbert's heroics with one second left enabled her team to escape with the win.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. – Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper led four players in double figures with her eighth 20-point effort of the season, as No. 16/15 Tennessee rolled past Arkansas, 93-63, at Bud Walton Arena.

Cooper scored exactly 20 points vs. the Razorbacks on 7-of-14 shooting from the field and added a game-high four steals to lead the Lady Vols (14-2, 2-2 SEC). Junior forward Zee Spearman knocked down a career-best trio of three-pointers to tally 18 points and eight rebounds, while junior guard Ruby Whitehorn supplied 17 points and senior forward Sara Puckett was a rebound shy of a double-double with 11 points and nine boards. In her return to Fayetteville, where she spent her first three college seasons, senior point guard Samara Spencer directed UT's offense with eight assists and no turnovers while adding four rebounds and three steals.

Arkansas (8-11, 1-3 SEC) was paced by Izzy Higginbottom, who led all scorers with 26 points. Carly Keats was the only other Razorback scoring in double figures, tossing in10.

Spearman got the Lady Vols on the scoreboard first, nailing a three-pointer from the left corner to put her team up 3-0 just 26 seconds into the contest. Arkansas pushed back, building a three-point lead at 9-6 with 7:53 to go on an old fashioned three-point play by Higginbottom. UT, though, would use a 10-2 surge on a pair of buckets by Whitehorn, a put-back by Cooper and a steal and layup by Kaniya Boyd to build a 16-11 lead by the 4:43 media timeout. Cooper struck again, knocking down a trey with 3:22 to go to provide Tennessee its largest lead, at 19-12, and a three by Puckett at the 1:51 mark ended the scoring in the first frame with a 22-16 Big Orange advantage.

Spencer began the second stanza for the Lady Vols with a three-ball at the 9:04 mark, and Puckett followed suit with a deep-ball with 8:37 remaining to make it 28-18 for the visitors. A Cooper steal and layup and a Puckett free throw ballooned the UT lead to 31-18 with 6:16 to go. Arkansas would not go quietly, tallying the next six points to cut the deficit to 31-24 by the 3:49 media timeout. The Razorbacks extended a mini run to eight, trimming the gap to 31-26 with 3:49 remaining, but an 11-2 burst by the Lady Vols expanded the advantage to 14, 42-28, at the 1:52 mark, with a trio of free throws by Jewel Spear and steals and layups by Whitehorn and Alyssa Latham forcing an Arkansas timeout. A Cooper layup and a Spear three-pointer helped the Big Orange carry a 47-33 lead into the intermission.

A quick four points by Cooper, a put-back by Whitehorn and a three-pointer from Tess Darby expanded the lead to 19 points at the 7:41 mark of the third period, forcing Arkansas to ask for time. Tennessee continued to hit its stride, getting a pair of Cooper charity tosses, a Spearman layup, another Darby trey and a Jillian Hollingshead layup to grow the gap to 24 by the 3:46 media break. UT closed out the frame with an 8-6 differential, with Spearman netting a three, pair of layups and a free throw to account for all of UT's scoring and send the Lady Vols into the final stanza with a 73-47 cushion.

Tennessee carried a 78-52 lead into the 5:28 media timeout in the fourth quarter, getting a Cooper jumper and free throw and a Spearman layup. UT continued to pour it on, using a 9-3 burst to force a UA timeout with 3:34 remaining after a trey and-one by Hollingshead, a layup by Puckett and the third three-pointer from Spearman to make it 87-55. Head coach Kim Caldwell subsequently cleared the bench, and her squad closed out at 30-point road win.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – No. 15 Tennessee shot 46 percent from beyond the arc, connecting on an efficient 12 of 26 attempts, to hand Mississippi State an 86-73 setback at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols were eight of 15 from three-point land in the first half and hit four more over the second 20 minutes. The percentage for the game was their second best of the season.

Junior guard Ruby Whitehorn connected on eight of 16 shots from the field, including two of five tries from three-point range, to lead Tennessee (15-2, 3-2 SEC) with a season-high 20 points. Senior point guard Samara Spencer hit four treys to finish with 18 points, while redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper added a 16-point, 10-rebound double-double and fifth-year guard Jewel Spear tossed in 13 on 4-of-6 marksmanship from long range.

The Bulldogs (15-4, 2-3 SEC) placed three players in double figures, led by 17 points from Jerkaila Jordan. Debreasha Powe and Destiney McPhaul chipped in with 16 and 11, respectively, as MSU fell to UT for the fourth time in the past five meetings.

Back-to-back buckets by Whitehorn and Zee Spearman staked Tennessee to an early 4-0 lead, but Mississippi State scored the next nine to grab a 9-4 lead by the 5:07 mark. Whitehorn evened things up by the 3:53 media timeout, though, hitting a jumper and netting a three-pointer to tally seven early points. MSU built its lead back to four twice, including 15-11 with 1:49 remaining, but the Lady Vols got consecutive treys from Spear and Spencer to end the first frame with a 17-15 edge.

Powe knocked down a three to open the second stanza and put State up by one, 18-17, with 8:55 to go, but the Big Orange got a Whitehorn jumper, Tess Darby three, Jillian Hollingshead free throw and Cooper jumper to compile an 8-2 burst and grab a 25-20 lead by the 4:45 media break. The Bulldogs whittled the gap down to two on four separate occasions, most recently at 34-32 with 1:21 left in the half. The Lady Vols responded, though, putting together a 9-2 run on the strength of a three-pointer by Spear off a steal from Cooper and two more deep-balls from Spencer to seize a 43-34 cushion at the intermission.

A Spear trey just after halftime boosted the Lady Vols to a game-best 12-point lead at 46-34, but Mississippi State kept scrapping and sliced the margin to five twice, including 48-43 at the 7:02 mark. A pair of Spencer free throws and another by Spearman pushed the gap back to eight, 51-43, by the 5:00 media timeout. With a Darby trey and a pair of Spencer free throws just after that break, Tennessee extended its lead to 13, 56-43, with 4:18 to go, but State got it back to 10, 60-50, on a McPhaul jumper with 2:39 remaining in the third. MSU then worked to within six, 60-54, with 1:45 left, but a pair of Cooper layups enabled Tennessee to take a 64-56 advantage into the final quarter.

UT twice opened up 15-point leads in the fourth frame, including 71-56 on a three-pointer by Spencer at the 7:54 mark and 73-58 via a jumper by Spencer with 7:26 remaining. MSU continued to battle, cutting the margin to nine at 73-64 with 5:49 to go and again at 75-66 by the 4:41 media timeout. The Bulldogs kept the pressure on, working to within seven, 78-71, on a Powe three-pointer with 3:07 remaining. The Lady Vols, however, didn't let it get any closer. They finished the proceedings on an 8-2 blitz via a Spearman layup, three combined free throws by Spear and Whitehorn and a three from Spear that accounted for the final score.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – No. 15 Tennessee erased a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit and seized a five-point lead with just over two minutes remaining before falling to Vanderbilt at Memorial Gymnasium, 71-70, on a last-second shot.

Mikayla Blakes' tip-in with just under a second left gave the Commodores (15-4, 2-3 SEC) the win after the Lady Vols' valiant comeback and ended an eight-game Big Orange winning streak in the series. UT fell to 15-3 overall and 3-3 in the SEC on the season.

Tennessee was led in scoring by redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper, who fired in 22 points. She was joined in double figures by junior forward Zee Spearman with 11 points and 11 rebounds, while fifth-year guard Jewel Spear and senior guard Samara Spencer tossed in 10 each. Spencer also dished out a game-high six assists.

Vanderbilt placed three players in double figures, led by 23 points from Mikayla Blakes. She had scoring help from Khamil Pierre and Iyana Moore with 21 and 17, respectively.

Vanderbilt pushed out to an early 6-0 lead on three-pointers by Moore and Blakes before Tess Darby got the Big Orange on the scoreboard at the 8:10 mark with a trey. A Cooper steal and layup and a driving layup by Cooper pulled Tennessee to within two, 9-7, with 6:45 to go. A Spear layup kept UT close at 11-9, and a pair of Ruby Whitehorn free throws trimmed the gap to two again at 13-11 by the 4:47 media break. UT outscored VU 10-8 the rest of the period, with back-to-back Cooper three-balls giving UT its first lead at 21-19 with 38 seconds to go before a Jordyn Oliver driving layup evened the score at 21 to close out the first frame.

An Alyssa Latham free throw and two more by Spencer gave Tennessee its biggest lead at 24-21 with 8:24 to go. Vanderbilt reeled off seven straight points to claim a four-point edge, 28-24, with six minutes left, but Spearman ran the floor and snared a Spencer bullet pass for a transition layup to cut the deficit to two, 28-26, by the 3:47 media timeout. The Commodores, though, answered by closing out the half on a 9-0 run to take a 37-26 lead into the locker room.

Tennessee struck quickly after halftime, scoring four points on a jumper by Cooper and a layup by Whitehorn to trim the deficit to 37-30 by the 8:57 mark. Two more Cooper jumpers and the Lady Vols had cut the gap to five, 39-34, with 7:08 remaining. After Vandy responded with a Blakes layup, Spearman hit one of two free-throw attempts to send her team into the 5:10 media break trailing by six, 41-35. After Vandy extended its lead to 10, 47-37, by the 3:02 mark, a Darby three and layup sliced the gap to five, 47-42, forcing the home team to ask for time with 2:25 to go. A Cooper jumper off the glass drew UT to within four, 48-44, with 1:45 left, but six Vandy free throws over the final minute-plus enabled it to take a 54-45 cushion into the final stanza.

Jumpers by Whitehorn and Cooper cut the Vandy lead to six, 55-49, with 8:23 remaining. After Moore hit a layup, a Spencer layup and back-to-back threes by Spear knotted the game at 57-all with 5:29 left on the clock. VU's Madison Greene countered with jumper to make it 59-57, but Tennessee answered with a layup by Spearman, an old-fashioned three-point player by Spencer and a pair of Spear free throws to build a five-point advantage, 64-59, with 2:55 to go. With 2:05 remaining, Spearman knocked down a pair of charity tosses to bump the lead back to five, 66-61, but the Commodores scored the next four points on buckets by Moore to make it 66-65 Lady Vols. A layup by Cooper built the gap back to three, 68-65, with 45 seconds remaining, but Vandy grabbed the lead, 69-68, with 31 seconds left after a pair of Blakes and Pierre free throws. Whitehorn hit a huge shot for the Lady Vols with four seconds left to make it 70-69 via a dish from Cooper, but Blakes delivered the game-winner for the home team.

AUSTIN, Texas – No. 17/17 Tennessee gave No. 7/7 Texas all it could handle at the Moody Center, but the Longhorns scored the game's last four points and escaped with an 80-76 victory in Southeastern Conference play.

Junior guard Ruby Whitehorn's runner helped the Big Orange (15-4, 3-4 SEC) tie the game at 76 with 44 seconds to go, but Texas (19-2, 5-1 SEC) grabbed the lead on a Madison Booker jump shot with 27 seconds remaining and clinched the contest with a pair of free throws by Rori Harmon with three seconds left.

Tennessee was led by Whitehorn, who fired in a season-high 21 points on 8-of-12 shooting from the field. Junior forward Zee Spearman was the only other Lady Vol in double figures, chipping in 14 on 5-of-8 shooting. UT's coaching staff was directed by assistant coach Jenna Burdette, who served as acting head coach with Kim Caldwell not making the trip after giving birth to a son, Conor Scott Caldwell.

The Longhorns had four players hit double digits in points, with Booker and Taylor Jones setting the tone with 26 and 21, respectively. Aaliyah Moore and Jordan Lee chipped in 11 and 10, respectively.

Tennessee was the aggressor early, shooting 56 percent and racking up three steals and forcing Texas into five turnovers to grab a quick 5-0 start and notch leads of six, at 10-4, and 12-6 before the 4:09 media timeout behind seven points from Whitehorn. The Longhorns cut the gap to one, 14-13, with 3:50 to go and 16-15 with 1:38 left, but the Lady Vols got layups by Jewel Spear and Talaysia Cooper in the final 54 seconds to claim a 22-20 edge after one.

Texas rang up the first six points of the second stanza to build a 26-22 lead by the 8:36 mark, but Tennessee got a free throw from Kaniya Boyd and a layup from Spearman to trim the margin to 26-25 before calling a timeout with 7:56 remaining. The Lady Vols surged back in front, 27-26, on a Whitehorn jumper and 30-28 on a Spearman three-pointer and stretched their lead to six again, 38-32, by the 4:25 mark on a free throw by Boyd and consecutive triples from Tess Darby and Sara Puckett. The Longhorns, though, used an 8-0 run to wrestle back the lead, 40-38, with 1:40 on the clock, and Spearman evened it at 40 with 1:26 to go before the home team tallied the last five points to take a 45-40 advantage into the locker room.

The Big Orange came out of the intermission scrapping, getting a pair of Whitehorn jumpers, a Spear floater, a Cooper free throw and an Alyssa Latham corner three to seize back the lead, 50-47, with 6:28 left in the third. The teams traded buckets until a Spearman layup sent her team into the 3:37 media break trailing by one, 55-54. A Hollingshead free throw right after the timeout evened things up at 55, but Texas responded by building a 59-54 gap with 1:27 to go. A Samara Spencer deep ball, though, propelled her squad back into the front, 61-60, before a Jones jumper sent the Burnt Orange squad into the final frame with a 62-61 edge.

Texas pushed ahead by five, 66-61, to open the fourth quarter, but the Lady Vols would not go away. A Latham trey, a pair of Whitehorn free throws and a Whitehorn jumper flipped the script with a 7-0 run and moved Tennessee up by two, 68-66, with 5:26 remaining. Texas countered on a Jones jumper, sending the teams into the 4:37 media timeout deadlocked at 68. A Cooper fast break layup lifted her team back on top, 70-68, with 4:22 left, and then Hollingshead sank a pair of free throws with 2:06 on the clock to put her team up, 72-70, and force a Longhorn timeout. Whitehorn tied the game up twice more at 74-74 on a pair of free throws with 1:16 to go and 76-76 with her runner at the 44-second mark, but Texas answered and closed out the narrow victory

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – No. 18/17 Tennessee held No. 2/2 South Carolina to one of its lowest point totals of the season, but the Gamecocks held off a fourth quarter Lady Vol charge to stay unbeaten in SEC play with a 70-63 victory in front of a season-high crowd of 12,033 at Food City Center.

UT (15-5, 3-5 SEC) outscored USC, 24-13, in the final quarter and trimmed a 22-point deficit to six but could not overcome the Gamecocks (20-1, 8-0 SEC), who won their 55th straight SEC regular season contest. The Lady Vols suffered through their toughest shooting night of the season at 30.7 percent but held a unit averaging 81.9 points per game to 70 on the evening for the fifth lowest sum of the campaign. In Kim Caldwell's return to the sideline after missing the Texas game due to the birth of her first child, her squad also won the battle on the boards, 49-40, including an 18-7 margin on the offensive end.

For the second consecutive game, junior guard Ruby Whitehorn paced the Tennessee offensive attack, finishing with 12 points and adding five rebounds, three steals, two assists and a pair of blocks. Redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper also was in double figures with 11, pulling down eight boards as well.

Joyce Edwards fired in 18 points to lead five South Carolina players in double digits. MiLaysia Fulwiley contributed 11 points, while Chloe Kitts, Te-Hina Paopao and Raven Johnson chipped in 10 each.

The Lady Vols set the tone early, grabbing a 4-0 lead on jumpers by Cooper and Whitehorn and then led 6-2 at the 6:45 mark on a pair of Whitehorn free throws and 9-5 by the 4:55 media timeout on a Samara Spencer three-pointer. Tennessee capped a 9-0 run by scoring the next six points out of the break on a pair of scores from Spencer and a layup from Whitehorn to build a game-high nine-point lead, 14-5, with 2:48 to go. The Gamecocks responded with a run of their own, reeling off eight straight to trim the margin to one, 14-13, on a Maddy McDaniel layup before the end of the quarter.

UT pushed its advantage back to three on three different occasions early in the second stanza, going up 16-13 on a pair of Whitehorn free throws, 18-15 on a Cooper put-back and 20-17 on a Cooper jumper with 6:50 to go. South Carolina, though, countered with a 7-0 spree, capped by a Fulwiley fast break layup, to seize a 24-20 lead and force a Big Orange timeout with 4:46 remaining in the first half. The Gamecocks continued their spree, reaching 14 straight before a Jillian Hollingshead free throw with 2:14 remaining left her team trailing the visitors, 31-21. A Cooper three and fast break layup enabled Tennessee to whittle the gap to nine, 35-26, before the intermission.

South Carolina used a 10-2 burst out of the locker room to build a 45-28 gap by the 7:11 mark and took a 48-32 advantage into the 4:57 media timeout. Zee Spearman tallied five and Kaniya Boyd added a bucket over the final five minutes, but the Gamecocks maintained a 57-39 cushion heading to the final frame.

After South Carolina pushed the gap to 22, 61-39, with 9:05 remaining in the game, the Lady Vols began to methodically chip away at the lead. A pair of Spencer free throws, layups by Alyssa Latham and Tess Darby and back-to-back layups by Boyd forced the Gamecocks to ask for time with Tennessee within 14, 63-49, with 5:58 left. Back-to-back layups by Whitehorn got Tennessee to within nine by the 1:18 mark, 69-60, and a three-pointer from Jewel Spear drew the Lady Vols to within six, 69-63, with 14 ticks left on the clock, but the home team ran out of time.

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper fired in 27 points, as No. 18/19 Tennessee held off Missouri afternoon at Mizzou Arena, 76-71.

Cooper scored 14 in the first quarter and 10 in the third frame to help the Lady Vols overcome a slow start and 12-point first quarter deficit to improve to 16-5 overall and 4-5 in SEC play. The 6-foot guard also joined senior forward Sara Puckett with a team-leading seven rebounds and had a squad-best six steals, four assists and three blocks. Cooper received scoring help from junior forward Zee Spearman, who contributed 13.

The Tigers (12-12, 1-8 SEC) were led by 18 points from De'Mylia Brown, while Grace Slaughter added 16, Ashton Judd 13 and Laniah Randle a double-double with 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Missouri grabbed a 7-0 lead in the early going, hitting its first three shots and a free throw to force a Lady Vol timeout with 7:33 to go in the opening stanza. UT finally got on the scoreboard with a pair of Spearman free throws at the 7:10 mark, but the Tigers built a 15-3 lead by the 4:50 mark while UT began the game on an 0-for-9 drought from the field. Ruby Whitehorn finally broke the ice from the floor with a layup with 4:40 to go and then Cooper took over, scoring 13 of her 14 first-frame points over the rest of the period to reel MU in. A pair of Jillian Hollingshead free throws with 15 seconds left drew the Big Orange within two, 22-20, by the end of the period.

The teams exchanged buckets in the early stages of the second stanza with a Whitehorn trey evening things at 25 before the Tigers responded with four points by the 4:49 media break to make it 29-25. Tennessee used a 5-0 burst via a Hollingshead put-back, a pair of Spearman charity tosses and another from Hollingshead to grab its first lead, 30-29, with 2:56 remaining. It then went up two on a Tess Darby three with 2:03 to go before the home team knotted things up at 33 before the teams headed into the intermission.

The Tigers used a 4-0 push to move ahead, 37-33, with 9:11 to go in third, but Tennessee stormed back on a 9-2 run, capped by a Spearman layup and Cooper steal and score, to seize a 42-39 lead and force a Missouri timeout with 6:26 to go. An Alyssa Latham baseline jumper gave UT its biggest lead, 44-39, at the 5:31 mark, but Mizzou responded with a Randle second-chance bucket before the teams headed to the 4:41 media timeout. The Tigers would deadlock things at 50 with 2:12 to go on a Judd layup, but a Samara Spencer layup, Cooper three and put-back, and a Kaniya Boyd layup handed the Lady Vols their largest lead, 59-50, with 1:07 on the clock. Slaughter, though, was able to hit a layup with 19 seconds left, cutting UT's lead to seven, 59-52, after three.

Tennessee punched its way to a 65-59 lead with 6:24 remaining in the game on consecutive threes by Jewel Spear, and it then got an old-fashioned three-point play from Cooper and another charity toss from Spencer to carve out a 10-point advantage with 5:57 on the lock. Missouri, though, clawed its way to within five, 69-64, by the 5:25 media timeout. The Lady Vols moved ahead by nine, 74-65, with 2:36 to go on a pair of Spearman free throws and another from Spencer, but whittled the deficit to three, 74-71, after Slaughter scored on a layup with 56 ticks on the clock. The Tigers, however, got no closer, as Jewel Spear's free throws with 16 seconds left accounted for the final score.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.– After coming oh-so-close to netting victories over four top-10 teams this season, No. 19/17 Tennessee finally broke through in a big way, outlasting No. 5/5 UConn, 80-76, in front of 16,215 at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (17-5, 4-5 SEC) snapped a four-game skid to the Huskies and defeated the perennial power for the first time since 2007 in series that was idle but resumed in 2020. UT head coach Kim Caldwell, meanwhile, emerged victorious in her debut in the series and claimed a hard-earned signature win.

Junior forward Zee Spearman tallied a team-high 16 points on 6-of-9 shooting and hit a layup on a dish from Talaysia Cooper with 12 seconds left to all but clinch the win. Senior guard Samara Spencer tossed in 14 points, while fifth-year guard Jewel Spear added 12 points and Cooper contributed 11 points and team-best eight rebounds and four assists. Cooper helped the Lady Vols out-rebound their foes by 12, 46-34, including 17-13 on the offensive glass.

UConn, which fell to 21-3, was led by 18 points from Sarah Strong.

Tennessee quickly jumped ahead 4-0, but UConn responded with a 5-0 burst to move in front, 5-4, with 8:00 to go. UT seized another four-point lead, 9-5, at the 6:23 mark on buckets by Sara Puckett and Jillian Hollingshead and used a Spearman jumper to carry a 12-11 advantage into the 4:26 media timeout. After UConn grabbed a 13-12 lead, Spencer put her team back in front, 15-13, on a long three-pointer. The Huskies responded with six straight points to seize a 19-15 advantage before Spear hit a layup to cut the gap to 19-17 by quarters end.

Tennessee knotted the score at 19-all and 22-22, respectively, before UConn snared a 26-22 cushion at the 6:54 mark. A Spencer layup whittled the margin to 26-24, but the Huskies responded by pushing ahead 32-25 for their biggest lead with 4:55 to go in the half. The Lady Vols clawed back, scoring five straight to pull within two, 32-30, with 2:46 remaining. UConn moved back ahead by seven, 39-32, with 57 seconds, left, but UT reeled off another five straight to go into the locker room trailing by only two, 39-37.

UConn increased its lead to six, 43-37, in the early stages of the third period, but UT began to trim the margin, getting layups from Cooper and Spencer to tie it at 45 with 6:47 remaining. UT poured on more steam, moving ahead by four, 49-45, with 5:59 to go on consecutive buckets by Spencer, the second off of her own steal, and forcing UConn to ask for time. Puckett built onto the lead, draining a three from the top of the key to boost her team ahead by seven, 52-45, with 5:12 to go and send the crowd into a frenzy. A layup by Cooper with 4:19 boosted the Lady Vol lead to nine, 54-45, but UConn slowly worked within two at 56-54 with 52 seconds left. A three by Spencer with 34 seconds left, though, sent the home team into the final frame with a 59-54 margin.

A Spearman three gave Tennessee a 62-54 lead to open the final stanza, and a layup by the forward made it an eight-point game with 8:26 remaining, 64-56, before UConn responded with an Arnold layup to trim the deficit to six, 64-58, with 8:15 to go. After a Cooper free throw increased the gap to seven, 65-58, with 7:01 to go, the teams exchanged buckets until UConn made it a two-point game, 67-65, with 4:59 remaining on a pair of Aubrey Griffin free throws. Two Kaitlyn Chen free throws evened the score at 69, and Paige Bueckers did so again with a three-pointer to make it 74-all with 2:07 left. The Lady Vols, though, were not about to let an opportunity slip away, as a layup by Spearman at the 1:41 mark made it 76-74, and a pair of free throws by Cooper lifted UT ahead by four, 78-74, with 1:02 showing on the clock. After Strong scored inside with 51 ticks left, Tennessee managed to milk some clock and then went up four, 80-76, after Cooper found Spearman inside for a layup with 12 seconds remaining. UConn got up a couple of shots before time expired, but both were off the mark.

BATON ROUGE, La. – Playing its fourth contest in a five-game span against top-five ranked teams, No. 19/17 Tennessee went toe-to-toe with No. 6/4 LSU and grabbed a fourth-quarter lead before the Tigers prevailed, 82-77, in front of 11,154 at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

The Lady Vols (17-6, 4-6 SEC) were led by 21 points from junior guard Ruby Whitehorn, while fifth-year guard Jewel Spear contributed 19, sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper 16 and junior forward Zee Spearman 15 in another narrow setback for the Big Orange against a gauntlet-like stretch of their schedule. Sophomore forward Alyssa Latham came off the bench to pace her team on the glass with eight rebounds.

The Tigers (25-1, 10-1 SEC) also had four scoring in double figures, led by 23 from Kailyn Gilbert. She was aided by Mikaylah Williams with 16, Aneesah Morrow with 14 and Flau'Jae Johnson with 12. Morrow grabbed 14 rebounds to card a double-double for LSU, which connected on 20 of 22 attempts from the free-throw line, including eight of nine in the fourth quarter.

LSU grabbed an early 4-0 lead and then pushed ahead 7-2 before the Lady Vols evened things up, 9-9, by the 5:15 mark on layups by Spearman and Whitehorn and a three-pointer by Spearman. A steal by Spearman and a pass ahead to Spear for a transition layup gave the Lady Vols their first lead at 11-9 with 5:01 to go before a Sa'myah Smith layup sent the teams into the 4:17 media timeout deadlocked at 11. A layup and trey by Whitehorn pushed her team in front, 18-15, with 2:48 remaining, but LSU used a 7-0 run to seize a 22-18 lead by the 1:11 mark before Whitehorn countered with a layup to end the first period with her team trailing, 22-20.

LSU built a nine-point lead midway through the second stanza at 33-24, but the Lady Vols struck back as Spear scored eight straight points, including back-to-back threes to trim the margin to three, 35-32, by the 4:45 media timeout. A pair of Spear free throws drew UT back to within three again at the 3:32 mark, and after the Tigers had pushed the margin to seven, 41-34, she drained a long three to whittle the margin to four, 41-37, by halftime.

Tennessee came out fighting at the opening of the third frame, scoring the first seven points and building a three-point lead, 44-41, on buckets by Whitehorn and Spearman and a free throw and layup by Cooper to force an LSU timeout with 7:06 remaining. A free throw and layup by Cooper gave the Lady Vols their biggest lead, 47-43, with 5:52 to go, but the Tigers trimmed the deficit to one, 49-48, on a pair of Gilbert free throws before the teams went to the media timeout with 4:50 left. LSU outscored the Lady Vols, 14-8, the rest of the way, but a Spear free throw ended up being the final points of the quarter after an LSU three-point shot was ruled to have gone in after the buzzer sounded, sending LSU into the fourth with a 62-57 lead.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – The No. 15/16 Tennessee women's basketball team shot a season-high 55.7 percent from the field and scored its most points against an SEC foe in 14 years to roll past Auburn, 99-61, at Food City Center.

The Lady Vols (18-6, 5-6 SEC), who carded their highest output since a 110-45 home win over Alabama on Jan. 6, 2011, were led offensively by fifth-year guard Jewel Spear, who knocked down five three-pointers and finished with a team-high 17 points. The Big Orange had four others in double figures, including junior guard Ruby Whitehorn with 15, junior forward Zee Spearman with 14, redshirt freshman guard Kaniya Boyd with 11 and redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper with 10.

The Tigers (12-13, 3-9 SEC) were paced by DeYona Gaston, who recorded a double-double of 24 points and 12 rebounds. Yuting Deng chipped in 13 points, with 10 of those coming in the first quarter before the Lady Vols limited her to 1-of-4 shooting the rest of the way.

Auburn opened the game in good form, hitting 50 percent over the opening six-plus minutes to grab a 7-2 lead behind 3-of-7 marksmanship from Deng. A Jillian Hollingshead kiss off the glass and a Spear three-pointer, however, narrowed the deficit to three, 14-11, by the 3:44 media timeout. The Lady Vols warmed up after the break, grabbing their first lead, 15-14, with 2:35 remaining. After AU jumped up 18-15, UT finished the frame on a 7-2 burst, getting a Boyd backdoor layup, a spinning Whitehorn layup and then a trey from Whitehorn to close out the period with a 22-20 edge.

Tennessee continued its momentum into the second stanza, building a 28-20 gap by the 8:29 mark on a Spearman free throw, Cooper three and Whitehorn layup. The Lady Vols then got an Alyssa Latham bank shot and Sara Puckett inside bucket to push ahead, 37-26, by the 4:31 media timeout, shooting 66.7 percent from the field to begin the quarter. UT continued to pad its lead, moving up 41-28 on a Tess Darby trey, 44-30 on a Spear three and 48-32 on a Puckett layup before a Spearman put-back sent her team into the locker room with a 50-34 cushion behind 73.3-percent marksmanship in the second stanza. UT carved out a 28-14 advantage in paint points during the opening half.

Auburn was the aggressor early in the third frame, tallying four straight points to open the period and outscoring Tennessee, 12-8, to cut the deficit to 12, 58-46, by the 4:54 media timeout. The Tigers crept to within 11, 61-50, with 2:48 left, but a three-pointer from Hollingshead as the shot clock was winding down and an old-fashioned three-point play from Cooper moved the gap to 17. Then, a turnaround jumper by Cooper and a layup from Boyd sent the home team into the final frame with a game-best 71-52 margin.

Tennessee built its lead to 20, 74-54, on a three by Darby with 8:32 left and then extended it to 80-59 on back-to-back treys from Samara Spencer and Darby, forcing Auburn to ask for time with 5:29 remaining. A Boyd driving layup pushed the margin to 31, 90-59, with 3:15 to go, and an Avery Strickland driving layup with 39 seconds on the clock pushed her team within one of the century mark and closed out the scoring.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – After scoring 30 points in Oxford last season, Jewel Spear turned in her second straight gem against Ole Miss, firing in 28 as No. 15/16 Tennessee shot 52.5 percent from the field and defeated the Rebels, 80-71, in front of 12,402 at Food City Center.

The 5-foot-10 fifth-year guard was an efficient nine of 11 from the field, knocking down five of seven tries from beyond the arc to match her previous season high in points vs. Oklahoma for the Lady Vols (19-6, 6-6 SEC). Junior forward Zee Spearman added 14 points and eight rebounds, senior guard Samara Spencer contributed 13 points and a game-high 10 rebounds for a double-double, and Talaysia Cooper chipped in 11 points, six assists and six steals.

Ole Miss (17-8, 8-5 SEC), which entered the game giving up only 54.4 points per game and allowed a team to reach 80 for only the second time all season, was paced by 22 points from KK Deans, who had a 6-for-12 day at the three-point arc. Tameiya Sadler contributed 14, while Kennedy Todd-Williams and Madison Scott added 11 and 10, respectively.

Tennessee forged an early 4-0 lead on buckets by Ruby Whitehorn and Spencer and carried a 6-3 edge into the 4:51 media timeout on the strength of a Spencer jumper. After Ole Miss trimmed the gap to two, 6-5, the Lady Vols reeled off nine straight via a layup from Cooper, a pair of buckets from Spearman and a three by Spear to seize a 15-5 lead with a minute left in the period. After Ole Miss countered with a Sadler layup, Spearman ran her quarter point total to six with a fall-away jumper just before time expired to provide her team a 17-7 advantage after one.

UT extended its cushion to 11, 21-10, on a Spear jumper with 7:20 remaining, but Ole Miss trimmed the margin to five, 23-18, with 5:04 to go on a three-pointer by Deans. Layups by Kaniya Boyd and Cooper, though, sent the home team into the 3:53 media timeout with a 25-18 lead. The Lady Vols built the gap back to 11, 30-19, by the 3:11 mark on a Cooper fast break layup, but a 9-1 push by the Rebels, capped by a pair of free throws from Scott, pulled them within three, 31-28, with 39 seconds to go. The Big Orange managed to have the last word in the first half, though, as Spear drained her second three of the day to send her team to the locker room in front, 34-28.

Tennessee moved ahead 36-28 at the outset of the third on a Spencer layup, but Ole Miss scored three of the next four buckets to trim the deficit to three, 38-35, forcing the Big Orange to ask for time with 8:09 remaining. The Lady Vols came out of the brief break energized, putting together an 11-1 run, with Spear scoring six straight and Spearman adding an inside bucket to send UT into the 4:36 media timeout ahead, 49-37. Tennessee pushed its lead to 13 twice, including 53-40 with 3:30 to go, but the Rebels kept hanging around and trimmed the deficit to nine twice before a pair of Spear charity tosses gave her team a 59-48 to close out the third.

After Starr Jacobs opened the fourth quarter with a layup to cut the Ole Miss deficit to 49-40, Tennessee responded with an 8-0 burst, getting an old-fashioned three-point play from Spearman, a three from Spear and a layup from Spencer to extend the lead to 67-50 and force a Rebels timeout with 7:18 left in the game. Ole Miss mounted several charges down the stretch, cutting the UT lead to nine, 70-61, with 3:59 to go, to seven, 73-66, with 3:09 remaining and six, 77-71, with 40 ticks on the clock, but a Boyd fast break layup boosted the gap back to eight with 34 seconds left and a Spearman free throw with 24 seconds to go accounted for the final nine-point margin.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Fifth-year guard Jewel Spear led the way with 20 points, as No. 15/13 Tennessee claimed its 20th victory of the season with an 88-80 triumph over No. 18/19 Alabama in front of a crowd of 10,684 at Food City Center.

Spear hit four of six shots from the field and went 11 of 11 at the free-throw line to tally 20 or more points for the second straight game and for the fifth time this season. She helped the Lady Vols win their third consecutive contest and improve to 20-6 overall and 7-6 in SEC play with three games remaining.

Spear got scoring help from redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper and junior forward Zee Spearman, who tossed in 16 and 13, respectively, as the Big Orange scored the most points on UA all season. Texas is the only other team to break 80, doing so on Jan. 9 in an 84-40 win in Austin.

The Crimson Tide (21-6, 8-5), which saw its four-game winning streak snapped, had all five starters in double figures. Sarah Ashlee Barker led the way with 22, followed by Zaay Green with 16, Essence Cody and Aaliyah Nye with 13 each and Karly Weathers with 11.

Alabama grabbed an early 10-4 lead on 57-percent shooting over the opening three minutes, forcing a Tennessee timeout with 7:10 to go. The Lady Vols bounced back, getting a put-back from Alyssa Latham and a Cooper jumper to work within two, 10-8, with 5:42 remaining and then evening things up at 13 on a Latham three-pointer with 3:46 left. The Crimson Tide reeled off seven straight points, though, to grab a 20-13 margin with 2:13 to go before a Cooper steal and layup pulled the Big Orange back with five, 22-17, by the end of the first.

UT struck quickly to open the second stanza, scoring on a Ruby Whitehorn jumper and a Spear trey to even things up at 22 just 39 seconds in and force an Alabama timeout. The Tide quickly equaled its largest margin of the game, 29-22, but a 10-0 Big Orange run fueled by a Samara Spencer three, a Kaniya Boyd steal and score, a trio of Spear free throws and a Latham layup pushed the home team ahead, 32-29 with 4:59 remaining. The Tide would surge back in front by five, 37-32, with 3:54 to go, but the Lady Vols put together another 10-0 burst to end the half, getting a pair of threes from Tess Darby, two free throws from Spear and a layup from Spearman to carry a 42-37 advantage into the locker room.

Tennessee came out blazing after the intermission, building an eight-point lead, 47-39, on a Darby trey at the 8:54 mark. After an Alabama bucket by Weathers cut the deficit to 47-42, the Lady Vols went on a 11-0 blitz to seize a 58-42 lead, with a Sara Puckett three-ball capping things with 4:47 to go in the period. Alabama scored the next seven points after the break, trimming the gap to 58-49 before Tennessee distanced itself from its foe by 14, 65-51, by the end of the quarter on a Cooper layup and Spear old-fashioned three-point play.

The Crimson Tide got the lead down to 12 early in the fourth quarter, but UT pushed the margin back to 15, 70-55, on a Spearman and-one play with 8:10 remaining. Alabama kept the heat on, trimming the gap to 11, 70-59, before the 7:07 media break. Tennessee got five straight Spear free throws to lead 75-61 with 6:34 to go, but UA wouldn't go away. The Tide scored seven straight to trim the margin to eight, 75-67, with 5:12 left and then used an 8-2 gush to make it a four-point game, 79-75, with 3:15 remaining. After a UT timeout, though, the Lady Vols got a free throw from Spencer, a Boyd layup and Spear put-back to restore the lead to nine, 84-75, with 1:34 on the clock and were able to salt the game away.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. – Tennessee overcame 15 fouls and 22-percent shooting in the first half and an 11-point second-quarter deficit to walk away with a hard-earned 86-78 road victory over Florida at Exactech Arena at the Stephen C. O'Connell Center.

The Lady Vols (21-6, 8-6 SEC) trailed 37-26 just before the half, but they flipped the script with a 37-point third quarter to claim their fourth-consecutive victory. Redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper, who was restricted to two minutes of playing time over the first 20 minutes due to foul trouble, fired in 15 points in the second half to finish with a team-high 18. Junior forward Zee Spearman tossed in 16, while senior guard Samara Spencer contributed an 11-point, 11-rebound double-double, and fifth-year guard Jewel Spear and junior guard Ruby Whitehorn added 10 points each.

The Gators (14-14, 5-9 SEC) were paced by Ra Shaya Kyle with 19 points and 10 boards. Laila Reynolds and Liv McGill each contributed 17, while Jeriah Warren chipped in 10.

Florida grabbed early 2-0 and 4-2 leads, but the Lady Vols punched back with an 8-0 run, getting a put-back by Jillian Hollingshead, a three-pointer by Cooper and an old-fashioned three-point play by Kaniya Boyd to snare a 10-4 lead with 6:46 remaining. Florida evened it up at 10, though, with a 6-0 spurt before the 4:21 media timeout. As an 8-2 foul disparity mounted for Tennessee, Florida closed out the period with a 6-of-10 effort at the charity stripe to fuel a 6-2 push and claim a 16-12 lead after one.

The Gators crept ahead by six again, 18-12, at the outset of the second stanza, but Sara Puckett capped an 8-2 run to even the score at 20 with 7:01 to go. The teams exchanged baskets midway through the frame, with UF inching ahead by three until a Spearman turnaround jumper drew the Big Orange to within one, 27-26, by the 4:18 media break. Florida remained the aggressor after the timeout, peeling off 10 consecutive points before Whitehorn hit a jumper with 28 seconds remaining that cut the deficit to nine, 37-28, at the intermission

Tennessee emerged from the locker room recharged, scoring first on a Hollingshead layup and then proceeding to outscore the Gators 11-4 to trim the gap to 41-39 and force a UF timeout with 7:30 remaining after an and-one by Spear and a three-ball by Spearman. The Lady Vols kept pushing tempo and turning up the pressure, getting a Spencer three, a Cooper paint jumper, an old-fashioned three-point play from Spear and a Cooper layup to put together a 10-4 run into the 4:41 media timeout and build a 49-45 lead. UT outscored UF, 11-6, with a Cooper layup giving her team a game-best nine-point lead, 60-51, with 1:47 to go. Before the end of the period, UF would cut the gap to five, 60-55, with 57 seconds left, but a pair of Cooper free throws sent the Big Orange into the final frame with a 65-57 advantage.

The Lady Vols elevated their lead to 11, 68-57, on a Cooper three just 13 seconds into the final frame, but Florida trimmed the margin to five, 68-63, forcing a Tennessee timeout with 7:13 to go. The Gators were able to slice their deficit to four at the 5:16 and 4:16 marks, but a Whitehorn bucket in the paint boosted her team back to a nine-point advantage, 82-73, with 1:38 remaining. A three from Alexia Dizeko and free throws from Laila Reynolds brought the home team back within four, 82-78, with 56 ticks on the clock. A Spearman and-one play with 44 seconds to go and a Spencer free throw with 13 seconds remaining, though, allowed the Big Orange to persevere on a day where nothing came easy.

LEXINGTON, Ky. – No. 11/11 Tennessee suffered through a rough shooting night, while No. 15/14 Kentucky hit shots at a 52-percent clip and ran away from the Lady Vols, 82-58, in front of 5,951 at Memorial Coliseum.

Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper fired in 25 points and was the only player in double figures for Tennessee (21-7, 8-7 SEC), which struggled to a season low in points and its second lowest field goal percentage at 31.1 while seeing its four-game winning streak come to an end.

Kentucky (22-5, 11-4 SEC) had four players in double figures, led by a 23-point, 15-rebound double-double from Clara Strack. Georgia Amoore and Teonni Key added 18 points apiece, while Dazia Lawrence chipped in 13.

Kentucky jumped on top early, 4-0, before UT answered with a Cooper reverse layup with 8:28 remaining in the opening stanza. The Wildcats used a 10-4 run, with Alyssa Latham and Samara Spencer offering the only Lady Vol counters, to take a 14-6 lead by the 4:18 media timeout. UK moved ahead by 12, 18-6, with 1:03 to go before Cooper ended a five-minute drought with a three pointer. That, though, was followed by an Amoore layup to end the quarter with the home team on top, 20-9, as the Lady Vols suffered through a 4-for-23 shooting spell over the opening 10 minutes.

UK continued to expand its margin at the outset of the second period, scoring two quick buckets to make it 24-9 and force a Tennessee timeout with 9:06 to go. Tess Darby knocked down a three-pointer to trim the margin to 24-12 at the 8:15 mark and a steal and layup from Kaniya Boyd and a three-pointer by Cooper helped pull UT within 11, 28-17, with 6:42 to go. After the Cats scored three points on free throws, a Spencer trey drew her team back to within 12, 32-20, by the 5:48 mark, but Kentucky ballooned the lead to 16 on a Strack layup, 36-20, with 4:10 remaining. Two Zee Spearman free throws and a Ruby Whitehorn layup pulled the Lady Vols back to within 12, 36-24, with 2:49 to go, but Kentucky used a 9-2 push to take a 45-26 lead into the locker room.

The Wildcats kept pushing after intermission, putting together a period-opening 8-2 run to extend the gap to 25, 53-28, with 7:51 to go and forcing another Tennessee timeout. UT got a pair of free throws, a Latham layup and Cooper jumper, but it did little to slow the Cats, as they carried a 61-34 advantage into the media timeout. The Lady Vols managed to score a game-most 19 points by the end of the frame, but Kentucky produced 29 of its own and possessed a 74-45 cushion.

The teams traded buckets through the first six minutes, with Kentucky carrying an 80-51 lead into the 4:07 media timeout. Buckets by Sara Puckett, Spencer (three) and Jillian Hollingshead allowed Tennessee to close out the game with a 7-0 run and make the final score, 82-58.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – No. 11 Tennessee came back from a 23-point first-half deficit and grabbed a three-point lead with just under five minutes remaining, but it couldn't hold on in falling to Georgia, 72-69, in front of 12,111 at Food City Center on Senior Day.

In her final regular season home game on Rocky Top, fifth-year senior guard Jewel Spear fired in a game-high 20 points to lead the Lady Vols (21-8, 8-8 SEC), including 10-of-10 accuracy at the free-throw line. Junior forward Zee Spearman and senior guard Samara Spencer also were in double figures, contributing 19 and 11 points, respectively.

Georgia (12-18, 4-12 SEC) was paced by five players in double figures. Mia Woolfolk led the way with 20 points, while De'Mauri Flournoy tallied 18, Asia Avinger and Trinity Turner tossed in 11 each and Roxane Makolo added 10. Fatima Diakhate pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds to help her team top UT on the boards, 38-33.

UT showed some early game jitters and was forced to call a timeout after missing on its first nine attempts from the field and falling behind 8-0 with 5:12 left in the first quarter. UGA extended its lead to 11-0 with 4:23 to go before UT finally got on the board with 3:24 left on a Spearman layup. After the Lady Bulldogs extended their lead to 16 at 18-2 by the 2:39 mark, Tennessee reeled off eight straight on five free throws and a late Spear three to trim the gap to eight, 18-10, by the end of the period.

Georgia surged back in front by 15, 25-10, at the outset of the second stanza on a 7-0 burst that was capped by a Woolfolk baseline jumper, forcing another Big Orange timeout. The Lady Bulldogs pushed their stanza-opening run to 15, building a game-high 33-10 lead with 5:45 to go. A Tess Darby three finally ended the drought for UT with 5:39 to go. UT whittled the deficit to 13, 35-22, by the 1:52 mark on a trey by Spear, a layup by Jillian Hollingshead and a Talaysia Cooper jumper. The Lady Bulldogs twice went back up by 15, but a Spearman layup drew her team back to within 13, 39-26, by the intermission.

Tennessee scored the first five points to open the third frame, getting an Alyssa Latham layup, Hollingshead free throw and Kaniya Boyd coast-to-coast layup off a rebound to trim the margin to eight, 39-31, and force a Lady Bulldogs timeout with 7:45 remaining. Tennessee used another 8-0 punch to knot the game at 39-all with 5:01 to go on eight free throws split between Spear (4), Boyd (2) and Samara Spencer (2), with Spencer's two charity tosses tying things up. Georgia responded and went back up by six, 46-40 with 1:47 remaining, but used pairs of free throws by Spear and Boyd as well as a late Spearman layup to end the third quarter down two, 48-46.

Georgia outscored Tennessee 7-4 to open the final stanza, taking a 55-50 lead with 7:09 remaining. The Lady Vols responded, though, with an 8-2 burst and took their first lead, 58-57, on a long Samara Spencer three with 5:29 left and moved ahead 60-57 by the 4:30 media timeout on a Spencer layup. The Lady Bulldogs, however, tied it up on a Flournoy three-pointer at the 3:56 mark and then matched a pair of Spear free throws at the 3:25 mark with a Woolfolk jumper to even it up at 62 with 2:23 remaining. A Makalo fast break layup boosted UGA ahead, 64-62, with 1:55 left, and the visitors built a lead as high as six points with 11 seconds remaining, 72-66, before a Boyd three accounted for the final three-point margin.

GREENVILLE, S.C. – No. 18/17 Tennessee overcame a slow start and outscored Texas A&M by 42 points over the final three quarters to claim a 77-37 opening-round victory over the Aggies in the Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament at Bon Secours Wellness Arena.

Redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper, who left UT's regular-season finale on Sunday with a lower body injury, returned to action, coming off the bench to lead all scorers with 19 points while adding team highs of eight rebounds, three assists and three steals. Fifth-year guard Jewel Spear and junior forward Zee Spearman added 11 points each, while senior guard Samara Spencer chipped in 10 for the No. 9-seeded Lady Vols (22-8).

The 16th-seeded Aggies (10-19), who lost their 11th-straight game, were paced by Sahara Jones, who produced a 16-point, 13-rebound double-double.

Texas A&M grabbed an early 3-0 lead by the 8:41 mark and moved ahead 5-2 before a three-pointer by Alyssa Latham tied things up at 5-all with 5:43 remaining. A Solé Williams trey, though, sent the Aggies into the first media timeout with an 8-5 lead with 4:57 left in the period. Tennessee grabbed its first lead, 9-8, on a free throw by Jillian Hollingshead and a three by Spear with 4:44 left, but A&M pushed back in front, 13-9, before a Spear jumper drew her team to within two, 13-11, by the end of the first frame despite the Big Orange hitting just 19 percent from the field.

The Lady Vols started to warm up in the second stanza, taking a 16-13 lead by the 8:10 mark after a Spearman three and a Spencer layup. After the teams exchanged buckets and the Aggies cut the deficit to 18-17 on a pair of Jones free throws with 5:27 to go, Tennessee found another gear. A Cooper free throw and Spencer three-pointer built the lead to 22-17 with 4:47 to go, forcing a Texas A&M timeout. Free throws by Kaniya Boyd and Cooper, followed by a Cooper trey ballooned the lead to 11, 30-19, with 1:03 left. A pair of Spearman charity tosses with 32 seconds left extended UT's burst to 14-2 and sent Tennessee into the intermission leading 32-19.

UT continued an 11-0 run spanning the halves, boosting its advantage to 17, 36-19, by the 8:42 mark on layups by Spearman and Ruby Whitehorn. After Texas A&M whittled the gap to 12, 38-26, by the 5:59 mark, a Latham jumper and layups by Hollingshead and Cooper sent their team into the 4:31 media timeout with a 42-26 margin. After a Boyd free throw and A&M bucket by Janae Kent made it 43-28, Lady Vols, Tennessee exploded on a 17-0 run with three straight layups by Cooper, a Tess Darby layup and a pair of Spear threes capping the proceedings. Their efforts, buoyed by UT's 55-percent shooting during the period, helped make it a 32-point game, 60-28 at the end of the third.

A Spearman layup and Cooper jumper extended the quarter-spanning run to 21, tying UT's season best spree, and making it 64-28 with 7:55 remaining. After an Aggie bucket, Tennessee put together another 10-0 flourish, with a Cooper layup, two Spencer free throws, a Latham put-back and a Spearman layup extending the margin to 42, 72-30, with 5:29 on the clock. With that, the Lady Vol bench took over and finished off a 40-point victory.

GREENVILLE, S.C. – No. 18/17 Tennessee put four players in double figures but it wasn't enough, as No. 8 seed Vanderbilt defeated the No. 9 seed Lady Vols, 84-76, in the second round of the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament at Bon Secours Wellness Arena.

Junior guard Ruby Whitehorn led UT (22-9) offensively with 14 points on 6-of-11 shooting, while fifth-year senior Jewel Spear, senior guard Samara Spencer and redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper chipped in 13 apiece. Junior forward Zee Spearman led UT on the boards with 10.

Vanderbilt (22-9) was paced by Mikayla Blakes, who led all scorers with 24 points. Iyana Moore was right behind with 23, while Khamil Pierre produced a 16-point, 15-rebound double-double.

UT out-shot VU from the field, 47.1 to 46.3 percent, but the Commodores outscored the Big Orange, 16-3 at the free-throw line, won the battle on the glass by eight and held a 21-6 margin on second-chance points.

Vanderbilt scored the game's first four points and countered a Cooper bucket with six more points to build a 10-2 lead and force an early UT timeout with 7:24 remaining. The Commodores continued to find the net, building a 17-5 gap by the 6:16 mark, but three-pointers by Tess Darby, Sara Puckett and Whitehorn, and a steal and score by Cooper drew the Lady Vols to within five, 25-20, with 38 seconds to go. A layup by VU's Madison Greene ended the scoring with her team on top, 27-20, after one.

Tennessee punched back with a 6-2 burst at the beginning of the second stanza, getting a turnaround jumper and a second-chance bucket by Spearman and a driving layup from Avery Strickland to slice the margin to three, 29-26, and elicit a Vanderbilt timeout with 8:35 remaining. A Whitehorn put-back and Darby layup shaved the deficit to one at the 7:46 (29-28) and 5:14 marks (31-30), and then Spencer provided the Lady Vols their first lead, 32-31, with 4:45 to go, much to the delight of the sizable crowd of Big Orange fans on hand. The Commodores, though, were able to use an 8-1 response, capped by a Jane Nwaba second-chance trey, to carry a 39-33 advantage into the locker room at the intermission.

The Lady Vols struck with the first six points of the third period, getting layups from Whitehorn, Alyssa Latham and Hollingshead to knot things up at 39 with just 2:10 elapsed. After VU crept ahead 43-39, a Spear three reeled the Commodores back within one, 43-42, by the 6:42 mark. A seven-point push by Vanderbilt, though, gave it a 50-42 advantage by the 4:54 media break. Tennessee fell behind by as many as 17 on two occasions over the remainder of the frame, including 63-46 with 1:14 to go before a Spencer driving layup cut the deficit to 15, 63-48, by the end of the quarter.

Vanderbilt extended its lead to a game-high 21, 72-51, with 8:15 left in the game, but Tennessee wouldn't concede. Instead, the Lady Vols fired off an 8-0 volley with Spear contributing a 7-0 personal run to pull her squad within 13, 72-59, with 6:18 left. A Latham layup kept her team within range, 74-61, heading into the 4:48 media break. UT kept the pressure on, getting a Spencer three and then tacking on a Spear trey and back-to-back layups by Whitehorn to make it a seven-point game, 79-72, with 40.4 seconds on the clock. That's a close as the Lady Vols would get, as the Commodores hit five of six free throws the rest of the way to seal the eight-point win.

COLUMBUS, Ohio – No. 20 Tennessee opened its 43rd-straight NCAA appearance in dominant fashion, hitting 16 three-pointers and smashing the SEC season record for treys during a 101-66 triumph in NCAA First Round play at the Schottenstein Center.

The Lady Vols (23-9), who are seeded fifth in the Birmingham 3 Regional, came in needing three buckets beyond the arc to surpass the previous mark of 314 by Arkansas in 2019-20 and took care of that with four alone in the first quarter. Jewel Spear's deep ball with 5:13 to go was the record-breaker. UT's 16 threes, meanwhile, was a program NCAA Tournament record, ranked second in all games in school history and tied for second most in NCAA Women's Tournament history.

Redshirt sophomore guard Talaysia Cooper, one of three Lady Vols to hit three treys and one of eight UT players to connect from beyond the arc, led her team with 20 points, six rebounds, two blocks and two steals. Samara Spencer hit a trio of three-pointers to finish with 15 points and five assists, while Zee Spearman matched Spencer's total from long range and netted 13 points, and Spear added 11.

USF (23-11) was paced by Sammie Puisis, who knocked down five threes and finished with 28 points. L'or Mputu contributed 12, as her team was unable to keep pace with a deep Lady Vols squad that featured a 54-3 bench points advantage. The Bulls also suffered 24 turnovers and were outscored on points off turnovers by the Lady Vols, 36-10.

Spencer opened the game with a three-pointer just 10 seconds in, but South Florida responded with a 7-0 flurry to seize a 7-3 lead by the 8:18 mark. A 13-6 response by the Lady Vols, fueled by threes from Tess Darby and Spear, though, sent them into the media timeout with a 16-13 advantage. Back-to-back layups by Cooper and Alyssa Latham lifted UT to its biggest lead, 20-15, with 3:57 to go, but USF evened things at 20 by the 2:50 mark on a Puisis three contributing to her 15 first-quarter points. A Cooper three and a Kaniya Boyd layup helped close out the opening stanza with a 26-25 lead, as UT scored 12 of its points off 10 Bulls turnovers.

Tennessee exploded to a 15-4 start at the outset of the second period, with Spearman hitting a pair of threes during that spree and then a Spencer layup and Cooper trey extending the lead to 12, 41-29, with 7:08 remaining and forcing a Bulls timeout. The Lady Vols twice widened the gap to 13, getting a Cooper free throw to make it 42-29 with 6:37 to go and then a Spearman trey to increase it to 45-32 as the teams went to a media timeout with 4:49 to go. After allowing a Carla Brito tip-in, Tennessee scored the next 10 points to close out the half, with Cooper and Spencer threes running UT's total of deep balls to 10 in the first half and sending their team into the locker room on top by 21, 55-34.

The Lady Vols opened the second half with a layup from Cooper and a jumper by Spencer to increase the margin to 25, 59-34, with 8:43 remaining in the third quarter. The teams exchanged baskets, with UT taking a 67-46 advantage into the 4:55 media break. A 7-0 USF run, including a bucket right before that timeout, enabled the Bulls to whittle the deficit to 16, 67-51, by the 4:43 mark, but a Spencer three and a Latham steal and layup pushed the margin back to 21, 72-51, forcing South Florida to ask for time with 2:24 left in the period. A three by Spear, a Cooper layup off an inbound pass and a Latham driving layup helped their team head into the final frame with a 79-56 lead.

The Big Orange began the fourth quarter with an 8-0 run and rode a 15-7 burst into the 4:11 media timeout, with a pair of threes by Darby pushing the lead to 94-63 by the 4:11 media timeout. As Tennessee closed out the game, a Sara Puckett three-pointer and a turnaround jumper in the paint rounded out the scoring and pushed the Big Orange past 100 points.

COLUMBUS, Ohio – No. 20 Tennessee, seeded No. 5 in the Birmingham 3 Regional, punched its ticket to the program's 37th NCAA Sweet 16 in the 43 years of the women's tournament with an 82-67 victory over No. 4 seed and No. 15/13-ranked Ohio State at the Schottenstein Center.

The Lady Vols (24-9), who fell behind by 11 over the opening six minutes, hit reset after a first-quarter media timeout and outscored the Buckeyes 77-51 the rest of the way. UT improved to 4-0 vs. OSU during the postseason and handed the home team its first loss of the year in its own venue in 17 games.

Redshirt sophomore Talaysia Cooper led her team in scoring for the 13th time this season, firing in 19 points and adding team highs with eight rebounds and seven steals along with five assists and a blocked shot. Also in double figures were junior Zee Spearman, junior Ruby Whitehorn and senior Samara Spencer, who contributed 17, 14 and 10 points, respectively.

The Buckeyes (26-7), who tied for third in the Big Ten this season, were paced by Jaloni Cambridge, who scored 19 points. Cotie McMahon added 17.

After Ohio State jumped on top early in the game with a Chance Gray bucket, Tennessee's Tess Darby gave her team the lead right back on a three-pointer at the 8:30 mark. The Buckeyes, though, countered with a 9-0 run to grab an 11-3 advantage with 5:31 to go. A Jillian Hollingshead layup ended the UT drought at the 5:10 mark, and OSU added another score to take a 13-5 lead into the 4:45 media break. After the Buckeyes stretched their lead to 11, 16-5, with 3:49 remaining, the Lady Vols punched back with a 12-2 burst, getting threes from Cooper and Darby and layups from Spearman and Jewel Spear to help close the gap to 18-17 with 44 seconds left. OSU, though, scored the last three points of the period to claim a 21-17 lead after one.

A Spencer three-pointer trimmed the deficit to one at the outset of the second stanza before Ohio State pushed the gap back to five, 25-20, with 7:47 to go. Tennessee, however, put together a 7-0 explosion on a Darby three and back-to-back layups by Spearman to retake the lead, 27-25, and force a Buckeyes timeout with 5:59 to go. OSU hit a free throw after the break, but Tennessee built a six-point lead, 32-26, on a put-back by Hollingshead and a three by Whitehorn with 4:23 to go. The home team managed to creep within three points on three occasions, including 38-35 on a layup by McMahon with 27 seconds left, but a pair of Spencer free throws with a tick on the clock sent the Lady Vols into the locker room with a 40-35 advantage.

After Cambridge opened the second half with a layup for OSU and pulled her team within three, 40-37, Tennessee reeled off eight in a row on a layup by Whitehorn, a Cooper bucket on an inbounds play and layups from Alyssa Latham and Spearman to move ahead by 11, 48-37, with 8:03 to go and force a Buckeye timeout. Back-to-back threes by Spear and Spencer extended the lead to 17, 54-37, with 6:58 remaining, but Ohio State countered with a 12-0 run of its own to chop the UT lead to six, 54-49, with 4:56 left and force an Big Orange timeout. OSU lengthened that run to 16-0 with four more points before a Spearman bucket ended it with 3:50 remaining. The home team wasn't finished, getting a McMahon old-fashioned three-point play to take a 57-56 lead with 2:48 left. UT, though, finished the period on a 10-2 blitz capped by a Whitehorn put-back that sent the Lady Vols into the final frame ahead, 66-59.

Tennessee outscored Ohio State 8-4 to open the fourth quarter, getting a shot-clock-beating corner three from Whitehorn and five points from Cooper to build a 74-63 cushion by the 4:26 media timeout. A Spencer layup made it 76-63 with 3:18 to go, and OSU asked for time. The Buckeyes managed to score after the timeout and once more with 1:30 to go, but layups by Spearman and a pair of Cooper charity tosses closed out the victory.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – No. 20 Tennessee, seeded No. 5 in the Birmingham Regional, fought tooth and nail with top-seeded and fifth-ranked Texas before falling, 67-59, in the NCAA Women's Basketball Sweet 16 at Legacy Arena.

The Lady Vols (24-10) and Longhorns (34-3) were tied after three quarters, and the Big Orange knotted the score twice in the fourth period. After Texas built a four-point lead with 6:19 remaining, Kim Caldwell's squad fought back within one, 59-58, by the 4:53 mark but could not get over the hump.

Junior guard Ruby Whitehorn paced Tennessee with 16 points, while junior forward Zee Spearman and senior Samara Spencer contributed 13 and 12, respectively.

Texas was led by Madison Booker, who tossed in 17 points, while Jordan Lee added 13 and Taylor Jones and Bryanna Preston chipped in 12 apiece.

Talaysia Cooper started the game with a three for Tennessee, and with buckets from Spearman, Jewel Spear and Spencer, the Lady Vols built a 9-4 lead by the 6:20 mark. Texas cut the gap to one, 9-8, with 5:42 left before an Alyssa Latham pullup jumper sent UT into the 4:37 media timeout possessing an 11-8 lead. A pair of Jillian Hollingshead free throws after the timeout extended the Big Orange lead to 13-8, but Texas stormed back with a 13-0 run to close out the first frame with a 21-13 advantage.

Tennessee ended the Longhorn spree with a steal and layup by Whitehorn to open the second stanza and got a Cooper jumper to trim the gap to four, 21-17, by the 8:46 mark. After Texas responded with a pair of buckets, layups by Spencer, Whitehorn and Spearman capped a 10-4 burst and pulled their team within two, 25-23, by the 4:35 media break. After Texas pushed ahead 28-23, a Tess Darby layup on a back-door pass from Latham and a Whitehorn trey knotted the contest at 28 with 2:07 on the clock. A pair of Jones free throws and a layup by Preston, however, boosted the Longhorns back in front, 32-28, with 1:23 to go. After Preston scored again with 30 seconds left, Whitehorn drove for a layup to send her squad into the locker room trailing by just four, 34-30, after the opening 20 minutes despite being outshot from the field 56 to 38 percent.

Texas extended its lead to seven in the third period, 41-34, with 6:57 left, but three-pointers by Darby, Spencer and Spearman pulled Tennessee within two, 45-43, before the teams caught their breath at the 4:49 media timeout. After a pair of Booker free throws moved Texas ahead, 47-43, with 4:11 to go, a Spearman put-back and Spencer layup tied it at 47, and then a Whitehorn layup gave the Big Orange its first lead since the first quarter at 49-47. A Lee three put the Longhorns back on top, 50-49, with 25 ticks left, but a Whitehorn free throw with a second on the clock deadlocked the teams at 50 heading into the final frame.

The Lady Vols grabbed the lead twice at 52-50 and again at 54-52 in the early going of the fourth period on buckets by Spearman and Cooper. A 6-0 burst by Texas, though, gave it a four-point lead at 58-54 with 6:19 left. A Spencer layup ended the run and trimmed the gap to two, 58-56, with 5:56 remaining before a Booker free throw sent the Longhorns into the 5:00 media break with a 59-56 advantage. A Whitehorn layup cut the deficit to one, 59-58, at the 4:53 mark, but Texas responded with back-to-back buckets to pull ahead, 63-58, with 3:59 to go. A Spencer free throw trimmed the gap to 63-59 at the 3:43 mark, but Texas was able to hold the Lady Vols scoreless the rest of the way and hit four free throws to close out the win.

LADY VOL LEGENDS

Tennessee has recognized the careers of six supremely-gifted Lady Vols and a history-shattering coach with the hanging of jersey-banners from the rafters of Thompson-Boling Arena at Food City Center. The most recent individual added to the collection of Lady Vol legends came on Jan. 2, 2014, when a No. 3 banner honoring player Candace Parker was hoisted skyward.

Parker joined players Holly Warlick, Bridgette Gordon, Daedra Charles, Chamique Holdsclaw and Tamika Catchings, and coach Pat Summitt among those honored with a banner hanging in UT's basketball venue.

NO. 22 HOLLY WARLICK

Guard » 1976-80 » Knoxville, Tenn.

The first Tennessee athlete, either male or female, to have her jersey retired was Holly Warlick. Her uniform was retired on Feb. 18, 1980, in a ceremony after Tennessee's 89-72 win over Clemson in Stokely Athletics Center. A play-making wizard for the Lady Vols from 1976-80, Holly earned All-America honors three times. At the time of the ceremony, she held UT records for most assists in a game (14), most steals in a game (9), and most assists in a season (225).

Holly could not hang up her uniform right away. She played six more games after the retirement party. The final time she donned No. 22 was in the AIAW National Championship game when the Lady Vols fell to Old Dominion, 68-53.

During her years at Tennessee, the Lady Vols produced a 118-23 overall record, three trips to the Final Four and a first-ever SEC Tournament title. She later went on to become a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team.

NO. 30 BRIDGETTE GORDON

Forward » 1985-89 » DeLand, Fla.

Ten years later, the second Lady Vol basketball jersey was retired. Bridgette Gordon returned to Rocky Top after a stellar career at Tennessee to see her No. 30 honored during halftime of Tennessee's 76-70 win over Texas on Jan. 17, 1990.

Bridgette led the Lady Vols to a 115-21 record during her four years at UT. She was the driving force behind an NCAA-record four consecutive trips to the Final Four as well as two NCAA and two SEC Championships.

Bridgette was the first freshman ever to lead UT in scoring, and she earned co-SEC Rookie of the Year and All-SEC honors. The next year she led Tennessee to its first NCAA title, earned All-SEC honors again and was named to the All-Final Four team. She copped All-SEC honors and was named MVP of the SEC Tournament as a junior. She also earned her first of two Kodak All-America honors that year.

After earning a gold medal as a member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic basketball team, Bridgette returned to Tennessee for her senior season. She led the Lady Vols to the 1989 NCAA title and was named MVP of the Final Four. She finished her career as the all-time leading scorer in NCAA Tournament history.

Bridgette graduated in 1989 with a B.S. in political science. She was basketball's nominee for the 1989 Honda-Broderick Award, which is symbolic for women's academic and athletic achievement. She later returned to Rocky Top to spend two seasons (2017-19) as an assistant coach for the Lady Vols.

NO. 32 DAEDRA CHARLES

Center » 1988-91 » Detroit, Mich.

When Tennessee hosted the SEC-Big 10 Challenge on Dec. 28, 1991, Daedra Charles became the next Lady Vol to have her jersey retired. Charles returned to Knoxville from Como, Italy, where she was playing professional basketball with former Lady Vol teammate Bridgette Gordon. Charles came to surprise Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt by announcing the endowment of the Pat Head Summitt Scholarship, presented by Charles, Gordon and another former Lady Vol, Lisa McGill Reagan. Summitt, who was unaware of the endowment, had planned the retirement ceremony as a surprise for Charles.

A two-time Kodak All-American at Tennessee, Daedra was the 1991 SEC Female Athlete of the Year. She became the first player from the SEC to win the Wade Trophy, the highest honor in women's basketball. All this came after leading Tennessee to its third NCAA title in five years.

She finished her career seventh on the UT scoring list (1,495), sixth in rebounding (858) and second in shots blocked (95), despite missing her freshman season as a Prop 48 student. Still, Daedra graduated in four years, earning a bachelor's degree in child and family studies.

NO. 23 CHAMIQUE HOLDSCLAW

Forward » 1995-99 » Astoria, N.Y.

During halftime of the Lady Vols' 92-88 home triumph over archrival Connecticut on Feb. 1, 2001, the collegiate career of arguably the greatest women's player to ever play the game was officially closed when Chamique Holdsclaw became just the fourth Lady Vol to have her jersey retired.

The Naismith Player of the Century and one of only six four-time Kodak All-Americans in the history of women's basketball when her career concluded, Holdsclaw led the Orange and White to a 131-17 overall record and an unprecedented three consecutive national championships from 1996-98, while establishing herself as the program's all-time leader in scoring (3,025 points) and rebounding (1,295).

The NCAA Tournament's most outstanding player in 1997 and 1998, Holdsclaw still holds the record for most points (479 points), and held the mark for most rebounds (198 rebounds), tallied in tournament games until 2008.

The first two-time winner of the Associated Press Player of the Year Award, Holdsclaw garnered 34 individual awards during her career, including 21 player of the year honors from a variety of organizations. In 2006, Holdsclaw was named to the NCAA 25th Anniversary Team. She was previously named to the Kodak 25th Anniversary Team in 1999. She also played on the gold-medal winning 2000 U.S. Olympic Team and was named to the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2018.

Forward » 1997-01 » Duncanville, Texas

The fifth Lady Vol jersey to be retired belonged to Tamika Catchings in a halftime ceremony on Dec. 7, 2003, against Louisiana Tech. From the moment she stepped on the court in the number 24 orange and white jersey, we knew from her contagious smile that she was a special person, and from her deadly baseline-to-baseline hustling for all 40 minutes, a truly phenomenal player.

This special six-foot, one-inch forward had the heart of a champion and could play anywhere on the court. Her UT career was shortened during her senior year when she went crashing to the floor with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in game 17 versus Mississippi State.

Her list of awards was staggering, as she captured a slew of them while being tabbed as UT's second four-time Kodak All-American. What she accomplished in the span of her collegiate career is the stuff of legend. She played in 127 games as a Lady Vol. Her assault on the record books is legendary for both scoring (2,113 points) and rebounding (1,004 boards), with both marks ranking her third at UT at the conclusion of her career. She also finished her career second all-time in steals with 311 and blocked shots with 140. And remember, she missed half of her senior season.

Her teammates will tell you how special it was to earn a blue adidas headband after Catchings went out with the injury. Earning one meant they hustled like "Catch" would have. The Eleanor Roosevelt League for the Hard of Hearing honored her in 1998 – as a special role model for youngsters and adults with hearing impairments. Her UT academic counselors will relate stories about Catchings graduating ahead of her class in December 2000. People in the Knoxville community will tell you of the countless hours she put in with youths from all walks of life – from playgrounds to hospitals.

A WNBA All-Star for the Indiana Fever, Catchings added to her collection of accolades in the Summer of 2004 with a gold medal as a member of the USA Women's Basketball Team at the Athens Olympic Games. She also added gold medals at the 2008, 2012 and 2016 Olympiads as well and was enshrined into both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2021 after the COVID-19 health pandemic postponed Class of 2020 ceremonies for a year.

PAT SUMMITT

Head Coach » 1974-2012 » Henrietta, Tenn.

The sixth woman and first non-player to be honored with a banner was Pat Summitt, who coached Tennessee for 38 years and compiled a 1,098-208 career record with the most wins in NCAA women's or men's basketball history at the conclusion of her career. Summitt's banner was hoisted prior to a nationally-televised game vs. Notre Dame on Jan. 28, 2013.

The legendary Summitt directed Tennessee to eight NCAA National Championships, 31-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and 18 NCAA Final Fours. At the conference level, she led her squads to 16 SEC regular-season titles and 16 SEC tournament championships, including a tourney title in her final season at the helm in 2012.

During her career, Summitt produced 21 WBCA/Kodak/State Farm All-Americans, 39 All-SEC players, 12 Olympians and 34 WNBA draft picks, including 15 first-round selections. The number she was most proud of, however, was the 100-percent graduation rate for the 122 players who completed their careers and earned degrees at Tennessee under her watch.

Collecting an incredible array of honors during her career, Summitt was named SEC Coach of the Year eight times – 1993, 1995, 1998, 2001, 2003, 2004, 2007 and 2011. She was named the 1987, 1989, 1994, 1998 and 2004 Naismith Women's College Coach of the Year and WBCA/Converse Coach of the Year in 1983 and 1995 and the IKON/WBCA Coach of the Year in 1998.

Summitt belongs to the FIBA International, Naismith Memorial, Women's Basketball, Women's Sports Foundation, UT Athletics Tennessee Sports, Greater Knoxville Sports and National Association for Sports and Physical Education Hall of Fame. Her most esteemed honor, however, came on May 29, 2012, when she received the Presidential Medal of Freedom (presented by President Barack Obama) at the White House.

NO. 3 CANDACE PARKER

Guard/Forward/Center » 2004-08 » Naperville, Ill.

The seventh woman and sixth player to be honored with a jersey retirement ceremony at Food City Center was Candace Parker. The 6-foot-4 Parker's banner was unveiled on Jan. 2, 2014, prior to the Lady Vols' SEC opener vs. LSU.

During her three-year playing career, Parker led the Lady Vols to a pair of NCAA Championships in 2007 and 2008, to an SEC regular-season crown in 2007 and to SEC Tournament titles in 2006 and 2008. Tennessee posted a 101-10 overall record during her time at Rocky Top and a 38-4 mark in SEC play.

Parker started 109 of her 110 career games, scoring the third-most points in school history (2,137) and pulling down the sixth-best rebounding tally at 972 as of her career's end. She still ranks No. 3 in career double-doubles with 45 and stands tied for No. 2 in career rebounding average (8.8) and No. 4 in career scoring average (19.4).

Not the first player to dunk in the college game or even at Tennessee, Parker did make the dunk a more common occurrence in women's basketball. She was the first to dunk in an NCAA game, doing so twice vs. Army on March 19, 2006. She also set UT records for most dunks in a game (2), season (4) and career (7).

Because of her play, she has earned a plethora of awards. Among them, John R. Wooden and USBWA Player of the Year (2007, 2008), NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player (2007, 2008), WBCA All-American (2006, 2007, 2008), SEC Female Athlete of the Year (2008), SEC Player of the Year (2007), Coaches First-Team All-SEC (2006, 2007, 2008), CoSIDA Academic All-American (2007, 2008) and CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year (2008).

After helping Tennessee win the 2008 NCAA title in Tampa, Fla., Parker was chosen as the first pick of that spring's WNBA Draft by the Los Angeles Sparks, earning league MVP and rookie of the year honors. She also played a key role in the U.S. women winning a gold medal at the 2008 and 2012 Summer Olympics and has continued to escalate her stature in both the professional ranks and internationally.

LADY VOLS IN THE PROFESSIONAL RANKS

There have been a limited number of opportunities for women to play basketball in the professional ranks through the years. However, 66 Lady Vols have taken advantage of the opportunity to play past their collegiate days in overseas leagues and in the United States. In 2025, five #LVFL standouts were regular-season members of teams in the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA).

LADY VOLS IN THE WNBA DRAFT

The Lady Vol basketball program has produced 66 professional players over the years, including 53 alumnae who went on to play in the WNBA. Of those 53 who continued their careers at the professional level in the WNBA, 46 were selected on draft day and 21 were picked in the first round.

Rennia Davis (2021), Rae Burrell (2022), Jordan Horston (2023) and Rickea Jackson (2024) gave Tennessee first-round picks in four consecutive drafts. It marked the first time in school history that UT had players selected in the first round in four straight seasons. The previous high was three first-round picks in 2001 (Tamika Catchings), 2002 (Michelle Snow) and 2003 (Gwen Jackson, Kara Lawson), which was tied with the run from 2021-23. Tennessee is only the third school all-time to accomplish a four-year streak, joining UConn (2008-11, 2013-16) and Notre Dame (2012-15).

Tennessee has placed two or more players in the first round of the draft five times. The 2012 draft was the Lady Vols' best ever, as Shekinna Stricklen (2nd, Seattle), Glory Johnson (4th, Tulsa) and Kelley Cain (7th, New York) all went in the first round. Vicki Baugh was taken in the third round (25th overall pick) by Tulsa.

Candace Parker and Alexis Hornbuckle were taken in 2008. The Sparks chose Parker with the first overall pick. Hornbuckle followed closely behind as the Shock picked her up with the fourth selection.

Dena Head and Daedra Charles were selected first and eighth respectively in the 1997 Elite Draft. Lady Vols doubled up again in 1999, with Chamique Holdsclaw going first to the Mystics and Tonya Edwards going seventh to the Lynx. Kara Lawson and Gwen Jackson were taken with back-to-back picks in 2003, with Lawson going fifth to the Shock and Jackson going sixth to the Fever.

LADY VOLS TAKEN IN THE WNBA FIRST ROUND (21)

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

April 30 (1974) – As a senior at the University of Tennessee-Martin, Pat Summitt is sent a letter asking her to become a physical education teacher and head women's basketball coach at UT. Summitt, then known as Pat Head, received it in the mail and accepted the job at age 22.

Dec. 7 (1974) – Pat Summitt coached the first of her 1,306 games at Tennessee, with her squad dropping a nail-biter to Mercer, 84-83, at Alumni Gym

Jan. 10 (1975) – Pat Summitt picked up her first win as Tennessee's head coach, 69-32, over Middle Tennessee State in front of 53 fans at Alumni Gym.

Nov. 13 (1976) – In her debut game as a Lady Vol, senior Patricia "Trish" Roberts fired in 51 points (and made it a double-double with 20 rebounds) to lead Tennessee to a season-opening 107-53 victory over Kentucky. That single-game scoring total still stands as the school record through the 2019-20 season and matches the UT men's record of 51 held by Tony White.

Feb. 19 (1977) – Senior Patricia "Trish" Roberts pulled down 24 rebounds vs. Anderson to set the Lady Vol record for a single game. That marks still stands through the 2019-20 season.

March 26 (1977) – The Lady Vols defeated Immaculata, 91-71, in Minneapolis to finish 28-5 overall and take third in their initial appearance in the AIAW Championships Tournament.

Feb. 10 (1980) – Fifth-ranked Tennessee won the first-ever SEC Tournament for women's basketball, defeating Ole Miss, 85-71, at Stokely Athletics Center.

Feb. 18 (1980) – The first Tennessee athlete, male or female, to have her jersey retired by the University of Tennessee was Knoxville native Holly Warlick (1976-80), who was honored after the final home regular season game of her career vs. Clemson. Warlick, whose No. 22 now hangs from the rafters of Thompson-Boling Arena, would later serve as an assistant coach and associate head coach for Pat Summitt (1985-2012) and follow her coach, friend and mentor as the Lady Vol skipper from 2012-19.

March 23 (1980) – UT, which finished third in two previous trips to the AIAW Final Four, played in its first AIAW National Championship game, falling to Old Dominion, 68-53, in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

March 29 (1981) – The Lady Vols made a return to the title game of the AIAW Final Four, finishing as runner-up for the second year in a row with a 79-59 loss to Louisiana Tech. It marked UT's last appearance in an AIAW postseason event with the first edition of the NCAA Tournament coming in 1982.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

March 26 (1982) – Tennessee played in the inaugural NCAA Final Four for women, falling, 69-46, to Louisiana Tech in the semifinal round.

Aug. 7 (1984) – Serving as the head coach of the U.S. Olympic Team and assisted by UT aide Nancy Darsch, Pat Summitt guided the American women to their first-ever gold medal with an 85-55 victory over South Korea in Los Angeles. Summitt was carried off the Inglewood Forum floor by her players, including Lady Vols Lea Henry and Cindy Noble.

April 1 (1984) – In their second trip to the NCAA Final Four, the Lady Vols advanced to their first championship game before falling to Southern California at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles, 72-61.

Feb. 17 (1985) – The Lady Vols began a streak of 565 consecutive weeks in the Associated Press Top 25, stretching until Feb. 22, 2016. During that 31-year run, the Lady Vols had been ranked No. 1 103 times. They were in the top five for 407 weeks and in the top 10 506 times.

March 3 (1985) – Tennessee beat Auburn, 63-60, in Oxford, Mississippi, to capture the SEC Tournament Championship (UT's second) and provide the Lady Vols with their first-ever season sweep of league hardware after previously claiming their initial regular season title in 1985 as well.

Jan. 4, (1987) – Career victory number 300 came Pat Summitt's way, thanks to an 87-68 home triumph over North Carolina.

March 29 (1987) – Tennessee got 13 points each from sophomores Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost as well as freshman Final Four Most Outstanding Player Tonya Edwards to roll past Louisiana Tech, 67-44, in Austin, Texas, and claim the school's first NCAA title in women's basketball in its fourth trip to the NCAA Final Four and eighth overall Final Four trip including AIAW tournaments.

Dec. 3 (1987) – The Lady Vols played their first-ever game in brand-new Thompson-Boling Arena, racing to a 102-59 victory over Stetson. A men's game followed, with the Vols beating Marquette, 82-56.

Dec. 9 (1987) – The Lady Vols set a world record for women's basketball attendance, as a crowd of 24,563 attended a contest between No. 1 Tennessee and No. 2 Texas that the Longhorns won, 97-78.

March 6 (1988) – Senior Dawn Marsh dished out 18 assists to set the Lady Vol single-game record in an 82-76 SEC Tournament semifinal round victory over Georgia in Albany, Ga.

April 2 (1989) – Most Outstanding Player Bridgette Gordon fired in a title game record-tying 27 points and pulled down 10 rebounds, as the Lady Vols beat SEC foe Auburn, 76-60, in Tacoma, Washington, to claim their second NCAA title in three seasons.

Jan. 17 (1990) – Two-time WBCA All-American and 1988 U.S. Olympic gold medalist Bridgette Gordon (1985-89) became the second Lady Vol to be honored with a banner in Thompson-Boling Arena when her No. 30 was raised to the rafters. She would later serve as assistant coach at UT from 2017-19.

Jan. 25 (1990) – A 70-69 road victory at South Carolina gave Pat Summitt her 400th career win.

Feb. 2 (1991) – The Lady Vol beat Tennessee Tech, 94-67, at Thompson-Boling Arena to record the first victory in what would become a program-best 69-game home-court winning streak. That spree was the longest in NCAA women's history at the time.

March 31 (1991) – After Virginia eliminated UT from the 1990 NCAA Tournament and prevented the Lady Vols from playing in a Final Four hosted at Thompson-Boling Arena in Knoxville, Tennessee exacted revenge in the 1991 Final Four in New Orleans. Junior Dena Head scored a championship game-record 28 points to help the Big Orange take down guard Dawn Staley and the Cavaliers, 70-67, in the first-ever NCAA Women's Final Four overtime game for the Big Orange's third crown in five seasons.

Dec. 28 (1991) – While Tennessee hosted the SEC-Big 10 Challenge, Daedra Charles (1988-91) returned to Knoxville thinking she'd be joining other teammates in surprising Pat Summitt with a scholarship in the coach's name. Summitt had a surprise, too, retiring the two-time All-American and 1991 Wade Trophy winner's No. 32 jersey and making her the third Lady Vol to be so honored.

Nov. 21 (1993) – Pat Summitt celebrated victory number 500 after the Lady Vols ran past Ohio State, 80-45, at the inaugural State Farm Women's Basketball Hall of Fame Classic in Jackson, Tennessee. OSU was coached by former Summitt assistant Nancy Darsch, who was at UT from 1978-85 and was on Summitt's 1984 Olympic staff.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

Jan. 16 (1995) – Pat Summitt agreed to add up-and-coming program UConn to the schedule and played the first game in the series at the Huskies' Gampel Pavilion in Storrs. The second-ranked hosts claimed the first-ever meeting with No. 1 UT, 77-66.

Jan. 14 (1996) – Senior Michelle Marciniak tallied a school-record 11 steals in a 60-45 win at Kentucky.

March 29 (1996) – Tennessee picked up its first victory over UConn in four tries, defeating the Huskies at the 1996 Final Four in Charlotte, 88-83 in overtime, to advance to the title game.

March 31 (1996) – After going without an NCAA title for four seasons, Tennessee reclaimed its throne in Charlotte, N.C., beating UConn in the semifinals and cruising past Georgia in the championship game, 83-65, with senior guard Michelle Marciniak earning Final Four Most Outstanding Player honors.

Nov. 23 (1996) – Career triumph No. 600 for Pat Summitt came vs. Marquette via an 83-68 blowout at the Howard Bank Classic in Burlington, Vermont. Howard Dean (then Vermont governor) was on hand to present a congratulatory cake to Summitt after the game.

March 15 (1997) – With a 91-54 victory over Grambling during the NCAA First Round in Knoxville, the Lady Vols both launched their improbable six-game run to the 1997 NCAA Championship and won the first of what would become a 46-contest string of victories that lasted until No. 5 Purdue upset No. 1 Tennessee, 78-68, in West Lafayette, Ind., on Nov. 15, 1998.

March 30 (1997) – The Lady Vols overcame a 10-loss season and won their first back-to-back NCAA titles, capturing the 1997 trophy with a 68-59 victory over Old Dominion in Cincinnati, thanks to a 24-point title-game effort from Final Four Most Outstanding Player Chamique Holdsclaw and a Final Four-record 20 assists in two games (title-game best 11 vs. ODU) from Kellie Jolly.

Nov. 23 (1997) – UT Martin names its basketball playing surface Pat Summitt Court after its former star.

Jan. 3 (1998) – The Lady Vols set a (then) NCAA record for on-campus attendance at a women's basketball game, drawing 24,597 to watch an 84-69 victory by No. 1 UT over No. 3 UConn.

Feb. 7 (1998) – The first advance sellout in Lady Vol basketball history is announced, and 24,373 are on hand to witness No. 1 UT blow out No. 3 Old Dominion, 85-61.

March 29 (1998) – Tennessee pulled off the first-ever 39-0 season and championship three-peat in NCAA women's basketball history, cruising past Louisiana Tech, 93-75, in Kansas City, Missouri, to claim the program's sixth all-time national title. Tamika Catching (27), Chamique Holdsclaw (25) and Kellie Jolly (20) led the way for the Big Orange, as UT put up a Final Four-record 55 points in the first half to build a 23-point lead at the intermission.

Dec. 5 (1999) – Win number 700 of Pat Summitt's career occurs, as the Lady Vols win at Wisconsin, 85-62, enabling Summitt to join Jody Conradt of Texas as the only women's coaches at the time with 700 career victories.

May 4 (1999) – Four-time All-American Chamique Holdsclaw was taken as the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft, going to the Washington Mystics.

June 5 (1999) – Pat Summitt was inducted with the inaugural class into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in Knoxville.

Oct. 13 (2000) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts, gaining entrance the first time she was on the ballot.

Nov. 25 (2000) – Tennessee junior Michelle Snow executed the first dunk by a woman captured on live TV, when she threw one down with both hands and hung on the rim briefly in UT's 111-62 victory over Illinois at the Women's Maui Invitational.

Feb. 1 (2001) – Chamique Holdsclaw (1995-99) became the fourth Lady Vol to have her jersey retired, with her No. 23 jersey being hoisted skyward in Thompson-Boling Arena at halftime of a marquee showdown vs. UConn. Through the 2019-20 season, Holdsclaw remains the all-time scoring (3,025) and rebounding (1,295) leader in UT women's history.

Jan. 5 (2002) – Tennessee and UConn reset the (then) NCAA on-campus attendance bar once again, as 24,611 packed Thompson-Boling Arena to watch the No. 1 Huskies hold off the No. 2 Lady Vols, 86-72.

Jan 17 (2002) – Senior Michelle Snow dunked during an 80-61 win at South Carolina, becoming the first woman to dunk three times in a college career.

March 25 (2002) – Pat Summitt coached her team to the NCAA Final Four for the 13th time, passing UCLA legend John Wooden.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

March 29 (2002) – Tennessee and UConn played in front of the largest crowd to ever see an NCAA women's basketball game, with the Huskies taking a 79-56 Final Four semifinal game victory in front of 29,619 at the Alamodome in San Antonio.

Jan. 14 (2003) – Pat Summitt racked up career win No. 800 with a 76-57 home victory over DePaul and was celebrated postgame with fireworks, balloons and flowers.

Feb. 29 (2004) – Tennessee closed out the 2003-04 season by beating LSU, 85-62, to go 14-0 in SEC play. In doing so, the Lady Vols claimed their league-record seventh straight SEC regular season trophy. UT had an incredible 95-3 record in conference games during that run, beginning that dominance during the 1997-98 season.

March 4 (2005) – Pat Summitt tied Adolph Rupp of Kentucky for second place in all-time wins by an NCAA women's or men's coach (876), as Tennessee defeated Auburn, 64-54, in the SEC Tournament quarterfinals at Greenville, South Carolina.

March 20 (2005) – Tennessee's 94-43 win over Western Carolina in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at Knoxville allowed Pat Summitt to tie Dean Smith for first on the all-time win list among NCAA men's or women's coaches at 879.

March 22 (2005) – UT defeated Purdue, 75-54, in the NCAA Second Round in Knoxville, pushing Pat Summitt past North Carolina men's coach Dean Smith to become the NCAA's all-time winningest coach with 880 career victories. The UT administration surprised her during a postgame ceremony by announcing the Thompson-Boling Arena court would be named "The Summitt."

Jan. 7 (2006) – The Lady Vols hosted UConn in a No. 1 vs. No. 7 match-up, and Tennessee walked away with an 89-80 victory with a new NCAA record on-campus crowd of 24,653 looking on. That record still stands today.

March 19 (2006) – Redshirt freshman Candace Parker became the first woman to dunk in an NCAA Tournament game and the first to record two dunks in the same game, throwing one down in each half of UT's 102-54 victory over Army in the NCAA First Round at Norfolk, Virginia.

May 22 (2006) – Pat Summitt became the first college women's basketball coach to earn a one-million-dollar salary. The six-year deal was scheduled to increase to 1.125 million in 2006-07 and to 1.5 million in 2011-12.

Nov. 12 (2006) – Redshirt sophomore Candace Parker became the first woman to dunk at Thompson-Boling Arena, firing up the home crowd during a 102-72 runaway over Chattanooga. She went on to become the first woman to tally three slams in a single season.

April 3 (2007) – Picking up its first NCAA title since 1998, the Lady Vols toppled Rutgers, 59-46, in Cleveland, Ohio, for UT's seventh national championship. Redshirt sophomore Candace Parker was named Most Outstanding Player after leading Tennessee with 17 points in the finale.

Feb. 3 (2008) – Candace Parker executed the seventh and final dunk of her career, sending one home in the second half of a 79-51 home romp over Kentucky. Through the 2019-20 season, Parker still possesses the school records for single game (2), season (3) and career (7) dunks.

April 8 (2008) – Tennessee claimed its eighth, and Pat Summitt's final, NCAA National Championship, with redshirt junior Candace Parker repeating as Final Four Most Outstanding Player as the Lady Vols claimed back-to-back titles with a 64-48 victory over Stanford in Tampa, Florida

April 9 (2008) – Three-time All-American Candace Parker was taken as the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft, going to the Los Angeles Sparks. The rest of UT's 2008 NCAA Championship team starting five [Alexis Hornbuckle (1st Rd./4th), Shannon Bobbitt (2nd Rd./15th), Nicky Anosike (2nd Rd./16th), Alberta Auguste (3rd Rd./35th)] also was selected in the draft, marking the first occasion and one of only two times that has occurred (Notre Dame, 2019).

April 12 (2008) – Pat Summitt becomes the first women's coach to earn the John R. Wooden Legends in Coaching Lifetime Achievement Award.

Oct. 3 (2008) – Candace Parker became the first-ever winner of WNBA MVP and Rookie of the Year honors in the same season. Her 2008 year also included capturing an NCAA Championship at Tennessee, being taken as the WNBA's No. 1 draft pick and winning a gold medal with the U.S. Olympic Team.

Feb. 5 (2009) – Pat Summitt became the first woman or man to win 1,000 games in NCAA basketball, as Tennessee rolled past Georgia with a 73-43 home victory.

Feb. 22 (2009) – Tennessee's second-longest home-court winning streak began on this day, as the Lady Vols started a 38-game spree with an 82-68 victory over Mississippi State at Thompson-Boling Arena. UT did not lose again on The Summitt until Nov. 27, 2011, in a 76-67 defeat at the hands of No. 1 Baylor.

Dec. 28 (2009) – In the first-ever women's outdoor NCAA Division I basketball game, No. 2 Tennessee held off host Arizona State, 67-63, in front of 16,782 fans on a cool desert night at the home of Major League Baseball's Arizona Diamondbacks, Bank One Ballpark, in Phoenix.

Feb. 22 (2010) – Redshirt sophomore Kelley Cain blocked a UT record 12 shots in a 70-61 home win over LSU. She would go on to card 113 rejections for the season, also a school record.

Dec. 19 (2010) – The Lady Vols beat Stanford in overtime, 82-72, in Knoxville, beginning a program-best 25-game winning streak that would not end until March 28, 2011, with a 73-59 loss to Notre Dame in the Dayton Regional Final.

Aug. 23 (2011) – At the age of 59, Pat Summitt announced that she had been diagnosed with early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type. Bravely, she continued on as head coach for the 2011-12 season, which would be her last as leader of UT women's hoops.

Sept. 22 (2011) – Tamika Catchings became the second Lady Vol alum to win WNBA MVP honors, earning the award after finishing second in balloting in 2003, 2009 and 2010.

Nov. 27 (2011) – At halftime of a home game vs. Baylor, Pat Summitt and her son, Tyler, announced the formation of the Pat Summitt Foundation.

Feb. 26 (2012) – Tennessee is victorious in what many felt would be Pat Summitt's final game on the court that bears her name. Her Lady Vols took care of Florida on senior day, 75-59, with a season-best crowd of 18,563 on hand to run the year's per-game average to 14,414.

March 4 (2012) – In her final conference tourney as head coach, Pat Summitt's Lady Vols captured an emotionally-charged SEC Tournament crown in Nashville, defeating LSU by a 70-58 count for Summitt's 16th SEC postseason trophy. The legendary coach cut down a championship net for the final time.

March 24 (2012) – Sophomore Meighan Simmons scored 22 points, and UT came from 14 points down, as Pat Summitt secured what would be the final victory of her career in an 84-73 triumph over Kansas in the Des Moines Regional Semifinal.

March 26 (2012) – In the Des Moines Regional Final, the Lady Vols fell to eventual national champion Baylor, 77-58, in what turned out to be Pat Summitt's final game as head coach.

April 16 (2012) – Tennessee had three players selected within the top 10 picks of the WNBA Draft, as Shekinna Stricklen went at No. 2 to the Seattle Storm (from Chicago), Glory Johnson went at No. 4 to the Tulsa Shock and Kelley Cain went at No. 7 to the New York Liberty.

April 18 (2012) – Pat Summitt, who had announced a diagnosis of early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type on Aug. 23, 2011, stepped down as head coach of the Lady Vols, finishing with a career record of 1,098-208 (.840), with eight NCAA championships, a combined 32 SEC crowns (16 regular season/16 tournament) and a 100 percent graduation rate for players who completed their eligibility at UT.

April 19 (2012) – After playing at Tennessee (1976-80) and serving as an assistant and later associate head coach at UT from 1985 to 2012, Holly Warlick was introduced at a gathering at Thompson-Boling Arena as the successor to Pat Summitt, who moved to a role as head coach emeritus.

May 29 (2012) – In a ceremony at the White House, Pat Summitt was presented the Presidential Medal of Freedom by President Barack Obama.

Jan. 28 (2013) – Prior to a game vs. Notre Dame, head coach emeritus Pat Summitt became the sixth person and first non-player associated with the Lady Vol program to be honored with a banner at Thompson-Boling Arena. With great honor and distinction, she led the Lady Vols for 38 seasons from 1974-2012.

Feb. 28 (2013) – Tennessee, under first-year head coach Holly Warlick, defeated Texas A&M, 82-72, on The Summitt to clinch its first SEC regular season title with someone other than Pat Summitt at the helm.

June 19 (2013) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the FIBA Basketball Hall of Fame.

Sept. 19 (2013) – Lady Vol alum Candace Parker won her second WNBA MVP award, becoming just the fifth player to earn that distinction on more than one occasion.

Nov. 2 (2013) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the University of Tennessee Athletics (then Lady Vol) Hall of Fame.

Nov. 22 (2013) – The Pat Summitt Plaza and Statue (created by renowned sculptor David Adickes of Houston, Texas) were dedicated at the corner of Lake Loudoun Blvd. and Phillip Fulmer Way.

Jan. 2 (2014) – The sixth Lady Vol and seventh woman affiliated with the UT program to have her jersey retired, three-time All-American and two-time Olympic gold medalist Candace Parker (2004-08) saw her No. 3 banner raised to the rafters prior to Tennessee's SEC opener vs. LSU.

March 9 (2014) – The Lady Vols claimed their 17th all-time SEC Tournament title, edging Kentucky, 71-70, in Duluth, Georgia.

March 1 (2015) – Tennessee beat Vanderbilt, 79-49, in the regular-season finale to finish 15-1 in league play and capture its 18th SEC championship.

June 28 (2016) – Pat Summitt, legendary Lady Vol basketball coach, mentor and mother-figure to her players; a revered ambassador for her university and state; a trailblazer for women; and a role model for people all over the world, passed away in Knoxville at the age of 64. She had announced a diagnosis of early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type, on Aug. 23, 2011.

Aug. 20 (2016) – Tamika Catchings became the first Lady Vol alum and one of only five American women to win four Olympic gold medals in basketball, helping the U.S. beat Spain, 101-72, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

March 27 (2019) – After seven seasons at the helm of the Lady Vol program, during which she produced a 172-67 record (.720) with seven NCAA Tournament appearances, two SEC regular titles and an SEC tourney crown, the Holly Warlick era came to an end after UT finished 19-13 and lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

April 9 (2019) – LVFL (1995-99) and Pat Summitt protégé Kellie Harper (previously at Missouri State) was announced as the third Lady Vol head coach in the history of women's intercollegiate athletics at Tennessee.

Jan. 20 (2020) – Tennessee picked up its 400th all-time SEC regular season win and Kellie Harper won the 300th game of her career, as Rennia Davis hit a long-range, buzzer-beating three-pointer to lift UT past Alabama, 65-63, at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Jan. 23 (2020) – After not meeting since Jan. 6, 2007, Tennessee and UConn renewed their rivalry for a worthwhile cause, playing at the XL Center in Hartford, Connecticut, with proceeds from the game going to the Pat Summitt Foundation and the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. With a home crowd of 13,659 behind them, the Huskies won the contest, 60-45, to halt a three-game UT winning streak in the series.

March 12 (2020) – Due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) global health crisis, the NCAA announced the 2020 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament and all other collegiate athletic events remaining that spring were canceled.

May 15 (2021) – Tamika Catchings became the first Lady Vol player inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, going in with childhood friend the late Kobe Bryant in the Class of 2020 (ceremony delayed a year due to COVID-19).

April 29 (2023) – Carolyn Peck, who served as an assistant coach at UT from 1993-95, was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

August 12 (2023) – Cindy Brogdon, Patricia Roberts and Pat (Head) Summitt were inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame as members of the 1976 U.S. Olympic Women's Team. That squad claimed a silver medal in the women's game's first competition held at the Olympic Games. Summitt, who played collegiately at UT Martin, was the Lady Vols' head coach at the time she played in that contest.

August 23 (2023) – Tennessee Athletics announced a 10-year naming-rights agreement in excess of 20 million dollars with longtime corporate partner Food City that rebrands UT's on-campus arena as Thompson-Boling Arena at Food City Center.

April 1 (2024) – After five years of leading the UT women's program, during which she produced a 108-52 record (.675) with four NCAA Tournament appearances and a school-best four consective first-round WNBA Draft picks from 2021-24, the Kellie Harper era came to an end after UT finished 20-13 and lost in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

April 7 (2024) – Kim Caldwell was announced by Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics Danny White (pictured below) as the fourth leader of the Lady Volunteers during the NCAA era, becoming the first person outside the Pat Summitt coaching tree to take the reins of the program following a 50-year run that started with the legendary coach in 1974-75.

Dec. 14 (2024) – Tennessee set school and SEC records for points in a 139-59 triumph over N.C. Central and made 30 three-pointers to shatter NCAA, SEC and UT records and also top NCAA men's, NBA and WNBA bests.

Jan. 2 (2025) – After her team won at Texas A&M, 91-78, in the SEC opener, Kim Caldwell and company ran their record to 13-0 and gave Caldwell the best start ever in a debut season by a Lady Vol basketball coach.

FACILITIES

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA AT FOOD CITY CENTER

Thompson-Boling Arena at Food City Center is the fifth-largest college basketball arena in the country, and the Lady Vols own a 532-64 (.893) record at the facility through 38 years entering the 2025-26 season.

The venue, located along the Tennessee River and named for B. Ray Thompson and retired UT President Edward J. Boling, debuted during the 1987-88 season. On Aug. 23, 2023, corporate partner Food City added its name via a 10-year rights agreement. The court has been named "The Summitt" since Jan. 14, 2003, when Pat Summitt claimed the 800th victory of her career with a 76-57 win over DePaul.

Following renovations in 2007, the facility has an official seating capacity of 21,678. As part of a $19 million renovation of the arena prior to the 2007-08 season, 32 luxury suites were added to the existing north balcony along with a loge area just below the suites that includes 166 side court seats. A $3 million center-hung scoreboard, new black seats and several concourse refurbishments also were part of the renovation. The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The structure contains 142,000 square feet of roof area, which is approximately three and one-quarter acres.

The enormous facility houses the Tennessee women's and men's basketball offices. The UT Ticket Office is located on the Phillip Fulmer Way level on the west end of the building. A continuous-ring concourse encircles the building, permitting entrance to eight restrooms, six concession areas and 32 portals that lead to the arena. The playing floor level provides access to the media room and storage areas as well as the very impressive Larry Pratt Basketball Locker Room Complex and the visitor dressing rooms, constructed from 2017 to 2018.

Since the building opened on Dec. 3, 1987 (the Lady Vols beat Stetson, 102-59), UT women's basketball has enjoyed a number of lengthy home winning streaks. On Dec. 28, 2003, Texas snapped a 24-game run that dated back to the 2001-02 season. A previous streak of 26 consecutive wins in the home confines ended on Jan. 5, 2002, with an 86-72 loss to Connecticut. The Lady Vols broke the NCAA homecourt winning streak record with 69 consecutive victories before Connecticut spoiled the streak with a 59-53 win in game number 70 on Jan. 6, 1996. Tennessee claimed 64 straight home SEC victories before third-ranked LSU snapped the streak with a 72-69 victory – its first ever in Knoxville – on Feb. 9, 2006. The Lady Vols took a 36-game home winning streak into the 2011-12 season before Baylor snapped it at 38 on Nov. 27, 2011.

UT won all 18 contests in Knoxville in 2014-15, setting a school and arena record for most home wins in a season and best record in a season. Coupled with winning its last four home games of the 2013-14 season and the first five in 2015-16, UT strung together 27-consecutive victories before falling to Texas on Nov. 29, 2015.

In 1998-99, the Lady Vols played before the largest average home crowd in the history of women's collegiate basketball, as 16,565 spectators per game clicked through the turnstiles. In all, 231,915 fans viewed home games in Knoxville. During the 1997-98 season, Tennessee set several collegiate attendance records. On Jan. 3, 1998, the Lady Vols entertained a new women's collegiate record 24,597 fans for the game with Connecticut. A month later, the first advance sell-out in UT women's basketball history occurred when the Lady Vols were set to meet Old Dominion in Knoxville. For the record, 24,373 fans attended the UT-ODU game.

The all-time attendance mark was reset during the 2001-02 season when 24,611 fans visited the arena for a #1/#2 clash between UT and Connecticut. It was again reset on Jan. 7, 2006, when the Huskies came to Knoxville in front of 24,653 spectators. The women's basketball attendance mark was established at the 2002 NCAA Final Four when 29,619 people filled the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, for the championship game.

The Lady Vols started the record-breaking trend in women's collegiate basketball attendance in 1987. That season, the Lady Vols broke the (then) world record for single game attendance at a women's basketball game with 24,563 at the Tennessee versus Texas game on Dec. 9, 1987. Three years later, UT established new NCAA Women's Final Four attendance marks on March 30 and April 1, 1990, with a total paid attendance of 39,490 for the three-game event. The turnstile count of 34,196 (17,601 semis/16,595 finals) also broke all other attendance marks.

In 2013-14, UT led the NCAA in attendance for the 11th-straight season and the 17th time in the last 18 years. The Lady Vols have finished a season No. 1 in average attendance 19 times overall.

STOKELY ATHLETICS CENTER

Stokely Athletics Center was home to the Lady Volunteer basketball team from 1976-87. The facility, which still housed UT Athletics offices long after its days of hosting games, was closed for good in December 2012 and demolished during the summer of 2014.

The Stokely Arena, which was encircled by a four-lane Tartan indoor track, seated 12,700, while the building housed the former men's and women's athletics department offices. The building was originally called the UT Armory Field House in 1958 and seated just more than 7,000 spectators. Through the generosity of the late William B. Stokely, Jr., further construction was completed and on Dec. 1, 1966, the facility was renamed to honor the Stokely family.

In 1986, Stokely took on a new look as a wood playing surface replaced the old tartan court. The Horner "Pro King" hardwood was painted with the traditional outline of the state of Tennessee in the center of the floor and the familiar end line markings. The court was special-made for the University by the same manufacturer who supplied the basketball court to the Forum for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games.

Stokely Athletics Center was the site of some historic games for the Lady Vols. The first women's contest played in SAC pitted Tennessee versus Kentucky on Nov. 13, 1976. The Lady Vols not only trounced the Lady Kats, 107-53, but UT's Patricia Roberts tossed in a Field House record 51 points. That mark stands as the Lady Vol record to this day.

Along the way, Tennessee hosted the great gold medalist USSR Olympic Team in 1979, the USA All-Star team in 1979 and the first Southeastern Conference Championships in 1980.

The last Lady Vol game in Stokely, before moving to Thompson-Boling Arena, was a 77-61 win over Auburn in the finals of the NCAA Mideast Regionals on March 21, 1987. A week later, the Lady Vols returned to Stokely to celebrate UT's first NCAA basketball title with thousands of fans in attendance.

Although no formal attendance figures were kept prior to 1982, Tennessee most-assuredly was among the nation's elite in fan support.

ALUMNI GYM

Constructed in the 1930's, Alumni Gym was the first real home to the inaugural Lady Vol team in 1974, which was coached by Pat Summitt. The court in the tiny arena (seating 3,000) was the centerpiece of an encircling tri-balcony seating arrangement.

PRATT PAVILION

In October 2006, Tennessee Athletics had a groundbreaking ceremony to officially recognize construction on the Pratt Pavilion, the state-of-the-art basketball practice facility named in UT alumnus Larry F. Pratt's honor for his $5 million lead gift to the basketball programs. The Pratt Pavilion, which opened in the fall of 2007, houses two full-size gymnasiums, one each for the men's and women's basketball teams, as well as space for an athletic training room, weight room, film study room and a recruiting lounge.

Directly connected to Food City Center, Pratt Pavilion has convenient ground level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure has four short courts within each of the two full-size courts. The facility is equipped with secured practice facilities, spacious locker rooms and recruiting rooms as well. Balconies at the south side of the building overlook the practice courts.

Pratt Pavilion had a total project cost of $16 million, funded entirely through private gifts. Lead donor Pratt's commitment in April 2006, coupled with leadership gifts from other campaign donors, including Jim Haslam, Brenda Lawson and Robbie Nutt, enabled UT to move forward with the project.

This was not Pratt's first donation. In the 1990s he honored his father Floyd by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. He also was recognized at the Tennessee vs. Georgia football game in 2003 for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign. Pratt, an Athens, Tenn., native, currently resides in McLean, Va. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 from the UT College of Business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington D.C.

THE FEW. THE PROUD. THE NCAA CHAMPIONS.

The few. The proud. The NCAA Champions. During Pat Head Summitt's tenure as head coach (1974-2012), only 161 women were selected to wear the Orange and White of the University of Tennessee Lady Volunteers.

Fifty-eight players of 161 (through the 2011-12 season) earned the distinction of being an "NCAA Champion" during their playing days at the University of Tennessee. That's practically 40 percent! And that is truly remarkable. Additionally, forty percent of the 58 players brought home two or more titles.

A total of 12 coaches helped to bring the eight titles to the Knoxville campus. The common denominator of the eight championships with coach Summitt was (then) associate head coach Holly Warlick. In her first tenure with the Lady Vols, Mickie DeMoss claimed six rings (1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997 and 1998). Former assistants Al Brown (1996, 1997 and 1998) and Nikki Caldwell (2007, 2008) are the only former aides with numerous titles. Current assistant Dean Lockwood picked up his first national titles as a Lady Vol coach in 2007 and 2008. Seven graduate assistant coaches had the opportunity to experience one title each.

■ Six Lady Vols have been the tournament's leading scorer on eight occasions -- Mary Ostrowski (1984), Bridgette Gordon (1987, 1989), Dana Johnson (1995), Chamique Holdsclaw (1997, 1998), Tamika Catchings (2000) and Candace Parker (2007).

■ UT's Chamique Holdsclaw (1996-99) is the NCAA's second-leading all-time tournament scorer with 479 points in 22 NCAA contests, surpassed only by Iowa's Caitlin Clark (492, 17 games, 2021-24).

■ Seven Lady Vols have been the tournament's leading rebounder -- Mary Ostrowski (1984), Sheila Frost (1987), Daedra Charles (1991), Chamique Holdsclaw (1998), Tamika Catchings (2000), Gwen Jackson (2003) and Candace Parker (2007).

■ Tennessee has twice come from 17 points down to win NCAA Tournament games, doing so most recently on March 28, 2015, vs. Gonzaga in Spokane, Wash. The Lady Vols trailed the Bulldogs, 57-40, with 6:34 to play before rallying to force overtime and prevail, 73-69, after an extra five minutes of play.

■ Prior to that epic comeback vs. Gonzaga, Tennessee trailed Virginia by 17 in Charlottesville, 31-14, with 17:06 remaining before rallying to take a 52-46 victory over the Cavaliers in the Elite Eight on March 25, 1996.

1987 National Champions

Tennessee may have failed in its first bid at the NCAA national championship in 1984, but the second time was the charm for the Lady Vols. Tennessee thumped Louisiana Tech, which was vying for its second title, 67-44.

"Well, the monkey's off my back," head coach Pat Summitt said. "I do not think I could go without recognizing that it was a tremendous team effort...has been for the last three weeks. This team has played as hard and as smart as I could ask any team to play."

The Lady Vols built a 33-24 halftime edge and never looked back. Seven minutes into the second half, Tennessee had increased its lead to 14, 47-33, and the rest was history as Tennessee took its first NCAA title.

Tennessee attempted 19 more field goals and grabbed 11 more rebounds than the Lady Techsters. A championship-game record crowd of 9,823 watched Tonya Edwards net 13 points and grab seven rebounds en route to most outstanding player honors. Two additional Lady Vols contributed 13 points – Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost. Gordon joined Edwards on the All-Championship team, as she also led the Tennessee carom parade, pulling down a game-high 12 rebounds.

It was a battle of Southeastern Conference powerhouses – Tennessee versus Auburn for all the marbles.

The Lady Vols looked to regain the national title they earned in 1987. Although they were up against a Lady Tiger team that had made its second straight national championship final, Tennessee took home its second NCAA championship in three years with a 76-60 win.

Playing in her triumphant final game, All-America forward Bridgette Gordon treated the 9,758 spectators to a spectacular 27-point performance, tying a championship-game record. She also collected 11 boards on the way to most outstanding player honors.

Gordon's seven first-half baskets helped the Lady Vols to a 35-27 halftime lead. Auburn was able to stay close, cutting the score to 50-47. But after a timeout, the Lady Vols went on a 13-4 run to put the game out of reach. The keys to the victory were the battle of the boards, where Tennessee outrebounded Auburn 45-30, and the free throw line, where Tennessee shot 20-26, while Auburn was 8-12.

Sheila Frost joined Gordon on the All-Championship team. Playing in her final game at Tennessee, Frost had six points and 12 boards. Also coming up big for the Lady Vols in the final was Dena Head, with 19 points.

Vindication was finally Tennessee's in the 1991 NCAA women's final, as the Lady Vols downed a talented Virginia Cavalier club, 70-67, in the first NCAA Final Four overtime title game. Virginia had eliminated Tennessee before it could reach the 1990 Women's Final Four – which just happened to be held in Knoxville. But the Lady Vols took New Orleans and their third NCAA title in five years.

The first half was tight, with Tennessee holding a paper-thin 27-26 advantage at the intermission. But the Lady Vols opened up a small lead in the second half. Small lead; small comfort.

Virginia's Dawn Staley, who was named the most outstanding player, led the Virginia comeback to tie the game at 60 at the end of regulation. But the overtime belonged to Tennessee and Dena Head, who scored a championship record 28 points in the final.

Wade Trophy winner Daedra Charles added 19 points and 12 boards for Tennessee and joined Head on the All-Championship Team. Tennessee's effort was also aided by the play of Lisa Harrison, who poured in eight points and 13 boards.

With the victory, the Lady Volunteers kept their streak of odd-year championships going. Tennessee also won national titles in 1987 and 1989.

1996 National Champions

It seemed only fitting that the Lady Vols would win another NCAA crown in the "Queen City" of Charlotte, N.C. And it was equally fitting that the Lady Vols' fourth NCAA title would come over a fierce SEC rival in the Georgia Lady Bulldogs, 83-65.

After the emotionally draining overtime win versus Connecticut, the skeptics wondered if UT would have enough emotional energy left for the title game. They did...and then some. Although Georgia held a modest three point lead early in the game and led by two with 14:11 to go in the first half, it would be their only lead in the title contest. UT senior Latina Davis put the handcuffs on Player of the Year Saudia Roundtree in the first half as the Lady Vols grabbed an early nine point lead, 28-19 with 7:36 to go in the first half. Georgia recovered to trail by just five at the half, 42-37.

In the first three minutes of the second half, UT took off and never looked back. Abby Conklin's trey (her first of four) with 14:55 left gave UT a 16-point lead, 57-41. Davis upped the ante to a 21 point lead with 2:25 showing, 81-60. The celebrating started early as the Final Four MVP, Michelle Marciniak, and All-Tournament Team members Chamique Holdsclaw and Tiffani Johnson left the game to wildly cheering fans. Davis, who held Roundtree to 17 points below her average, was UT's quiet heroine.

On the night, Holdsclaw and Johnson tallied 16 points to lead UT, while Conklin added 14 points, Pashen Thompson a dozen, and Marciniak 10 in the final game of her career.

1997 National Champions

No team had ever won the NCAA championship coming in with more than six losses. But proving that it's wise to save your best for last, Tennessee took its fifth NCAA championship and second straight title with a 68-59 win over Old Dominion despite entering the tournament with a 23-10 record.

"Of all our runs to a championship, this one is really the most unexpected," said coach Pat Summitt. "It came from a team with tremendous heart and desire."

Tennessee took control quickly at the start of the title game, jumping out to a 20-8 lead. By halftime, the Lady Vols still had a comfortable lead, 34-22.

In the second half, Old Dominion clawed its way back, taking its first lead at 44-43 with 9:06 left in the game. The Lady Monarchs extended the lead to two, 49-47, before Chamique Holdsclaw led the Lady Vols on a 12-2 run to put the game away for Tennessee.

Holdsclaw was a unanimous choice as the most outstanding player, as she poured in 24 points and seven rebounds. Six of her points came during the decisive run at the end of the game. Joining Holdsclaw on the All-Championship team was Kellie Jolly, who only scored five points, but set a championship record with 11 assists in the final game and a Final Four record with 20.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their fifth national title, played in their seventh championship game and became only the second team to win consecutive championships. (Southern Cal., 1983 and 1984).

The 1998 Tennessee Lady Vols will be remembered as history-makers. A perfect 39-0 record and the most wins ever in women's collegiate basketball... an NCAA unprecedented three consecutive titles... and the systematic blowout night-after-night of the opposition.

When the team finally reached the NCAA title game against a dear old rival in Louisiana Tech, the contest started out tight with UT taking an 8-6 lead. Then "the greatest team ever to play the game," according to Louisiana Tech head coach Leon Barmore, exploded out to a 34-11 run over the next seven minutes. The points were coming in bunches to the tune of 63% field goal accuracy as these Lady Vols were on a mission.

By the halftime break, Tennessee led 55-32 and had registered an NCAA record for the most points scored in a half at the Final Four. Leading the way for UT in game 39 were the Three Meeks – MVP Chamique Holdsclaw, Tamika Catchings and Semeka Randall—who collectively tallied 62 points and 25 rebounds in the Lady Vols' 93-75 victory.

Holdsclaw, who scored 25 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, won the top player honors in the final game. She was joined on the All-Tournament Team by Catchings, who recorded 27 points in her first title game, and an honorary "Meek", Kellie Jolly, who added a career-high 20 points.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their sixth national title, played in their eighth championship game and became the first team to win three consecutive NCAA titles.

On April 3, 2007, the Tennessee Lady Vols captured an elusive seventh national title, beating Rutgers to the ball for second and third shots in a 59-46 win to reclaim their customary place above all other programs.

Parker scored 17 points to lead her squad to a 34-3 final record, but the tournament's most outstanding player got plenty of help from Shannon Bobbitt who scored 13 points — nine of them on three treys in a lightning-quick span in the second half — and Nicky Anosike had 16 rebounds for the Lady Vols, who had 24 offensive boards.

After building a 16-point lead and then holding off a late push by Rutgers, the Lady Vols could finally celebrate, dribbling out the final 30 seconds under the Rutgers basket until Tennessee's players, some in tears, danced at midcourt as orange, blue and gold confetti fell from above.

"To win anything you have to be a tight team," Summitt said. "They believed in each other and they all had one goal, to be here in Cleveland and cut down the nets. I'm real, real proud of this team."

A three-pointer by Rutgers ended a 7-0 UT run that brought the Scarlet Knights to 50-42, but Parker made six straight free throws in 37 seconds to make it 56-44 with 1:08 left. As she went down the floor, Parker looked at the bench where senior Sidney Spencer was crying, knowing all the hard work during the offseason would end the best way possible.

The 2007 NCAA tournament ended the same way it has nearly one-third of the time since it started — with Tennessee setting up ladders to cut down the nets.

2008 National Champions

On April 8, 2008, the "under-rated" Tennessee Lady Vols captured their eighth national title, defeating Stanford 64-48. Incredible defensive pressure by UT forced 25 Cardinal turnovers which the Big Orange converted into 26 points.

"They came out with a great mentality to play hard, especially on the defensive end," Pat Summitt said. "On offense, we got more people involved, but it was our defense that got it done."

Tennessee standout Candace Parker, despite playing with a dislocated shoulder, scored 17 points and grabbed nine rebounds to help the Lady Vols capture their second straight championship, but unlike earlier games in the tournament when she had to carry the Lady Vols, her supporting cast came through. Shannon Bobbitt scored 13 points and Nicky Anosike added 12 points, eight rebounds and six steals for the Lady Vols. Freshman Vicki Baugh had eight points before tearing her ACL in the second half.

Bobbitt scored all of her points in the first half as the Lady Vols jumped out to a 37-29 advantage. Trailing by one early, Tennessee used a 13-4 run to take a 17-9 lead midway through the half. Bobbitt hit two three-pointers and made a nifty layup to cap the spurt. The teams traded baskets before two free throws by Bobbitt gave the Lady Vols a 35-25 lead - their biggest of the half.

Parker didn't shoot nearly as many jumpers as usual, instead taking the ball to the basket on an array of moves. She converted one steal in the second half into a pretty layup that gave the Lady Vols a 10-point advantage. She then followed it up with a three-point play on a driving layup. The Cardinal, who had a season low for points, would get no closer than eight the rest of the way. With the game in hand and a minute left, Parker went to the Tennessee bench for the final time, holding up four fingers on each hand to signify the eight titles the Lady Vols have won.

"One is disputable, but two, you can't stumble onto two national championships, so we're pretty good," Parker said.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION

Senior transfer All-Americans and Olympians Patricia Roberts and Jill Rankin played for the Lady Vols during their senior year only. Though they didn't become 1,000-point scorers at UT, their career marks are some of the nation's all-time bests.

In early August, the Lady Vols spent time in the community by volunteering at the Ronald McDonald House.

During summer workouts, the Lady Vols spent time together cooling off and having fun after practice at a local water park.

In August, the UT basketball teams again participated in Hoops for Hope, supporting the Down Syndrome Awareness Group of East Tennessee.

MEDIA POLICIES

COVERING PRACTICE

Please contact Eric Trainer at the Strategic Communications Office at least a week in advance to arrange player or coach feature interviews. If you plan to cover an open practice session, please contact the Strategic Communications Office on a daily basis to check about changes in the schedule.

PLAYER AND COACH INTERVIEWS

Media wishing to interview coaches or players are encouraged to set up interviews in advance with the Strategic Communications Office. Generally, the best time to conduct an interview is on a designated day with an open portion of practice and pre-practice media opportunity. The Strategic Communications Office will help with all requests.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Media outlets interested in obtaining credentials to cover Lady Vol basketball home games must apply for those online via Sports Systems. To apply, please visit: http://www.sportssystems.com/seccredentials. Applications for single-game credentials should be submitted five days prior to a game. Once you receive your approval letter via email, you will be provided options for credential pick-up.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS

Credentials will be issued only to accredited photographers or those individuals on special assignment. During regular season games, work area includes the floor area at both ends of the court and alongside the corners of the playing floor opposite the team benches. Special arrangements for strobes or catwalk access must be made through the Strategic Communicationsand Food City Center Management Offices no later than one week in advance of the game. UT's arena security policy requires that all photographers placing strobes will go through a screening process and must be accompanied by a UT police officer or representative when placing strobes.

THE SEC MEDIA POLICY

By acceptance and use of an SEC media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all athletic events hosted by the SEC and its member institutions:

1. The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes during the event.

(b) Video tape may only be shown as part of a single, non-archived, online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly-scheduled news program.

(c) While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

2. Any proposed media use on an Internet or online sight of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

3. Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

MEDIA PARKING PASSES AND MEDIA ENTRANCE

Digital parking passes for media approved for credentials will be distributed. Media parking is located in the G-10 garage between Neyland Stadium and Food City Center and along both Phillip Fulmer Way and Neyland Drive. The media entrance to Food City Center is located west of G-10 garage at the bottom of Staff Lot 5 at loading dock level. Please be advised that everyone must proceed through metal detectors to enter Food City Center and is subject to having their bags checked.

PRESS ROW

Press row is located just below the concourse in section 113 on the east end of the arena nearest the G-10 garage. Only accredited media will be allowed in this area. Children are not permitted on press row.

MEDIA ROOM SERVICES

The media room is on the east end of the arena. Soft drinks and a pregame meal will be available in the media room. Postgame interviews will be conducted in the media room, and the working press has numerous electrical outlets and wireless internet available. Wireless internet also is available on press row. If you choose to install a phone line on press row, please contact UT Telephone Services at (865) 974-3121.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Services provided include statistics generated from the Genius Sports computer statistics program. Statistics can be accessed via laptop or iPad. Hard copies of halftime boxscores, final boxscores and final game books will be available. To access up-to-date stats during a game, visit UTstats.com for a live feed.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

A formal postgame interview is held in the basketball media room following each game. The media will be solicited for player names with five minutes left in the contest. After a 10-minute cooling-off period, the visiting team coach and select players will be brought to the media room. Following the visiting team's media session, UT head coach Kim Caldwell and select UT players will come to the media room. Risers for television cameras and a distribution box for TV and radio are available in the back of the area.

RADIO

Requests to broadcast must be made in writing at the earliest possible date to receive permission. Stations are responsible for contacting Glenn Thackston at Learfield/Lady Vol Network in Knoxville for use of the phone lines in Food City Center. Mr. Thackston can be reached during business hours at (865) 212-3570. The radio broadcast location is on the floor level at the main scorer's table.

TELEVISION GAMES

Food City Center permits the outside parking of television tractor-trailer units and offers secure parking adjacent to the arena for satellite uplink units. Personnel from Food City Center Management, including electricians, are available to meet arriving trucks in advance of the game. Please notify the Strategic Communications Office of arrival plans.

UTSPORTS.COM

UTSports.com is the official online home for Tennessee Athletics. Here, one can find schedules, results, rosters, player bios and stats. There is unique content including photo galleries of events, behind-the-scenes features, video highlights and features, video interviews with players and coaches, as well as the latest news on every team on campus.

UTSports.com features links to game video being provided by SEC Network+, WatchESPN and other entities. By using the live (Sidearm Stats) stats link, fans can also follow the action online and stay updated on general statistics and trends.

LADY VOL NETWORK

For more than 75 years, the Vol Network has served as the main communications link between the University of Tennessee and its fans. As the broadcast rights holder to Tennessee Athletics, Learfield/Vol Network manages UT radio and television programming, game day publications, on-line services, venue signage and various other marketing and promotional activities related to Big Orange athletics. Learfield is recognized as the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company. With 50 radio affiliates and statewide coverage, the Vol Network boasts one of the largest collegiate basketball networks in the country.

Learfield/Vol Network/Lady Vol Network | (865) 212-3570 | 6701 Baum Drive, Suite 100 | Knoxville, TN 37919

The Lady Vol Radio Network

The Tennessee Lady Vols first found a home on the radio during the 1977-78 season. At that time, a handful of games were aired with John Ward, former play-by-play guru of UT football and men's basketball, handling the microphone. Bob Kesling debuted as the full-time voice for Lady Vol basketball and called the action through 1998-99 before handing off duties to Mickey Dearstone for 23 seasons until the conclusion of the 2021-22 campaign.

In 2022-23, Brian Rice stepped in as the network's third full-time play-by-play announcer after calling Lady Vol softball games for 10 years and serving as a fill-in for Mickey Dearstone in 2020-21. The Knoxville native also co-hosts The Erik Ainge Show from 9 a.m. to noon weekdays on Sports Radio WNML.

The flagship station of Lady Vol basketball broadcasts is the very same WNML (990 AM and 99.1 FM) in Knoxville. This will mark the 49th year of Lady Vol games on the air. The Lady Vol Network, with affiliates across the state, is the largest women's basketball radio network in the country. For more information about joining the Learfield/Lady Vol Network, contact Glenn Thackston at Learfield/Vol Network: (865) 212-3570.

Additionally, Lady Vol basketball games will again find a home on the Internet at www.utsports.com, as fans worldwide will be able to access the broadcasts. For more info., visit the Live Audio/Video section under the Fans tab.

Approximately 20 radio stations across the state of Tennessee will carry Lady Vol basketball games during the 2025-26 season. For listeners outside the range of the radio network, games can be heard on UTSports.com and the Tennessee Athletics App. Additionally, select Lady Vol games will once again be carried on SiriusXM Satellite Radio.

Vol Network Monday Meeting/The Mike Keith Show

Voice of Tennessee Athletics Mike Keith will provide coverage of Lady Vol Basketball this season via interviews on the Vol Network Monday Meeting and The Mike Keith Show.

The shows originate from a new studio space inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Complex.

The Vol Network Monday Meeting will air Mondays on Knoxville flagship TV station WVLT at 7 p.m. ET and across the state on the new Tennessee Valley Sports Network (TVSN) (Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga). An on-demand video replay of the show will be available on the Tennessee Athletics YouTube Channel, the Tennessee Athletics app and UTsports.com/watch.

The Mike Keith Show will feature Tennessee head coaches and special guests each Thursday from 3-5 p.m. ET. It airs live on the Tennessee Athletics YouTube Channel and participating Vol Radio Network affiliates across the state of Tennessee, including Knoxville flagship radio station WIVK 107.7 FM, on Thursday or Friday evenings. A video replay of the show will also air across the state on the new Tennessee Valley Sports Network (TVSN). Check local listing for the time in your area.

SEC ON THE WEB: For all you need to know about the Southeastern Conference and its member schools, access the SEC Web Page at www.SECSports.com. The site contains team information, scores, conference standings and statistics, awards recipients, history and records, feature stories, television information on conference events, details about tickets to SEC events, SEC merchandise and much, much more.

WEEKLY HONORS: The SEC will name a Player and Freshman of the Week each week throughout the regular season. Each week's selections will be released late Tuesday morning and also will be announced in the league's weekly release. The league women's basketball sports information directors make nominations for the award each week.

SEC HISTORY: The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, and included 13 schools at the time: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. The league's first president was Frank L. McVey of Kentucky. Due to the continually increasing amount of work administering the league, the office of Commissioner was established by its member institutions in 1940. Former Mississippi governor Martin Conner was named as the first commissioner, a post he held until 1948. Following Conner were Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90), Roy Kramer (1990-2002), and Mike Slive (2002-2015). Greg Sankey is currently Commissioner of the Southeastern Conference and its 16 member institutions.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 academic year. The conference office officially took over regulation of women's athletics on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 13 women's sports. Baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming and diving, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor, and cross country) are currently sanctioned for men. The women's sports are basketball, equestrian, golf, gymnastics, rowing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor and cross country) and volleyball.

SEC WEBSITE

The SEC has an extensive online presence at SECSports.com. The SEC offers a media-only section of the website (SECsportsmedia.com). Media covering the SEC can retrieve information from the conference office as well as the 16 SEC institutions from the media site. A championship credentialing system is also available on the site.

SEC NETWORK

Already the most competitive and visible conference in college sports, the SEC debuted its brand-new television network, in partnership with ESPN, on Aug. 14, 2014. The SEC Network reached more than 90 million homes coast to coast at its inception, making it the largest launch of a cable network ever.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The media credential system for the 2026 SEC Tournament will be available online from early January until late February. Go to www.SECsportsmedia.com for the online credentialing system.

For further information concerning media coverage of the 2026 SEC Tournament, please contact the SEC Communications Department.

TOURNAMENT INFORMATION

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 40 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004, 2008, 2011, 2012, 2018, 2022), Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009, 2015), Greenville, S.C. (2005, 2017, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026), Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010, 2013, 2014) and Jacksonville, Fla. (2016).

The winner of the tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule.
